

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 198.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, JAN. 30, 1899.

TWO CENTS

TREATY TO HAVE WAY.

Likely to Consume Most of Senate's Time This Week.

FRIENDS CLAIMED CONFIDENCE.

Some of Them Announced They Would Accept No Compromise—Others Expressed a Willingness to Accept Some Such Resolution as That of Sullivan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and, as a consequence, the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the memorable debate, both in executive session and in open senate, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from today. Senator Berry is expected to speak Tuesday; Senator Spooner, Wednesday; Senator Rawlins, Thursday; Senator Money, Friday, and Senator Chilton Saturday. These speeches will be based upon the various resolutions on the general question of expansion and will be delivered in open session.

They will, however, be practically devoted to the treaty and will afford senators an opportunity to say openly what they would say in secret session if the resolutions were not under consideration. There will likely be an effort to get the speeches in before 2 o'clock each day, in order to permit the closing of the doors at 2 o'clock in accordance with the unanimous agreement to that effect, when the treaty will be taken up formally and the executive consideration of the subject proceeded with.

Senator Bacon and Senator Mason both announced their intention of continuing their efforts to get action upon their respective resolutions before the vote is taken upon the resolution to ratify the treaty, and hope to succeed some time during the week.

The friends of the treaty are still most sanguine of success, and most of them announce that they will accept no compromise. Others express a willingness to accept some such resolution as that of Senator Sullivan.

Those professing to know say it is the policy to force the treaty to a vote before taking action on any compromise proposition, and that if the treaty should by any chance be beaten, to move to reconsider and then to consider the question of accepting some compromise like the Bacon resolution before final adjournment in March.

Almost a month of the session will be left after the vote of Monday week, so that if the senate should prefer to accept the treaty with a resolution of construction and instruction, to postponing action for an extra session, it could do so.

HULL CLAIMED CONFIDENCE.

Said He Thought Some Democrats Would Help Army Bill Through.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Interest centers in the army bill in the house of representatives during the early part of the week. The final vote is scheduled to be taken at 3 p. m. tomorrow. Prior to this the debate will be under the five-minute rule in the main, although sufficient time has been reserved to give Mr. Bailey and some of the other leaders an opportunity for extended speeches.

Chairman Hull of the military committee is confident the bill will pass, saying that the Republican disaffection will not exceed eight, while several affirmative votes will come from the Democratic side. The opposition will direct its efforts to having the bill re-committed.

ALLEGED BRIBERY.

Suit to Garnish Funds Said to Have Been Given Campbell in the Senatorial Contest.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Judge Dempsey had before him again the motion to compel Colonel T. C. Campbell to pay into court the money which it was alleged was given to him to pay last January to Legislator Otis by H. H. Boyce, who was supposed to be acting for Senator Hanna when the latter was a candidate. A suit was filed here, and the attempt was made to garnish the money alleged to be in the possession of Campbell.

He appeared in court and said that the money was in New York, where it was tied up by an order of court in suits filed there against Boyce, and that it could not be brought here without incurring the penalty of the court there. It was also asserted by counsel for Campbell that the money was not property of Boyce, but of Senator Hanna. This was denied and it was asserted that they could not show that the money ever belonged to the senator. Judge Dempsey took the matter under advisement.

John C. Otis is the Republican member of the legislature from Cincinnati, who claimed a year ago to have been offered $1,700 for his vote for senator. Campbell is his attorney and it was claimed that H. H. Boyce paid the money to Campbell. There are some who deny the whole story, claiming that the money was never turned over to any one or offered to Otis and suit is brought both to test the claim that was thought to have been made for effect on the senatorial contest and also for the benefit of Boyce's creditors.

The matter was investigated by the legislature a year ago by a committee of which Vernon H. Burke of Cleveland was chairman.

LOCKJAW FROM VACCINATION.

Horrible Death of a Boy From the Disease, in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—An investigation was being made of the causes of the death of William Nagengast, aged 11, which occurred on Friday. The lad was vaccinated at a free dispensary on Jan. 4. On Thursday he called to see the physician. His arm was terribly swollen. That night he was attacked with symptoms of tetanus or lockjaw, and died the next morning in terrible agony.

Three physicians attended him at the last, but could do nothing for him. The doctor who vaccinated him said he used pure lymph and applied antiseptic treatment, but when the boy came to see him on Thursday his arm was very shiny.

NINTH OHIO STARTED HOME.

South Carolina People Pleased With Record of Major Young.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 30.—The Ninth Ohio battalion (colored), Major Young, commanding, was mustered out at Summerville, S. C., and left there for Ohio. It was understood the battalion would proceed direct to Springfield and upon its arrival will be met by special reception committee, including the governor, state officers and prominent citizens, who will tender them a banquet.

A few of the colored volunteers remained here with the idea of settling in South Carolina. The people of South Carolina are much pleased with the record of Major Young, whose battalion, with a very few exceptions, has behaved in a most exemplary manner during their stay at Camp Marion.

Six Prisoners Escaped.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—Six prisoners escaped from the county jail. They were James Sullivan, charged with highway robbery; W. H. Cummings, Ralph Carnahan, Charles Reed, Frank Saitor and James Campbell, charged with burglary and larceny. Campbell was a "trusty" and Saturday night pretended to lock the cell doors into the corridor. Instead he turned the keys with the bolts outside the grooves. The bars of a rear window were sawed and the prisoners escaped.

A Witness For Mrs. George.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—It was stated here that the attorneys for Mrs. George had found a witness who will testify to standing on a bridge near where Saxton was shot shortly before the tragedy and to seeing Saxton ride past on a bicycle, to hearing three or four shots fired, and to walking toward the city in a direction opposite to that of the shooting and some blocks away meeting Mrs. George in less time than she could have reached the spot from the scene of the tragedy.

May Cut Terms Short.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—Ex-Congressman M. A. Foan and Attorney W. J. Hart were expected to begin in the Ohio supreme court a lawsuit which may shorten the terms of all county commissioners, county auditors, county recorders and county clerks. The test is on the case whereby Commissioner-elect McKenney seeks to oust Commissioner T. D. Brown in Cuyahoga county.

A Victim of Football.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 30.—Charles Ort, son of President Ort of Wittenberg college, died of spinal meningitis, resulting from injuries received in the last Thanksgiving football game.

Probably Killed as He Slept.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—The body found near Fort St. Philip was identified as that of Captain Sturtevant, pilot of the launch Paul Jones. From the position and clothing of the body it is almost certain that he was off duty and asleep at the time death came and that the boat was wrecked by an explosion during the night.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Big Convention to Promote It In Atlanta In April.

ABOUT 2,000 DELEGATES EXPECTED

Pursuit of Work In New Possessions and Cuba to Come Up For Consideration. Whites and Negroes Interested In Entertainment Preparations.

ATLANTA, Jan. 30.—The ninth triennial international Sunday school convention is to be held here April 27, 28 and 29, and about 2,000 delegates from all parts of the United States, several South American countries, Canada, Mexico, England and possibly India will be here. Several days before the convention the international lesson committee, of which Rev. John Potts, D. D., of Toronto, Ont., is chairman, will meet in Atlanta, to map out the Sunday school lessons for the next six years.

The Baptist, Methodist and other denominational Sunday school boards have already begun the establishment of Sunday schools in Porto Rico, Cuba and Hawaii. The international organization will take up this matter and the new territory will undoubtedly be taken in the international field. If the Philippines are permanently acquired, the work will be carried there.

A number of important changes in Sunday school work will be discussed. The work among the colored population of the south will be given special attention. Mexico has recently been taken into the field and the work there must also be considered. The convention does not draw the line at color or race. There will be a number of negro delegates and in view of this fact, two or three of Atlanta's leading colored citizens have been placed on the local arrangements committee.

The entertainment committee, headed by H. H. Cabaniss, includes among its members Hon. Hoke Smith and ex-Governor Northen. Rev. E. R. Carter, pastor of a colored church, with 8,000 members, is leading the colored people in the matter.

IRELAND'S VISIT.

He Called at the Vatican and Had a Conference With Cardinal Rampolla.

ROME, Jan. 30.—Archbishop Ireland went to the Vatican Sunday, where he had a conference with Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state. Many cardinals and other high ecclesiastics visited the archbishop at the Hotel Bristol, where he is staying.

In the course of an interview he declared that there was absolutely no foundation for the statement that he had been charged to represent the United States at the forthcoming conference regarding the limitation of armaments. The United States, he said, had not yet nominated a delegate. The archbishop was very reserved in his replies to questions respecting religious problems in America, on the ground that it was necessary for him to wait for the holy see to pass upon such matters.

MASS FOR SOLDIERS.

Sixty-Ninth New York Attended Services at Cleveland—Reference to Patriotism of Catholics.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—The Sixty-ninth regiment of New York city arrived in Cleveland Sunday morning from Huntsville, Ala., on its way to New York. The members of the regiment attended services in the Catholic cathedral in this city and a special mass was said for the soldiers at one of the side altars by the regimental chaplain, the Rev. Father Daly, one of the assistants in St. Patrick's cathedral, New York. The regiment left for the east over the Lake Shore later.

Rev. George Fahey, pastor of the Cleveland cathedral, said their presence in the house of God was an act of the sincerest patriotism. It showed also, he said, that the Catholic citizen is always loyal to his country in time of its need, alleged patriotic organizations to the contrary notwithstanding.

May Unite Two Colleges.

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 30.—A movement was on foot among prominent Methodists of this state to close up Scio college and turn the business of the institution over to Mt. Union of this city. Owing to the oil boom at Scio, rooms and boarding reached extravagant figures and most of the students left. Fire insurance companies refused to take risks on the college property because of the proximity of the oil wells. A meeting of the governing boards of both colleges will probably be held soon to take action.

Methodist Episcopal Church Burned.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 30.—The Springfield Methodist Episcopal church is a smoldering mass of ruins, the result of a disastrous fire Saturday afternoon. The ruined edifice was a model structure, and was erected in 1881, at the cost of $10,000. It was handsomely furnished throughout, and was one of the most comfortable places of worship in the county. There was $7,000 insurance on the building.

Fire Followed Sermon on Fire.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 30.—The First Baptist church of this city was destroyed by fire. It was the oldest church of that faith in this vicinity. The pastor, Rev. J. Frank Matthews, several hours before the flames were discovered, preached on the great Chicago fire.

Feb. 12 as Lincoln Sunday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The American Missionary association issued an appeal to the Congregational churches of the United States to observe Feb. 12 as Lincoln Sunday.

Church Partly Burned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—St. Luke's German Evangelical church, Belmont avenue and Perry street, was partly burned. Loss about $20,000.

CUBA'S PATRIOT MARTI.

Tablet Unveiled to His Memory—Sensible Speech Made by a Mulatto to the Crowd.

HAVANA, Jan. 30.—Four thousand persons, men in their best clothing and women gaily dressed, stood amid a pouring rain in Paula square listening to six intensely patriotic eulogies upon Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot and first president of the Cuban revolutionary government. A tablet to his memory was unveiled at the house where he was born, in a street near by, and 82 societies, consisting of 2,500 persons, with banners, flags and five bands, marched through the principal thoroughfares to the square.

Juan Gomez, a mulatto with a considerable reputation as an orator, made the best speech of the day. He counseled firmness, concord and determination as means to gain the coveted independence.

"The power which has intervened between the old regime and the one we are striving for," he said, "is unfamiliar with the ways and habits of our race, and naturally, it will sometimes blunder in its efforts to fulfill its obligations to Cuba. The Cubans must realize this and keep it in mind. They must calmly indicate a mistake when it is made and have faith that the error will be corrected."

The plan of General Gomez to unite the Spaniards in Cuba with the Cubans proper in a party whose platform should be the independence of the island does not altogether thrive in the Spanish mind.

Some Spaniards say "yes, give us the Gomez program of amity." Others are silent. As for the annexationists they are very outspoken in Havana, but more reserved in the interior of the island where they are outnumbered and far from the protection of the American troops.

The Marquis of Pinar del Rio has caused some apprehension among the Spaniards by the assertion that during his recent visit to the United States he became convinced that the American government did not intend to hold Cuba permanently. Spanish bankers and merchants decline to lend money or to give liberal credits, because they fear that the American occupation will be brief.

FUNERAL OF JUSTICE WILLIAMS.

Governor Stone and Many Prominent Persons Attended the Services.

WELLS-BORO, Pa., Jan. 30.—The family and friends of the late Justice Henry W. Williams gathered at the Presbyterian church Sunday, where the funeral services over the remains of the dead jurist were conducted, Rev. A. C. Shaw, D. D., had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. William Heaks of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. N. R. Reynolds of the Baptist church and Revs. Dodge and Hillis.

After the services the remains were conveyed to the family vault in the cemetery. Governor W. A. Stone, Mrs. Stone, Attorney General Elkin, Deputy Attorney General Frederick W. Fleitz of Harrisburg were among those who attended the funeral.

FOUR PROBABLY DROWNED.

Had Started From One of the Bass Group to Canada in a Boat.

TOLEDO, Jan. 30.—The loss of an entire family in Lake Erie was reported here. On one of the islands of the Bass group lived a family named Robson. The family consisted of the father, mother, a daughter of 20, a son of 5 and a hired man, Henry M. Martel. The little boy died and his parents determined to take the body to Canada.

The whole family started in a clinker boat. The battered boat was found and the body of a woman reported found near Port Burrell, on the Canadian shore, is presumed to have been Mrs. Robson. The other bodies have not been found.

For a Buggywhip Combine.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 30.—A combination of all the manufacturers of buggywhips in the United States is being arranged.

General Gobin Discharged.

26 MEN STRUCK.

Stepped From Before a Train In Front of Locomotive.

TWO OF THEM LOST THEIR LIVES.

Four Were Seriously Injured—The Disaster Occurred at the Western Opening of the Gallitzin (Pa.) Tunnel, on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 30.—A gang of 26 track repairmen were working on the railroad at the western opening of the Gallitzin tunnel when they heard the approach of a locomotive which was running west through the tunnel. The workmen all stepped from the north track, on which westbound trains move, to the south track. The smoke in the tunnel prevented them from seeing the approaching locomotive, which in order to avoid obstructions on the north track was running on the south track, and struck them. None escaped without injury. The dead were:

Davis Wilt, aged 40, instantly killed, Thomas W. Sanker, aged 25, died in hospital.

The more seriously injured are: H. C. Hull, gang foreman, ankle broken. George Smith, aged 23, left leg broken. George Guyer, arm and nose broken. Henry Burkin, arm broken. Gallitzin is the home of all of the men.

The locomotive that struck the men was running empty from Altoona to Conemaugh.

FRIENDLY TO AMERICA.

New President of the Visayan Federation So Reported—Commission to See Aguinaldo.

MANILA, Jan. 30.—According to a dispatch received from Iloilo, capital of the island of Panay, at the election held on Jan. 17 Senor Ramon Melliza was chosen president of the so-called Visayan federation for a term of two years, his predecessor, General Copez (Lopez) being appointed commander-in-chief of the forces of the revolutionary government. Senor Melliza was kindly disposed to the Americans and it was hoped that the difficulty between the natives and the United States authorities would be settled amicably.

Six native commissioners, headed by Senor Ramon Avancena, lawyer, arrived from Iloilo by the United States transport St. Paul. They came to consult with Aguinaldo. A number of native soldiers, who had been transported, were landed on Jan. 25, in the island of Panay, about 25 miles north of Iloilo.

BROTHER SHOT BROTHER.

Terrible Accident at a Minstrel Show in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 30.—During the progress of a minstrel show in Friendship church, near Dover, Wilmer Clark was shot and probably fatally wounded by his brother, Howard Clark. The show was given by a party of young colored men and one act called for a shooting scene.

When the time came for the shooting Howard Clark shot at his brother Wilmer, but by some mistake instead of an empty weapon he used a loaded one. The bullet entered Wilmer's breast just over the heart.

Miller's Legitimacy Predicament.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 30.—W. E. Sliger tried to start his flour mill near here, which is operated by a water wheel 21 feet in diameter, when he discovered the wheel was frozen fast. He entered the wheel and while trying to break the ice with a crowbar it suddenly started and Sliger was hurled around many times before the miller discovered his situation and stopped the wheel. Sliger was in a serious condition.

Eagan Found Guilty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—General Charles P. Eagan, commissary general of subsistence, was found guilty of the charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman and of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline and of the specifications thereto, and was sentenced to dismissal from the United States army, but with a recommendation from the court for the exercise of executive clemency.

For Mail Route in Alaska.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—Private advices received here state that the government would send three detachments of soldiers into the Copper river district of Alaska next spring to lay out a mail route to the Yukon river and establish posts.

To Form an Ice Trust.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—An ice trust, to include all of the big ice harvesters in the United States, is, according to The Chronicle, in process of formation.

Ex-United States Senator Slater Dead.

LA GRANDE, Or., Jan. 30.—Ex-United States Senator James R. Slater died here.

Almost a month of the session will be left after the vote of Monday week, so that if the senate should prefer to accept the treaty with a resolution of construction and instruction, to postponing action for an extra session, it could do so.

HULL CLAIMED CONFIDENCE.

Said He Thought Some Democrats Would Help Army Bill Through.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Interest centers in the army bill in the house of representatives during the early part of the week. The final vote is scheduled to be taken at 3 p. m. tomorrow. Prior to this the debate will be under the five-minute rule in the main, although sufficient time has been reserved to give Mr. Bailey and some of the other leaders an opportunity for extended speeches.

ALLEGED BRIBERY.

Suit to Garnish Funds Said to Have Been Given Campbell in the Senatorial Contest.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Judge Dempsey had before him again the motion to compel Colonel T. C. Campbell to pay into court the money which it was alleged was given to him to pay last January to Legislator Otis by H. H. Boyce, who was supposed to be acting for Senator Hanna when the latter was a candidate. A suit was filed here, and the attempt was made to garnish the money alleged to be in the possession of Campbell.

He appeared in court and said that the money was in New York, where it was tied up by an order of court in suits filed there against Boyce, and that it could not be brought here without incurring the penalty of the court there. It was also asserted by counsel for Campbell that the money was not property of Boyce, but of Senator Hanna. This was denied and it was asserted that they could not show that the money ever belonged to the senator. Judge Dempsey took the matter under advisement.

John C. Otis is the Republican member of the legislature from Cincinnati, who claimed a year ago to have been offered $1,700 for his vote for senator. Campbell is his attorney and it was claimed that H. H. Boyce paid the money to Campbell. There are some who deny the whole story, claiming that the money was never turned over to any one or offered to Otis and suit is brought both to test the claim that was thought to have been made for effect on the senatorial contest and also for the benefit of Boyce's creditors.

The matter was investigated by the legislature a year ago by a committee of which Vernon H. Burke of Cleveland was chairman.

LOCKJAW FROM VACCINATION.

Horrible Death of a Boy From the Disease, in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—An investigation was being made of the causes of the death of William Nagengast, aged 11, which occurred on Friday. The lad was vaccinated at a free dispensary on Jan. 4. A Witness For Mrs. George.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—It was stated here that the attorneys for Mrs. George had found a witness who will testify to standing on a bridge near where Saxton was shot shortly before the tragedy and to seeing Saxton ride past on a bicycle, and to hearing three or four shots fired, and to walking toward the city in a direction opposite to that of the shooting and some blocks away meeting Mrs. George in less time than she could have reached the spot from the scene of the tragedy.

May Cut Terms Short.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—Ex-Congressman M. A. Foan and Attorney W. J. The test is on the case whereby Commissioner-elect McKenney seeks to oust Commissioner T. D. Brown in Cuyahoga county.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Big Convention to Promote It in Atlanta in April.

ABOUT 2,000 DELEGATES EXPECTED

Pursuit of Work in New Possessions and Cuba to Come Up For Consideration. Whites and Negroes Interested in Entertainment Preparations.

ATLANTA, Jan. 30.—The ninth triennial international Sunday school convention is to be held here April 27, 28 and 29, and about 2,000 delegates from all parts of the United States, several South American countries, Canada, Mexico, England and possibly India will be here. Several days before the convention the international lesson committee, of which Rev. John Potts, D. D., of Toronto, Ont., is chairman, will meet in Atlanta, to map out the Sunday school lessons for the next six years.

The Baptist, Methodist and other denominational Sunday school boards have already begun the establishment of Sunday schools in Porto Rico, Cuba and Hawaii. The entertainment committee, headed by H. H. Cabaniss, includes among its members Hon. Hoke Smith and ex-Governor Northern. Rev. E. R. Carter, pastor of a colored church, with 8,000 members, is leading the colored people in the matter.

IRELAND'S VISIT.

He Called at the Vatican and Had a Conference With Cardinal Rampolla.

ROME, Jan. 30.—Archbishop Ireland went to the Vatican Sunday, where he had a conference with Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state. Many cardinals and other high ecclesiastics visited the archbishop at the Hotel Bristol, where he is staying.

MASS FOR SOLDIERS.

Sixty-Ninth New York Attended Services at Cleveland—Reference to Patriotism of Catholics.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—The Sixty-ninth regiment of New York city arrived in Cleveland Sunday morning from Huntsville, Ala., on its way to New York. The members of the regiment attended services in the Catholic cathedral in this city and a special mass was said for the soldiers at one of the side altars by the regimental chaplain, the Rev. Owing to the oil boom at Scioto, rooms and boarding reached extravagant figures and most of the students left. Fire insurance companies refused to take risks on the college property because of the proximity of the oil wells. HAVANA, Jan. 30.—Four thousand persons, men in their best clothing and women gaily dressed, stood amid a pouring rain in Paula square listening to six intensely patriotic eulogies upon Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot and first president of the Cuban revolutionary government. A tablet to his memory was unveiled at the house where he was born, in a street near by, and 82 societies, consisting of 2,500 persons, with banners, flags and five bands, marched through the principal thoroughfares to the square.

Juan Gomez, a mulatto with a considerable reputation as an orator, made the best speech of the day. He counseled firmness, concord and determination as means to gain the coveted independence.

"The power which has intervened between the old regime and the one we are striving for," he said, "is unfamiliar with the ways and habits of our race, and naturally, it will sometimes blunder in its efforts to fulfill its obligations to Cuba. The Cubans must realize this and keep it in mind. They must calmly indicate a mistake when it is made and have faith that the error will be corrected."

The plan of General Gomez to unite the Spaniards in Cuba with the Cubans proper in a party whose platform should be the independence of the island does not altogether thrive in the Spanish mind.

Some Spaniards say "yes, give us the Gomez program of amity." Others are silent. As for the annexationists they are very outspoken in Havana, but more reserved in the interior of the island where they are outnumbered and far from the protection of the American troops.

The Marquis of Pinar del Rio has caused some apprehension among the Spaniards by the assertion that during his recent visit to the United States he became convinced that the American government did not intend to hold Cuba permanently. Spanish bankers and merchants decline to lend money or to give liberal credits, because they fear that the American occupation will be brief.

FUNERAL OF JUSTICE WILLIAMS.

Governor Stone and Many Prominent Persons Attended the Services.

WELLSBORO, Pa., Jan. 30.—The family and friends of the late Justice Henry W. Williams gathered at the Presbyterian church Sunday, where the funeral services over the remains of the dead jurist were conducted, Rev. A. C. Shaw, D. D., had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. William Heaks of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. N. R. Reynolds of the Baptist church and Revs. Dodge and Hills.

After the services the remains were conveyed to the family vault in the cemetery. Governor W. A. Stone, Mrs. Stone, Attorney General Eakin, Deputy Attorney General Frederick W. Fleitz of Harrisburg were among those who attended the funeral.

FOUR PROBABLY DROWNED.

Had Started From One of the Bass Group to Canada in a Boat.

TOLEDO, Jan. 30.—The loss of an entire family in Lake Erie was reported here. On one of the islands of the Bass group lived a family named Robson. The family consisted of the father, mother, a daughter of 20, a son of 5 and a hired man, Henry M. Martel. The little boy died and his parents determined to take the body to Canada. The whole family started in a clinker boat. The battered boat was found and the body of a woman reported found near Port Burwell, on the Canadian shore, is presumed to have been Mrs. Robson. The other bodies have not been found.

For a Buggywhip Combine.

WABASH, Ind., Jan. 30.—A combination of all the manufacturers of buggywhips in the United States is being arranged.

General Gobin Discharged.

26 MEN STRUCK.

Stepped From Before a Train In Front of Locomotive.

TWO OF THEM LOST THEIR LIVES.

Four Were Seriously Injured—The Disaster Occurred at the Western Opening of the Gallitzin (Pa.) Tunnel, on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 30.—A gang of 26 track repairmen were working on the railroad at the western opening of the Gallitzin tunnel when they heard the approach of a locomotive which was running west through the tunnel. The workmen all stepped from the north track, on which westbound trains move, to the south track. The smoke in the tunnel prevented them from seeing the approaching locomotive, which in order to avoid obstructions on the north track was running on the south track, and struck them. None escaped without injury. The dead were:

Davis Wilt, aged 40, instantly killed. Thomas W. Sanker, aged 35, died in hospital.

George Guyer, arm and nose broken. Henry Burkin, arm broken.

Gallitzin is the home of all of the men.

The locomotive that struck the men was running empty from Altoona to Conemaugh.

FRIENDLY TO AMERICA.

New President of the Visayan Federation So Reported—Commission to See Aguinaldo.

MANILA, Jan. 30.—According to a dispatch received from Iloilo, capital of the island of Panay, at the election held on Jan. 17 Senor Ramon Meliza was chosen president of the so-called Visayan federation for a term of two years, his predecessor, General Copeze (Lopez) being appointed commander-in-chief of the forces of the revolutionary government. Senor Meliza was kindly disposed to the Americans and it was hoped that the difficulty between the natives and the United States authorities would be settled amicably.

Six native commissioners, headed by Senor Ramon Avancena, lawyer, arrived from Iloilo by the United States transport St. Paul. They came to consult with Aguinaldo. A number of native soldiers, who had been transported, were landed on Jan. 25, in the island of Panay, about 25 miles north of Iloilo.

BROTHER SHOT BROTHER.

Terrible Accident at a Minstrel Show in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 30.—During the progress of a minstrel show in Friendship church, near Dover, Wilmer Clark was shot and probably fatally wounded by his brother, Howard Clark.

The show was given by a party of young colored men and one act called for a shooting scene.

When the time came for the shooting Howard Clark shot at his brother Wilmer, but by some mistake instead of an empty weapon he used a loaded one. The bullet entered Wilmer's breast just over the heart.

Miller's Fighting Predecessor.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 30.—W. E. Sliger tried to start his flour mill near here, which is operated by a water wheel 21 feet in diameter, when he discovered the wheel was frozen fast. He entered the wheel and while trying to break the ice with a crowbar it suddenly started and Sliger was hurled around many times before the miller discovered his situation and stopped the wheel. Sliger was in a serious condition.

Eagan Found Guilty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—General Charles P. Eagan, commissary general of subsistence, was found guilty of the charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman and of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline and of the specifications thereto, and was sentenced to dismissal from the United States army, but with a recommendation from the court for the exercise of executive clemency.

For Mail Route in Alaska.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—Private advices received here state that the government would send three detachments of soldiers into the Copper river district of Alaska next spring to lay out a mail route to the Yukon river and establish posts.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 198.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, JAN. 30, 1899.

TREATY TO HAVE WAY.

Likely to Consume Most of Senate's Time This Week.

FRIENDS CLAIMED CONFIDENCE.

Some of Them Announced They Would Accept No Compromise Others Expressed a Willingness to Accept Some Such Resolution as That of Sullivan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and, as a consequence, the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the memorable debate, both in executive session and in open senate, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from today. Senator Berry is expected to speak Tuesday; Senator Spooner, Wednesday; Senator Rawlins, Thursday; Senator Money, Friday, and Senator Chilton Saturday. These speeches will be based upon the various resolutions on the general question of expansion and will be delivered in open session.

They will, however, be practically devoted to the treaty and will afford senators an opportunity to say openly what they would say in secret session if the resolutions were not under consideration. There will likely be an effort to get the speeches in before 2 o'clock each day, in order to permit the closing of the doors at 2 o'clock in accordance with the unanimous agreement to that effect, when the treaty will be taken up formally and the executive consideration of the subject proceeded with.

Senator Bacon and Senator Mason both announced their intention of continuing their efforts to get action upon their respective resolutions before the vote is taken upon the resolution to ratify the treaty, and hope to succeed some time during the week.

The friends of the treaty are still most sanguine of success, and most of them announce that they will accept no compromise. Others express a willingness to accept some such resolution as that of Senator Sullivan.

Those professing to know say it is the policy to force the treaty to a vote before taking action on any compromise proposition, and that if the treaty should by any chance be beaten, to move to reconsider and then to consider the question of accepting some compromise like the Bacon resolution before final adjournment in March.

Almost a month of the session will be left after the vote of Monday week, so that if the senate should prefer to accept the treaty with a resolution of construction and instruction, to postponing action for an extra session, it could do so.

HULL CLAIMED CONFIDENCE.

Said He Thought Some Democrats Would Help Army Bill Through.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Interest centers in the army bill in the house of representatives during the early part of the week. The final vote is scheduled to be taken at 3 p. m. tomorrow. Prior to this the debate will be under the five-minute rule in the main, although sufficient time has been reserved to give Mr. Bailey and some of the other leaders an opportunity for extended speeches.

Chairman Hull of the military committee is confident the bill will pass, saying that the Republican disaffection will not exceed eight, while several affirmative votes will come from the Democratic side. The opposition will direct its efforts to having the bill re-committed.

ALLEGED BRIBERY.

Suit to Garnish Funds Said to Have Been Given Campbell in the Senatorial Contest.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Judge Dempsey had before him again the motion to compel Colonel T. C. Campbell to pay into court the money which it was alleged was given to him to pay last January to Legislator Otis by H. H. Boyce, who was supposed to be acting for Senator Hanna when the latter was a candidate. A suit was filed here, and the attempt was made to garnish the money alleged to be in the possession of Campbell.

He appeared in court and said that the money was in New York, where it was tied up by an order of court in suits filed there against Boyce, and that it could not be brought here without incurring the penalty of the court there. It was also asserted by counsel for Campbell that the money was not property of Boyce, but of Senator Hanna. This was denied and it was asserted that they could not show that the money ever belonged to the senator. Judge Dempsey took the matter under advisement.

John C. Otis is the Republican member of the legislature from Cincinnati, who claimed a year ago to have been offered $1,700 for his vote for senator. Campbell is his attorney and it was claimed that H. H. Boyce paid the money to Campbell. There are some who deny the whole story, claiming that the money was never turned over to any one or offered to Otis and suit is brought both to test the claim that was thought to have been made for effect on the senatorial contest and also for the benefit of Boyce's creditors.

The matter was investigated by the legislature a year ago by a committee of which Vernon H. Burke of Cleveland was chairman.

LOCKJAW FROM VACCINATION.

Horrible Death of a Boy From the Disease, in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—An investigation was being made of the causes of the death of William Nagengast, aged 11, which occurred on Friday. The lad was vaccinated at a free dispensary on Jan. 1. On Thursday he called to see the physician. His arm was terribly swollen. That night he was attacked with symptoms of tetanus or lockjaw, and died the next morning in terrible agony.

Three physicians attended him at the last, but could do nothing for him. The doctor who vaccinated him said he used pure lymph and applied antiseptic treatment, but when the boy came to see him on Thursday his arm was very inflamed.

NINTH OHIO STARTED HOME.

South Carolina People Pleased With Record of Major Young.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 30.—The Ninth Ohio battalion (colored), Major Young, commanding, was mustered out at Summerville, S. C., and left there for Ohio. It was understood the battalion would proceed direct to Springfield and upon its arrival will be met by special reception committee, including the governor, state officers and prominent citizens, who will tender them a banquet.

A few of the colored volunteers remained here with the idea of settling in South Carolina. The people of South Carolina are much pleased with the record of Major Young, whose battalion, with a very few exceptions, has behaved in a most exemplary manner during their stay at Camp Marion.

Six Prisoners Escaped.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—Six prisoners escaped from the county jail. They were James Sullivan, charged with highway robbery; W. H. Cummings, Ralph Carnahan, Charles Reed, Frank Saitor and James Campbell, charged with burglary and larceny. Campbell was a "trusty" and Saturday night pretended to lock the cell doors into the corridor. Instead he turned the keys with the bolts outside the grooves. The bars of a rear window were sawed and the prisoners escaped.

A Witness For Mrs. George.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—It was stated here that the attorneys for Mrs. George had found a witness who will testify to standing on a bridge near where Saxton was shot shortly before the tragedy and to seeing Saxton ride past on a bicycle, to hearing three or four shots fired, and to walking toward the city in a direction opposite to that of the shooting and some blocks away meeting Mrs. George in less time than she could have reached the spot from the scene of the tragedy.

May Cut Terms Short.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—Ex-Congressman M. A. Foan and Attorney W. J. Hart were expected to begin in the Ohio supreme court a lawsuit which may shorten the terms of all county commissioners, county auditors, county recorders and county clerks. The test is on the case whereby Commissioner-elect McKenney seeks to oust Commissioner T. D. Brown in Cuyahoga county.

A Victim of Football.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 30.—Charles Ort, son of President Ort of Wittenberg college, died of spinal meningitis, resulting from injuries received in the last Thanksgiving football game.

Probably Killed as He Slept.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—The body found near Fort St. Philip was identified as that of Captain Sturtevant, pilot of the launch Paul Jones. From the position and clothing of the body it is almost certain that he was off duty and asleep at the time death came and that the boat was wrecked by an explosion during the night.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Big Convention to Promote It in Atlanta in April.

ABOUT 2,000 DELEGATES EXPECTED

Pursuit of Work in New Possessions and Cuba to Come Up For Consideration. Whites and Negroes Interested in Entertainment Preparations.

ATLANTA, Jan. 30.—The ninth triennial international Sunday school convention is to be held here April 27, 28 and 29, and about 2,000 delegates from all parts of the United States, several South American countries, Canada, Mexico, England and possibly India will be here. Several days before the convention the international lesson committee, of which Rev. John Potts, D. D., of Toronto, Ont., is chairman, will meet in Atlanta, to map out the Sunday school lessons for the next six years.

The Baptist, Methodist and other denominational Sunday school boards have already begun the establishment of Sunday schools in Porto Rico, Cuba and Hawaii. The international organization will take up this matter and the new territory will undoubtedly be taken in the international field. If the Philippines are permanently acquired, the work will be carried there.

A number of important changes in Sunday school work will be discussed. The work among the colored population of the south will be given special attention. Mexico has recently been taken into the field and the work there must also be considered. The convention does not draw the line at color or race. There will be a number of negro delegates and in view of this fact, two or three of Atlanta's leading colored citizens have been placed on the local arrangements committee.

The entertainment committee, headed by H. H. Cabaniss, includes among its members Hon. Hoke Smith and ex-Governor Northen. Rev. E. R. Carter, pastor of a colored church, with 8,000 members, is leading the colored people in the matter.

IRELAND'S VISIT.

He Called at the Vatican and Had a Conference With Cardinal Rampolla.

ROME, Jan. 30.—Archbishop Ireland went to the Vatican Sunday, where he had a conference with Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state. Many cardinals and other high ecclesiastics visited the archbishop at the Hotel Bristol, where he is staying.

In the course of an interview he declared that there was absolutely no foundation for the statement that he had been charged to represent the United States at the forthcoming conference regarding the limitation of armaments. The United States, he said, had not yet nominated a delegate.

The archbishop was very reserved in his replies to questions respecting religious problems in America, on the ground that it was necessary for him to wait for the holy see to pass upon such matters.

MASS FOR SOLDIERS.

Sixty-Ninth New York Attended Services at Cleveland—Reference to Patriotism of Catholics.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—The Sixty-ninth regiment of New York city arrived in Cleveland Sunday morning from Huntsville, Ala., on its way to New York. The members of the regiment attended services in the Catholic cathedral in this city and a special mass was said for the soldiers at one of the side altars by the regimental chaplain, the Rev. Father Daly, one of the assistants in St. Patrick's cathedral, New York. The regiment left for the east over the Lake Shore later.

Rev. George Fahey, pastor of the Cleveland cathedral, said their presence in the house of God was an act of the sincerest patriotism. It showed, he said, that the Catholic citizen is always loyal to his country in time of its need, alleged patriotic organizations to the contrary notwithstanding.

May Unite Two Colleges.

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 30.—A movement was on foot among prominent Methodists of this state to close up Scio college and turn the business of the institution over to Mt. Union of this city. Owing to the oil boom at Scio, rooms and boarding reached extravagant figures and most of the students left. Fire insurance companies refused to take risks on the college property because of the proximity of the oil wells. A meeting of the governing boards of both colleges will probably be held soon to take action.

Methodist Episcopal Church Burned.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 30.—The Springfield Methodist Episcopal church is a smoldering mass of ruins, the result of a disastrous fire Saturday afternoon. The ruined edifice was a model structure, and was erected in 1881, at the cost of $10,000. It was handsomely furnished throughout, and was one of the most comfortable places of worship in the county. There was $7,000 insurance on the building.

Fire Followed Sermon on Fire.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 30.—The First Baptist church of this city was destroyed by fire. It was the oldest church of that faith in this vicinity. The pastor, Rev. J. Frank Matthews, several hours before the flames were discovered, preached on the great Chicago fire.

Feb. 12 as Lincoln Sunday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The American Missionary association issued an appeal to the Congregational churches of the United States to observe Feb. 12 as Lincoln Sunday.

Church Partly Burned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—St. Luke's German Evangelical church, Belmont avenue and Perry street, was partly burned. Loss about $20,000.

CUBA'S PATRIOT MARTI.

Tablet Unveiled to His Memory—Sensible Speech Made by a Mulatto to the Crowd.

HAVANA, Jan. 30.—Four thousand persons, men in their best clothing and women gaily dressed, stood amid a pouring rain in Paula square listening to six intensely patriotic eulogies upon Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot and first president of the Cuban revolutionary government. The plan of General Gomez to unite the Spaniards in Cuba with the Cubans proper in a party whose platform should be the independence of the island does not altogether thrive in the Spanish mind.

Some Spaniards say "yes, give us the Gomez program of amity." Others are silent. As for the annexationists they are very outspoken in Havana, but more reserved in the interior of the island where they are outnumbered and far from the protection of the American troops.

The Marquis of Pinar del Rio has caused some apprehension among the Spaniards by the assertion that during his recent visit to the United States he became convinced that the American government did not intend to hold Cuba permanently. Spanish bankers and merchants decline to lend money or to give liberal credits, because they fear that the American occupation will be brief.

FUNERAL OF JUSTICE WILLIAMS.

Governor Stone and Many Prominent Persons Attended the Services.

WELLSBORO, Pa., Jan. 30.—The family and friends of the late Justice Henry W. Williams gathered at the Presbyterian church Sunday, where the funeral services over the remains of the dead jurist were conducted, Rev. A. C. Shaw, D. D., had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. William Heaks of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. N. R. Reynolds of the Baptist church and Revs. Dodge and Hills.

After the services the remains were conveyed to the family vault in the cemetery. Governor W. A. Stone, Mrs. Stone, Attorney General Eakin, Deputy Attorney General Frederick W. Fleitz of Harrisburg were among those who attended the funeral.

FOUR PROBABLY DROWNED.

Had Started From One of the Bass Group to Canada in a Boat.

TOLEDO, Jan. 30.—The loss of an entire family in Lake Erie was reported here. On one of the islands of the Bass group lived a family named Robson. The family consisted of the father, mother, a daughter of 20, a son of 5 and a hired man, Henry M. Marvel. The little boy died and his parents determined to take the body to Canada. The more seriously injured are: H. C. Hull, gang foreman, ankle broken.

George Guyer, arm and nose broken. Henry Burkin, arm broken.

Gallitzin is the home of all of the men.

The locomotive that struck the men was running empty from Altoona to Conemaugh.

FRIENDLY TO AMERICA.

New President of the Visayan Federation So Reported—Commission to See Aguinaldo.

MANILA, Jan. 30.—According to a dispatch received from Iloilo, capital of the island of Panay, at the election held on Jan. 17 Senor Ramon Meliza was chosen president of the so-called Visayan federation for a term of two years, his predecessor, General Copeze (Lopez) being appointed commander-in-chief of the forces of the revolutionary government. BROTHER SHOT BROTHER.

Terrible Accident at a Minstrel Show in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 30.—During the progress of a minstrel show in Friendship church, near Dover, Wilmer Clark was shot and probably fatally wounded by his brother, Howard Clark. The show was given by a party of young colored men and one act called for a shooting scene.

When the time came for the shooting Howard Clark shot at his brother Wilmer, but by some mistake instead of an empty weapon he used a loaded one. The bullet entered Wilmer's breast just over the heart.

Miller's frightful Predicament.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 30.—W. E. Sliger tried to start his flour mill near here, which is operated by a water wheel 21 feet in diameter, when he discovered the wheel was frozen fast. He entered the wheel and while trying to break the ice with a crowbar it suddenly started and Sliger was hurled around many times before the miller discovered his situation and stopped the wheel. Sliger was in a serious condition.

Eagan Found Guilty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—General Charles P. NOW BRAVE TROOPERS

Liverpool Boys Enlisted In the Second Cavalry.

THEY WERE ALL SENT SOUTH

Private Mark Thornberry Discharged From the Service at Fort Ethan Allen and Is Now at Home—Private Beech Has the Tonsillitis and Is in the Hospital.

Three more members of Company E who served during the Santiago campaign are now privates of the regular army.

Privates Morris Carnahan, Dennis McCarran and William Shepherd last Tuesday evening went to Pittsburg and on Wednesday morning enlisted in the Second U. S. cavalry, and before evening were on board a train with other recruits enroute to join their command at Huntsville, Alabama. They like army life and will probably end their days in service.

Private Marcus L. Thornberry, who served during the recent unpleasantness with Troop K, Third United States cavalry, arrived home this morning, having received an honorable discharge from the service for physical disability. He spent a furlough in the city last fall and rejoined his command at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont. He was on duty for about a month when he was taken ill and spent 94 days in the hospital, and when he was discharged his hip was giving him a great deal of trouble. On last Friday he was given his discharge with transportation home. When asked how he liked army life he said he was as glad to get out of the service as he was to get in.

Private William Beech, who is also a member of Troop K, was in the hospital with an attack of tonsillitis when Thornberry left for home, but aside from this Beech was in the best of health and enjoying himself.

Private F. R. Stutler, of the Second West Virginia regiment, is in the city visiting friends.

Private Fred Martin, of Company E, is endeavoring to secure a position on the police force of Havana. He has enlisted several army officers in his behalf and much influence will be brought to bear to have him secure the appointment. Should he fail to secure the appointment it is probable he will enlist in the regular army.

Several other members of Company E are contemplating entering the service and it is probable before another month the city will be well represented in the army.

WERE WELL FED.

The Free Lunch and Gospel Meeting a Success.

The free lunch and gospel meeting at Young Men's Christian Association Saturday night was largely attended, over 800 men being present. The lunch was composed of 1000 sandwiches, 10 gallons of coffee and six gallons of milk. Evangelist Nash had charge of the meeting, which was one of the most novel ever held in the city.

Before the meeting Mr. Nash and a number of young men went to the Diamond where the meeting was advertised by the singing of gospel songs.

MRS. MARY COBURN,

Wife of the Late Doctor Coburn, Is Dead.

Mrs. Mary Coburn, wife of the late Dr. John Coburn, died yesterday morning at her home above East End, aged 76 years and four months.

Deceased had been a resident of the city for 45 years and was very well and favorably known to many of the older residents. Four children are left to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock from her late home. Interment will be made at Long's Run cemetery at 2 o'clock.

STATE SECRETARY KLING

Will Meet the Y. M. C. A. Directors This Evening.

State Secretary W. A. Kling, of the Young Men's Christian association, will arrive in the city this evening at 8 o'clock and will hold a conference with the directors of the local association in regard to the coming state conference of business men. An effort will be made to have at least three of the directors attend the conference. The secretary will be unable to meet the Ladies' auxiliary at this time, as he is compelled to leave the city on the midnight train.

—Edward Lewis, of this place, spent yesterday in Wheeling visiting friends.

FOUR MILES OF TRACK A DAY

Rapid Progress Expected on the Transsiberian Railroad This Year.

The latest news of the Transsiberian railroad is that the government is already laying the rails along the south-west shore of Lake Baikal, says the New York Sun. An immense ferryboat, large enough to transport an entire train to the opposite shore, which is also to have a powerful appliance for breaking the ice, is now building. Next spring the grading of the very difficult part of the line around the southern end of the lake will begin, and when this part is completed ferriage across the lake will be abandoned. It is expected to build the trans-Baikal section this season with remarkable rapidity. For a long distance toward the Pacific it is intended to lay the rails at the rate of four miles a day. While passengers and freight are now being carried from Europe to Irkutsk, it cannot be said that the road is entirely completed that far, for there are as yet no bridges over the Oka and Yenisei rivers, across which trains are transported on ferryboats.

A train de luxe runs once a week from Moscow as far east as Tomsk. Beyond that point a passenger train runs daily farther east to Krasnoyarsk and three times a week as far as Irkutsk. Only second class cars are run between Krasnoyarsk and Irkutsk. The cost of a second class ticket from Moscow to Lake Baikal is about $40, and the journey lasts 12 days. All the coaches have sleeping bunks.

The Russians are now building the road without any foreign employees, except that a number of Italian stonecutters are at work. Every seven miles a side track is built, so that if necessary the entire main route may be cleared for military trains. It is a remarkable fact that the freight and passenger movement already exceeds the transportation facilities. Thus far, however, the line has been employed chiefly in carrying beyond the Baikal to Manchuria the numerous emigrants who are sent there by the government. Two hundred thousand families were established there last year, and more than 200,000 others are booked for the journey this year.

VALUE OF TOURIST TRAVEL.

Some of the Benefits Which Have Accrued to Canada From It.

A movement has been made in Quebec to form a tourist association, and Sir William Van Horne, whose speech, delivered recently, on the necessity of a fast Atlantic service has caused much comment, has been discussing the value to a country of tourist travel. There was, he said, no reason in the world why at least 50,000 additional tourists should not be brought into the province annually, which would mean the expenditure of $5,000,000. Some of the finest buildings in Vancouver and Winnipeg were built by tourists, who, passing through these places saw their importance and invested their money in these places.

A notable example was the erection of the great Laurentide Pulp company's mill at Grand Mere, which had been built as a result of a visit paid to the St. Maurice river country a few years ago by R. A. Alger, now secretary of war of the United States. A still larger mill is about to be established at Grand Fall, N. B., as a result of the hunting trips of Senator Proctor of Vermont, when he became acquainted with the immense water power of the falls and the valuable areas of pulpwood in the vicinity, and interested his friends in the project. "Canada," says Sir William, "is full of resources that have never been made use of and that are practically unknown, and American tourists are never so tired or so taken up with pleasure seeking that they fail to use their eyes."—Special New York Commercial Advertiser.

Before retiring to the prison pen of the West Fifty-fourth Street police court in New York the other day Mrs. Thomas Jefferson, a negro woman committed to the island for five days, threw the key to her flat across the room to her husband, who was sitting on the back seat, and shouted these domestic instructions at him:

"It's five days, Thomas Jefferson, and you be good. You hear me? An doan you forget that the baby mustn't eat no meat—no tripe, nohow, an when you take home Miss Miller's washin to-day you tell her I've a very sick woman an won't be able to do her washin next week nohow, but will be all right week after next. Doan you go forget, Thomas Jefferson. Say it's grip."—New York Sun.

We are so military here now that no compositor could be expected to consider "Twelfth Mass" as meaning anything but "Twelfth Massachusetts."

THE KEELY DISCOVERIES

Investigators Find a Nest of Secret Wires and Traps.

DISCLOSURES OF A PLUMBER.

Made Pipe Connections That Might Have Been Utilized Either For Gas or Electric Power—A New Mystery Revealed In a Back Room—What Keely's Legatee Says.

"The whole place was a fraud, from cellar to garret," was the remark made by Professor Spangler of the University of Pennsylvania at a meeting of the Engineers' club in Philadelphia when the laboratory of John W. Keely was under discussion. Discoveries of secret traps and tubes in the dismantled building furnish cumulative evidence that the inventor concealed beneath the floors and in the walls the tubes through which he conveyed compressed air to his motor.

In his investigation at the laboratory the other day Clarence B. Moore, son of Mrs. Bloomfield Moore, was assisted by E. A. Scott, an electrical engineer, and George W. Arnold, a plumber and gasfitter who had done considerable work for Keely before his death. On the ground floor of the laboratory were three rooms. The great steel sphere was under the floor of the middle room. No stranger was ever permitted by Keely in the middle or the back room.

Arnold said he ran certain gas and water pipes into the building years ago. In this middle room, he said, there was a large cylindrical tank in the southwest corner. In the back room, which was in a one story annex, there was an electrical battery, but he could not tell what it was connected with. He said, however, that there were gas pipes with wires running through them. He said that about two years ago he made a gas connection with a gas motor which stood in the front room and showed where it had been disconnected and the end of the pipe capped. This motor stood at the rear end of a large workbench on the north wall.

The back room disclosed a new mystery. A small trap in the wood of the ceiling in the northeast corner opened into a space about one foot high. A half brick had been cut out of the wall of the two story building, through which a silver polished steel rod 7 feet 3 inches long and five-eighths of an inch in diameter was thrust, running east and west over the ceiling of the room and projecting through a hole under the eaves. In a line with this rod and under the floor of the rear room in the second story was a thick metal plug with a long screw, which was screwed through a joist. This plug was pierced with a small hole, terminating in a tube about half an inch inside diameter. This tube had been cut off.

The plug and tube were directly under the revolving ball, which stood in the northwest corner of the second story back room. This ball would roll over just as many times as the visitor would name. Keely sat in the middle room looking through a small window between the two rooms and sounding a mouth organ. There were two auger holes bored through the floor at that point. Just what office the steel rod performed is not apparent, but at one point on the rod, which was considerably corroded, there was a polished place where the rod had evidently rested on a bearing. The bright surface ran half way around, showing that the rod had had a rocking motion.

In the northeast corner of the back room there were a water connection and a sewer connection. Everything had been torn away. There may have been a water motor there. Several holes were cut through the brick wall. The motor was located in a room on the second story. It was fastened to the floor by heavy bolts and braced against the wall to a thick wooden strip running perpendicularly on the wall. The floor showed a large auger hole at the foot of the wooden strip and three large auger holes where a heavy iron rod—probably a tube—with a long iron foot ran from the front of the machine to the floor.

The floor was covered with heavy oilcloth, which was torn up, revealing the holes and several small traps where short pieces of the floor boards could be lifted out. It also showed grooves in the heavy joists, where tubes had probably been run. The facilities afforded to conceal any kind of tubes or wires between the floor and the wooden ceiling below were ample for every purpose. A photograph taken three years ago shows that this heavy rod or tube with its iron foot covered these auger holes and that electric or pneumatic power could have been readily transmitted either through these holes or the hole at the foot of the wooden strip on the wall.

There was not a wall or a floor that was not pierced with holes and traps. A disconnected insulated electric wire, which came in over a window on the second floor, showed that Keely had at one time been connected with an electric light station, the outside fixtures being still in place. The Columbia company's station is but two doors above the laboratory.

Private Mark Thornberry Discharged From the Service at Fort Ethan Allen and Is Now at Home—Private Beech Has the Tonsillitis and Is in the Hospital.

Three more members of Company E who served during the Santiago campaign are now privates of the regular army.

Privates Morris Carnahan, Dennis McCurran and William Shepherd last Tuesday evening went to Pittsburgh and on Wednesday morning enlisted in the Second U. S. cavalry, and before evening were on board a train with other recruits enroute to join their command at Huntsville, Alabama. They like army life and will probably end their days in service.

Private Marcus L. Thornberry, who served during the recent unpleasantness with Troop K, Third United States cavalry, arrived home this morning, having received an honorable discharge from the service for physical disability. He spent a furlough in the city last fall and rejoined his command at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont. He was on duty for about a month when he was taken ill and spent 94 days in the hospital, and when he was discharged his hip was giving him a great deal of trouble. On last Friday he was given his discharge with transportation home. When asked how he liked army life he said he was as glad to get out of the service as he was to get in.

Private William Beech, who is also a member of Troop K, was in the hospital with an attack of tonsillitis when Thornberry left for home, but aside from this Beech was in the best of health and enjoying himself.

Private F. R. Stutler, of the Second West Virginia regiment, is in the city visiting friends.

Private Fred Martin, of Company E, is endeavoring to secure a position on the police force of Havana. He has enlisted several army officers in his behalf and much influence will be brought to bear to have him secure the appointment. Should he fail to secure the appointment it is probable he will enlist in the regular army.

Several other members of Company E are contemplating entering the service and it is probable before another month the city will be well represented in the army.

FOUR MILES OF TRACK A DAY

Rapid Progress Expected on the Transsiberian Railroad This Year.

The latest news of the Transsiberian railroad is that the government is already laying the rails along the south-west shore of Lake Baikal, says the New York Sun. An immense ferryboat, large enough to transport an entire train to the opposite shore, which is also to have a powerful appliance for breaking the ice, is now building. Next spring the grading of the very difficult part of the line around the southern end of the lake will begin, and when this part is completed ferriage across the lake will be abandoned. It is expected to build the trans-Baikal section this season with remarkable rapidity. For a long distance toward the Pacific it is intended to lay the rails at the rate of four miles a day. While passengers and freight are now being carried from Europe to Irkutsk, it cannot be said that the road is entirely completed that far, for there are as yet no bridges over the Oka and Yenisei rivers, across which trains are transported on ferryboats.

A train de luxe runs once a week from Moscow as far east as Tomsk. Beyond that point a passenger train runs daily farther east to Krasnoirsk and three times a week as far as Irkutsk. Only second class cars are run between Krasnoirsk and Irkutsk. The cost of a second class ticket from Moscow to Lake Baikal is about $40, and the journey lasts 12 days. All the coaches have sleeping bunks.

The Russians are now building the road without any foreign employees, except that a number of Italian stonecutters are at work. Every seven miles a side track is built, so that if necessary the entire main route may be cleared for military trains. It is a remarkable fact that the freight and passenger movement already exceeds the transportation facilities. Thus far, however, the line has been employed chiefly in carrying beyond the Baikal to Manchuria the numerous emigrants who are sent there by the government. Two hundred thousand families were established there last year, and more than 200,000 others are booked for the journey this year.

Thomas Jefferson In Temporary Charge of the Family's Welfare.

Before retiring to the prison pen of the West Fifty-fourth Street police court in New York the other day Mrs. Thomas Jefferson, a negro woman committed to the island for five days, threw the key to her flat across the room to her husband, who was sitting on the back seat, and shouted these domestic instructions at him:

"It's five days, Thomas Jefferson, and you be good. You hear me? An doan you forget that the baby mustn't eat no meat—no tripe, nohow, an when you take home Miss Miller's washin today you tell her I've a very sick woman an won't be able to do her washin next week nohow, but will be all right week after next. Doan you go forget, Thomas Jefferson. Say it's grip."—New York Sun.

Mozart's "Twelfth Mass."

Whoever is collecting examples of queer typographical errors is invited to record the fact that in the proof of the notice of the Episcopal entertainment sent in from the Greenville (W. Va.) News composition room the other night the Second West Virginia band was announced as having on its programme "Mozart's Twelfth Massachusetts." We are so military here now that no compositor could be expected to consider "Twelfth Mass" as meaning anything but "Twelfth Massachusetts."

THE KEELY DISCOVERIES

Investigators Find a Nest of Secret Wires and Traps.

DISCLOSURES OF A PLUMBER.

Made Pipe Connections That Might Have Been Utilized Either For Gas or Electric Power—A New Mystery Revealed In a Back Room—What Keely's Legatee Says.

"The whole place was a fraud, from cellar to garret," was the remark made by Professor Spangler of the University of Pennsylvania at a meeting of the Engineers' club in Philadelphia when the laboratory of John W. Keely was under discussion. Discoveries of secret traps and tubes in the dismantled building furnish cumulative evidence that the inventor concealed beneath the floors and in the walls the tubes through which he conveyed compressed air to his motor.

In his investigation at the laboratory the other day Clarence B. Moore, son of Mrs. Bloomfield Moore, was assisted by E. A. Scott, an electrical engineer, and George W. Arnold, a plumber and gasfitter who had done considerable work for Keely before his death. On the ground floor of the laboratory were three rooms. The great steel sphere was under the floor of the middle room. No stranger was ever permitted by Keely in the middle or the back room.

Arnold said he ran certain gas and water pipes into the building years ago. In this middle room, he said, there was a large cylindrical tank in the southwest corner. In the back room, which was in a one story annex, there was an electrical battery, but he could not tell what it was connected with. He said, however, that there were gas pipes with wires running through them. He said that about two years ago he made a gas connection with a gas motor which stood in the front room and showed where it had been disconnected and the end of the pipe capped. This motor stood at the rear end of a large workbench on the north wall.

The back room disclosed a new mystery. A small trap in the wood of the ceiling in the northeast corner opened into a space about one foot high. A half brick had been cut out of the wall of the two story building, through which a silver polished steel rod 7 feet 3 inches long and five-eighths of an inch in diameter was thrust, running east and west over the ceiling of the room and projecting through a hole under the eaves. In a line with this rod and under the floor of the rear room in the second story was a thick metal plug with a long screw, which was screwed through a joist. This plug was pierced with a small hole, terminating in a tube about half an inch inside diameter. This tube had been cut off.

The plug and tube were directly under the revolving ball, which stood in the northwest corner of the second story back room. This ball would roll over just as many times as the visitor would name. Keely sat in the middle room looking through a small window between the two rooms and sounding a mouth organ. There were two auger holes bored through the floor at that point. Just what office the steel rod performed is not apparent, but at one point on the rod, which was considerably corroded, there was a polished place where the rod had evidently rested on a bearing. The bright surface ran half way around, showing that the rod had had a rocking motion.

In the northeast corner of the back room there were a water connection and a sewer connection. Everything had been torn away. There may have been a water motor there. Several holes were cut through the brick wall. The motor was located in a room on the second story. It was fastened to the floor by heavy bolts and braced against the wall to a thick wooden strip running perpendicularly on the wall. The floor showed a large auger hole at the foot of the wooden strip and three large auger holes where a heavy iron rod—probably a tube—with a long iron foot ran from the front of the machine to the floor.

The floor was covered with heavy oilcloth, which was torn up, revealing the holes and several small traps where short pieces of the floor boards could be lifted out. It also showed grooves in the heavy joists, where tubes had probably been run. The facilities afforded to conceal any kind of tubes or wires between the floor and the wooden ceiling below were ample for every purpose. A photograph taken three years ago shows that this heavy rod or tube with its iron foot covered these auger holes and that electric or pneumatic power could have been readily transmitted either through these holes or the hole at the foot of the wooden strip on the wall.

There was not a wall or a floor that was not pierced with holes and traps. A disconnected insulated electric wire, which came in over a window on the second floor, showed that Keely had at one time been connected with an electric light station, the outside fixtures being still in place. The Columbia company's station is but two doors above the laboratory.

of the Keely motor, who is at present engaged in experiments at Jamaica Plain to discover if possible the secret of the inventor, said recently that the discovery of tubing, from which it is alleged, compressed air had been the force utilized in Keely's experiments, amounted to nothing. Mr. Kinraid was asked if it was true or not that there was tubing used in connection with the great steel sphere, thus forming an agency for the forces that moved the motor in the exhibition room. "I cannot make any reply to that direct question in view of my position with the company," he said.—New York Herald.

Relics of Mound Builders.

While prospecting recently on the site of the village of the prehistoric mound builders, near Fort Ancient, O., Clifford Anderson, a farmer, found some portions of human skeletons, stone hatchets, arrowheads and pottery and other relics of the past. The place is to be thoroughly investigated. It is only a few hundred yards from the largest earthwork in the United States—Fort Ancient—which is 3½ miles in circumference. The earthwork has frequently been explored, but its history is not completely known, and Anderson's discovery may go toward solving the mystery of its construction.—New York Tribune.

The Comic Valentine Man.

[The comic valentine man is working night and day now.—Exchange.]

Where is the home of the valentine man—
That's what we're wanting to know—
The fellow who vexes
And sorely perplexes
All suffering mortals below?
Does he dwell near the sky and the snow
In an attic they built long ago?
Is he down in a basement
With barred and barred casement?
Oh, that's what we're wanting to know!

Where is the home of the valentine man?
For many a grudge do we owe,
And for one that would praise him
A dozen would "haze" him
And consign him to regions below!
He's as busy today as a bee
Making trouble for you and for me,
Or single or double
He's making us trouble—
Oh, where can his dwelling place be?

They say that the valentine man,
Who cares not for peasant or prince,
By a fair maid was slighted—
His life, it was blighted,
And that he's been mad ever since.
So within an impassable wall
He takes his revenge on us all,
Though the devil may take him,
We never forsake him—
Here's a health to his honey and gall!

SURVEYORS AT WORK

Chief Engineer Zollinger and His Corps Are at It.

LOOKING FOR THE BEST GRADE

Between Lisbon and East Liverpool--They Will Try a Number of Lines--Work Was Commenced Last Saturday Morning. Mr. Francis' View.

J. L. Francis, who has been here for several months in the interests of the proposed East Liverpool-Lisbon electric line, returned Saturday night from the county seat after an important conference held in that place.

To the NEWS REVIEW Mr. Francis stated that a party of eight men in charge of Chief Engineer Zollinger, of Louisville, Ky., began the survey Saturday morning. They will be assisted by a number of persons residing in the country through which the line will be built. It is the engineer's duty to find the shortest route between Lisbon and Liverpool, and the ground will be gone over carefully. A number of lines will be surveyed as soon as possible. At first, it was believed, the road need not be longer than 17 miles, but now it seems as though it will be necessary to build 25 miles, although that is not definitely known.

Mr. Francis said the coal territory has been thoroughly tested within the past three months, the borings showing satisfactory results. But little has been done here during recent months looking to subscriptions, but Mr. Francis has perfect faith in his project and only waited until the American Potteries' company matter was settled and the city once more assumed its usual business activity.

Prospects for the construction of the road are brighter at present than at any time in its history.

LOST TWO BARGES.

Part of a Tow Went to the Bottom of the River.

The towboat Pacific No. 2 met with a mishap at Smith's Ferry Saturday afternoon which will prove costly to the firm owning the craft, the Pacific Coal company.

The boat had a large tow of coal and passed Merriman, at present considered the most dangerous place in the Ohio channel, in safety. The boat had 17 barges when it passed Rochester, and at Wellsville the firm was notified that two had been lost. The barges began leaking, and although the crew did all in their power to save them, they went to the bottom in a short time.

It is probable the firm will attempt to recover the coal as it would cause them much loss if allowed to remain in the river.

THEY DO NOT STAY.

Tramps Beg and Then Hasten to Leave.

The plan of Mayor Bough to make tramps work on the streets of the city is not working well because the tramps seem to have heard all about it, and lose no time in passing through town.

The order, however, does not prevent tramps from begging, and many of them leave the railroad when they reach the outskirts of the city, beg along some street until they have secured what they want, and then hasten to quit the town. Few tramps have been seen in the business part of town for several days.

SAW THE GRANT GO.

The Transport Was Filled With Soldiers and Looked Well.

Joseph Dennis, formerly office boy at the NEWS REVIEW but at present residing in Brooklyn, writes that he saw the United States transport Grant leave its dock the other day, filled with cheering soldiers of the Seventeenth infantry bound for Manila.

Mr. Dennis was particularly interested because the Grant was formerly the Mohawk on which the Eighth Ohio came from Cuba. The transport has been repaired and refitted, and Mr. Dennis says presented a splendid appearance.

M. F. Walker, a United States prisoner, has been transferred from the jail at Troy to that in Steubenville. The transfer was made by the request of Congressman Danford to Attorney General Griggs.

It will be remembered that Walker is being held on a charge of robbing the mails while employed as a mail clerk on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road between Wellsville and Bellaire.

ODD NASAL OPERATION.

How a Noseless Man Had a New One Grafted on Him.

Herman Wade of Chicago was once a noseless man. Now he is the proudest Cyrano of them all. He has had a nose put on him, and Dr. J. T. Thoren of the County hospital is the man who put it on. The operation was long and complicated. This is the story of it as nearly correct as a layman can tell it: First Herman stretched himself out on his back, and the doctor cut a little slit in the middle of his face where the nose ought to be and turned the skin back.

Then he took a fine young hen, peeled it under the wing and laid bare the flesh. Herman's face and the chicken's breast were put together. Bandaged tightly, the two had to live together for 11 days. The chicken got the best things to eat which the County hospital had, and every care was taken to prevent its dying. Before long even the doctor couldn't tell where Herman left off and the chicken began. Then another operation was necessary. Enough flesh for a good sized nose was cut out of the chicken's breast. Quickly it was shaped and molded till it suited the doctor's artistic eye. Then over it was put a covering of skin from the man's breast. The work was done. When Herman got over the effects of the chloroform, there was his nose waiting for him.—Chicago Times-Herald.

TORTURED TO END SLEEP.

Girl's Neck and Shoulders Burned With Heated Aluminum Points.

Miss Eva Roch of Montreal, the victim of 28 days of lethargic sleep following an attack of hysterics, was awakened the other day by Drs. Rivet, Simard and Lauzon, who applied actual canterly on the neck and along the spinal column down to the middle of the shoulders. At the first three or four burns applied the young woman revived and uttered a faint moan as if suffering from pain.

The operation was continued until about 50 applications had been made, but lightly. She was then perfectly conscious and seemed surprised at the sight of the doctors. "My God, my God!" she exclaimed in a weak voice, "What has happened?" She recognized her parents. The doctors are satisfied that she was perfectly unconscious of all that took place during her long sleep. The points used in burning her were made of aluminium and heated in a joined benzine and alcohol flame.—Special New York World.

Young Man Told a Story to New York Police—May Solve the Poison Mystery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—George W. Koutnik, a young man living in Hoboken, N. J., told the police that on the evening of Dec. 23 he had met a man at Madison avenue and Fortieth street, who asked him to deliver a package addressed to Harry Cornish at the Knickerbocker Athletic club. This he refused to do, he said, but agreed to mail the package at the general postoffice, which he did. According to his story, also, the man from whom he received the package answered the description of one of the men prominently mentioned in the poisoning case. Koutnik was taken before Chief Devery and Captain McCluskey, District Attorney Gardner and others at police headquarters, and after the conference Captain McCluskey said that Koutnik had practically repeated the story to the officials as he had originally told it. Koutnik was thereupon detained as a witness in the case.

Roland B. Molineux, with his counsel, Bartow S. Weeks and George Gordon Battle, had also an hour's conference with the police, but the nature of it was not disclosed.

MAY GET $28,000,000.

British Admiralty May Pay That For a Yankee Invention.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—H. M. Buck, a watchmaker, of Thompsonville, Conn., invented a rotary cylinder which is designed to increase the speed of steamships 50 per cent and at the same time do away entirely with the vibration of vessels. His method is to utilize all the expansion of steam for driving power, thus avoiding the waste, which in the cylinders now in use is computed at 98 per cent. It is this waste which requires the enormous coal consumption of modern steam vessels and the appropriation of an abnormally large space in the vessel's hull for coal bunkers.

Mr. Buck opened negotiations with the British government. A British agent tested it very thoroughly and approved it. He went back to England about two weeks ago, taking a duplicate model with him. He made the following contract with the inventor:

The board of admiralty is to construct a cylinder and test it thoroughly for six days. If at the end of this time it is judged successful Mr. Buck is to get $9,000,000. If a second test of 60 days is likewise successful he is to get an additional $9,000,000 and a final successful test of 40 days' duration is to bring an additional $10,000,000, or $28,000,000 in all.

It is the purpose of the British government to use the cylinder in their warships.

Old Woman Murdered.

PANA, Ills., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Mary McIntire, a wealthy widow 60 years old, was found murdered in her home. She was supposed to have kept considerable money about her. She lived alone. Mr. McIntire's body was found chopped almost to pieces and thrown under a bed. Everything of value had been carried away by the murderers. Mrs. McIntire is said to have sympathized with the union miners in their struggle against negro labor. Her house had been fired upon a number of times.

Young Man Told a Story to New York Police—May Solve the Poison Mystery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—George W. Koutnik, a young man living in Hoboken, N. J., told the police that on the evening of Dec. 23 he had met a man at Madison avenue and Fortieth street, who asked him to deliver a package addressed to Harry Cornish at the Knickerbocker Athletic club. This he refused to do, he said, but agreed to mail the package at the general postoffice, which he did. According to his story, also, the man from whom he received the package answered the description of one of the men prominently mentioned in the poisoning case. Koutnik was taken before Chief Devery and Captain McCluskey, District Attorney Gardner and others at police headquarters, and after the conference Captain McCluskey said that Koutnik had practically repeated the story to the officials as he had originally told it. Koutnik was thereupon detained as a witness in the case.

ROLAND B. MOLINEUX.

Roland B. Molineux, with his counsel, Bartow S. Weeks and George Gordon Battle, had also an hour's conference with the police, but the nature of it was not disclosed.

MAY GET $28,000,000.

British Admiralty May Pay That For a Yankee Invention.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—H. M. Buck, a watchmaker, of Thompsonville, Conn., invented a rotary cylinder which is designed to increase the speed of steamships 50 per cent and at the same time do away entirely with the vibration of vessels. His method is to utilize all the expansion of steam for driving power, thus avoiding the waste, which in the cylinders now in use is computed at 98 per cent. It is this waste which requires the enormous coal consumption of modern steam vessels and the appropriation of an abnormally large space in the vessel's hull for coal bunkers.

Mr. Buck opened negotiations with the British government. A British agent tested it very thoroughly and approved it. He went back to England about two weeks ago, taking a duplicate model with him. He made the following contract with the inventor:

The board of admiralty is to construct a cylinder and test it thoroughly for six days. If at the end of this time it is adjudged successful Mr. Buck is to get $9,000,000. If a second test of 60 days is likewise successful he is to get an additional $9,000,000 and a final successful test of 40 days' duration is to bring an additional $10,000,000, or $28,000,000 in all.

It is the purpose of the British government to use the cylinder in their warships.

Old Woman Murdered.

PANA, Ills., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Mary McIntire, a wealthy widow 60 years old, was found murdered in her home. She was supposed to have kept considerable money about her. She lived alone. Mr. McIntire's body was found chopped almost to pieces and thrown under a bed. Everything of value had been carried away by the murderers. Mrs. McIntire is said to have sympathized with the union miners in their struggle against negro labor. Her house had been fired upon a number of times.

Fourteen Persons Killed.

MURCIA, Spain, Jan. 30.—Fourteen persons were killed by an explosion of gas in the Palia mine, near Mazarron, 25 miles west of Cartagena. The other miners escaped.

Weather Forecast.

SURVEYORS AT WORK

Chief Engineer Zollinger and His Corps Are at It.

LOOKING FOR THE BEST GRADE

Between Lisbon and East Liverpool.—They Will Try a Number of Lines—Work Was Commenced Last Saturday Morning. Mr. Francis' View.

J. L. Francis, who has been here for several months in the interests of the proposed East Liverpool-Lisbon electric line, returned Saturday night from the county seat after an important conference held in that place.

To the NEWS REVIEW Mr. Francis stated that a party of eight men in charge of Chief Engineer Zollinger, of Louisville, Ky., began the survey Saturday morning. They will be assisted by a number of persons residing in the country through which the line will be built. It is the engineer's duty to find the shortest route between Lisbon and Liverpool, and the ground will be gone over carefully. A number of lines will be surveyed as soon as possible. At first, it was believed, the road need not be longer than 17 miles, but now it seems as though it will be necessary to build 25 miles, although that is not definitely known.

Mr. Francis said the coal territory has been thoroughly tested within the past three months, the borings showing satisfactory results. But little has been done here during recent months looking to subscriptions, but Mr. Francis has perfect faith in his project and only waited until the American Potteries' company matter was settled and the city once more assumed its usual business activity.

Prospects for the construction of the road are brighter at present than at any time in its history.

LOST TWO BARGES.

Part of a Tow Went to the Bottom of the River.

The towboat Pacific No. 2 met with a mishap at Smith's Ferry Saturday afternoon which will prove costly to the firm owning the craft, the Pacific Coal company.

The boat had a large tow of coal and passed Merriman, at present considered the most dangerous place in the Ohio channel, in safety. The boat had 17 barges when it passed Rochester, and at Wellsville the firm was notified that two had been lost. The barges began leaking, and although the crew did all in their power to save them, they went to the bottom in a short time.

It is probable the firm will attempt to recover the coal as it would cause them much loss if allowed to remain in the river.

THEY DO NOT STAY.

Tramps Beg and Then Hasten to Leave.

The plan of Mayor Bough to make tramps work on the streets of the city is not working well because the tramps seem to have heard all about it, and lose no time in passing through town.

The order, however, does not prevent tramps from begging, and many of them leave the railroad when they reach the outskirts of the city, beg along some street until they have secured what they want, and then hasten to quit the town. Few tramps have been seen in the business part of town for several days.

SAW THE GRANT GO.

The Transport Was Filled With Soldiers and Looked Well.

Joseph Dennis, formerly office boy at the NEWS REVIEW but at present residing in Brooklyn, writes that he saw the United States transport Grant leave its dock the other day, filled with cheering soldiers of the Seventeenth infantry bound for Manila.

Mr. Dennis was particularly interested because the Grant was formerly the Mohawk on which the Eighth Ohio came from Cuba. The transport has been repaired and refitted, and Mr. Dennis says presented a splendid appearance.

WALKER TRANSFERRED.

He Will Be Kept Where His Family Can See Him.

M. F. Walker, a United States prisoner, has been transferred from the jail at Troy to that in Steubenville. The transfer was made by the request of Congressman Danford to Attorney General Griggs.

It will be remembered that Walker is being held on a charge of robbing the mails while employed as a mail clerk on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road between Wellsville and Bellaire.

ODD NASAL OPERATION.

How a Noseless Man Had a New One Grafted on Him.

Herman Wade of Chicago was once a noseless man. Now he is the proudest Cyrano of them all. He has had a nose put on him, and Dr. J. T. Thoren of the County hospital is the man who put it on. The operation was long and complicated. This is the story of it as nearly correct as a layman can tell it: First Herman stretched himself out on his back, and the doctor cut a little slit in the middle of his face where the nose ought to be and turned the skin back.

Then he took a fine young hen, peeled it under the wing and laid bare the flesh. Herman's face and the chicken's breast were put together. Bandaged tightly, the two had to live together for 11 days. The chicken got the best things to eat which the County hospital had, and every care was taken to prevent its dying. Before long even the doctor couldn't tell where Herman left off and the chicken began. Then another operation was necessary. Enough flesh for a good sized nose was cut out of the chicken's breast. Quickly it was shaped and molded till it suited the doctor's artistic eye. Then over it was put a covering of skin from the man's breast. The work was done. When Herman got over the effects of the chloroform, there was his nose waiting for him.—Chicago Times-Herald.

TORTURED TO END SLEEP.

Girl's Neck and Shoulders Burned With Heated Aluminum Points.

Miss Eva Roch of Montreal, the victim of 28 days of lethargic sleep following an attack of hysterics, was awakened the other day by Drs. Rivet, Simard and Lauzon, who applied actual cautery on the neck and along the spinal column down to the middle of the shoulders. At the first three or four burns applied the young woman revived and uttered a faint moan as if suffering from pain.

The operation was continued until about 50 applications had been made, but lightly. She was then perfectly conscious and seemed surprised at the sight of the doctors. "My God, my God!" she exclaimed in a weak voice. "What has happened?" She recognized her parents. The doctors are satisfied that she was perfectly unconscious of all that took place during her long sleep. The points used in burning her were made of aluminium and heated in a joined benzine and alcohol flame.—Special New York World.

The little Japs are about as free from the vice of drunkenness as any people in the world. In fact, it is the rarest thing in the world to see an inebriated subject of the mikado. The native drink, "saké," is used about as tea in this country, and it is but little more intoxicating.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns

JOHN J. LENTZ, congressman representing the Columbus district, seems to be the choice of a good many Democrats for governor. There is danger, however, in giving him the doubtful honor. He might sink into that oblivion that has been the lot of other Democrats who have sought the same position, and the Republican paragraphs of Central Ohio would be deprived of a useful and interesting figure.

BRYAN'S POSITION.

From the present until after the Democratic national convention has selected a candidate anything that President McKinley may do will be wrong, possibly criminal, in the eyes of the terrified who would like well to fill his position. Particularly is this true of William Jennings Bryan, who resigned the command of a regiment of volunteers when he learned they were to see service in Cuba. He, it seems, would rather work at scratching down the government at home than aid in upholding its prestige in Cuba.

MR. HANNA IS OUT.

Ohio Republicans will hear with no little satisfaction that Senator Hanna has no candidate for governor and his influence will not be brought into the contest preceding election. The announcement virtually means a free field and a fair fight with the honors of victory for the best man engaged.

The only other matter to enter into the contest is the loyalty of the contestants to President McKinley. This is his state and the man to be its next governor should believe in the principles upon which the President stands. Unless he does that honestly he should have no place upon the Republican ticket. Ohio Republicans will support no man who does not support William McKinley.

CHEAP GAS.

If the people of East Liverpool, who are listed as customers of the gas companies, do not use a cubic foot of the aeriform fluid they are charged $1 per month for the privilege of being known as consumers. They may for some reason be away from home during that time, or the companies may not have sufficient gas at the rate charged to supply each customer with it to the amount of $1, but the collection is nevertheless made. Should the weather not warrant the use of so much gas, the companies proceed to collect just the same.

The rule is unjust. It is based upon no principle that can be classed as honest business. There is, therefore, no reason why the city should permit it. Councilmen are elected for the purpose of protecting the interests of the people they serve as well as for the transaction of such other business as may come before them. They are not doing their duty when they refuse to demand fair and honest dealing from the gas companies for their constituents. The people do not ask gas for nothing. They are willing to pay the right rate for what they use, but not a consumer in the city is willing to pay for what he does not receive. Gas, if listed at ten cents a thousand, would not then be cheap.

WELLSVILLE.

TO SETTLE AFFAIRS

Reverend Laverty Has Gone to Los Angeles.

WILL BE ABSENT A MONTH

Evangelist Cornell Continues to Draw Large Crowds to the Methodist Episcopal Church--Spoke Five Times Yesterday--All the News.

Rev. L. Finley Laverty left today for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will be absent for a month. It was the understanding that if Reverend Laverty came at once to take charge of the First Presbyterian church he could have the month of February in which to return to his old home and pack his household furniture and adjust things there so as to leave it permanently. Rev. George N. Johnson, of Pittsburg, will fill the pulpit while the pastor is away.

Good Meetings.

Evangelist Cornell continues the meetings at the Methodist Episcopal church. The meetings are well attended, and at night the house is crowded. Yesterday Mr. Cornell spoke five times.

The afternoon meeting, for men only, was well attended. The theme dealt with Samson slaying the lion and the various lions young men meet as they pass through society. He gave excellent advice as to the best manner of dealing with them.

Acknowledged the Debt.

The case of Rebecca Aughenbaugh against A. J. Powell for the sum of $26.30, claimed due for rent, was before Squire Riley at 9 o'clock this morning.

Attorney Snediker represented the plaintiff and Charles F. Boyd the defendant. Judgment for whole amount was rendered by confession.

Dismissed the Case.

The case of Zimri Whitacre against William Sams which was set for 7 o'clock Saturday evening came before Mayor Dennis at that hour, but as there was no evidence against him the case was dismissed and Sams was allowed to go free. He spent several days in the city hotel.

News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Dollie Dittmer, who was sent for on account of the serious illness of her father, Jacob Heinze, left today for her home in New Philadelphia, leaving her father improved in health.

Engine 611, which has been undergoing repairs at the shops, took out the morning train to Cleveland.

The executive committee of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will meet tonight at the home of Miss Mary Cope, Main street.

William Ingram, of Congo, who has been confined to his home with grip for several days, was able to fill his place in his class in school today.

Miss Gertrude Rudybush has been sick for the past week with the grip.

The members of the social committee of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church, meet tonight with Mrs. Charles Andrews, in Eighth street.

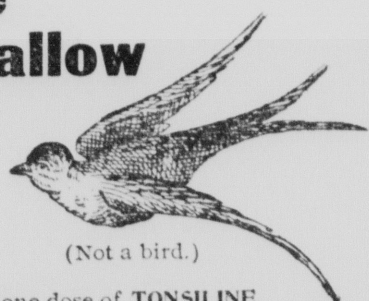

The ladies of the Church of the Immaculate Conception are preparing for an oyster supper and social to be given Feb. 14.

Doctor McFarland is having to take some of his own medicine. He has been on the sick list for the past two weeks.

Miss Sophia James is visiting relatives in Dennison.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zimmer, who recently went to housekeeping in the McLean property on Main street, will hereafter make their home in Adamsville, where Mr. Zimmer has taken a position with a drug firm.

CONKLE'S TURN.

He Has Brought Suit Against Tullis to Recover What He Lost in Mayors' Court.

The case of Samuel Conkle against J. Frank Tullis for $71, to have been heard this morning in the court of Squire Rose, was postponed until Thursday morning. The amount sued for is the costs and damages arising from the recent action in which Tullis sued Conkle to recover $247 which he claimed to have lost in gambling. Tullis lost the case.

A BEAUTIFUL RAINBOW.

It Was In the East a Little South of the Sun.

A strange phenomenon was witnessed by a great many persons in the city this morning about 8 o'clock.

It took the form of a rainbow and occupied a place in the sky a little south of the sun. The colors shown beautifully, and for almost half an hour it was visible. At one time it was beautifully bright, and seemed fairly to blaze.

The phenomenon attracted much attention, and many persons who saw it stood in the cold until it had passed away.

ST. CLAIR IS SICK.

Almost the Entire Township Has the Grip.

St. Clair township is ill. In almost every house someone can be found suffering from the dreaded malady. To the present there have been few deaths, and while a great many persons are very ill none are considered in a dangerous condition.

Among those who are very ill are Mrs. George McKee and Mrs. K. Y. Hart, who are well known in this city.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS

May Cause a Meeting of the Board of Health.

Every possible effort will be made to have a regular meeting of the board of health Friday evening, as there is some important business to transact.

The board has not held a meeting for several months, and in the meantime business has been accumulating.

Those Who Are Ill.

Mrs. W. A. Weaver, who has been seriously ill, is somewhat improved today. Doctor Dake, of Pittsburg, was called here Saturday afternoon in consultation.

Mrs. John Palmer, of Lisbon street, is suffering from a severe attack of malaria. Her condition is serious.

Elmer McCord, who has been confined to his rooms in West Market street suffering with an attack of fever, is able to be out.

Patsy Kernan, who has been ill with grip for several weeks, is improving and is now able to be out.

Mr. Beane From Boston.

Numerous farce comedies have been presented here at various intervals, but none so mirthful and effervescent as the new version of "Mr. Beane From Boston" which the famous Brothers Gorman, John, James and George bring to the Grand Wednesday next. Not a single member of the present company, with the exception of the stars, has ever been seen in this city, and the general opinion of both press and public of the different cities visited is that the supporting company is superior to any the Gorman Bros., have heretofore had.

The Citizens' National bank have moved to their new building, corner Sixth and Washington.

To Supercede Acetylene Gas.

It is announced that carbolite can be manufactured from blast furnace slag. Carbolite is necessary to the production of ethylene gas, which, it is said, is better than acetylene gas, though possessing the excellencies of the latter. To make this new substance slag, while molten, is poured into converters such as are used for the manufacture of Bessemer steel and pulverized coke is blown through the liquid mass by means of the air blast. Next the melted slag, thoroughly permeated by the pulverized coke, is subjected to electric treatment by means of which the slag is fused with the coke. Then the mass is poured off into molds and allowed to cool, after which it is boxed with tin and wood and becomes carbolite in a commercial form. One of the inventor's claims is that this material will produce a gas superior to acetylene at much less cost—an announcement of unusual importance if it is well founded.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Good Times—Healthy People.

The Minister's Mistake.

This story is told of a prominent preacher: On a hot Sabbath as he was preaching he took from his pocket what he thought was his handkerchief, shook it out and wiped his face, intently talking all the time. To his surprise a broad smile was on every face in his audience, when he discovered that what he had put in his pocket for a handkerchief that morning was a pair of his little child's drawers, the legs of which were quite visible as he wiped the perspiration from his face.—Homiletic Review.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are the city by the printing of the above

Union Labels at the head of their columns

JOHN J. LENTZ, congressman representing the Columbus district, seems to be the choice of a good many Democrats for governor. There is danger, however, in giving him the doubtful honor. He might sink into that oblivion that has been the lot of other Democrats who have sought the same position, and the Republican paragraphs of Central Ohio would be deprived of a useful and interesting figure.

BRYAN'S POSITION.

From the present until after the Democratic national convention has selected a candidate anything that President McKinley may do will be wrong, possibly criminal, in the eyes of the untirred who would like well to fill his position. Particularly is this true of William Jennings Bryan, who resigned the command of a regiment of volunteers when he learned they were to see service in Cuba. He, it seems, would rather work at scratching down the government at home than aid in upholding its prestige in Cuba.

MR. HANNA IS OUT.

Ohio Republicans will hear with no little satisfaction that Senator Hanna has no candidate for governor and his influence will not be brought into the contest preceding election. The announcement virtually means a free field and a fair fight with the honors of victory for the best man engaged.

The only other matter to enter into the contest is the loyalty of the contestants to President McKinley. This is his state and the man to be its next governor should believe in the principles upon which the President stands. Unless he does that honestly he should have no place upon the Republican ticket. Ohio Republicans will support no man who does not support William McKinley.

CHEAP GAS.

If the people of East Liverpool, who are listed as customers of the gas companies, do not use a cubic foot of the aeriform fluid they are charged $1 per month for the privilege of being known as consumers. They may for some reason be away from home during that time, or the companies may not have sufficient gas at the rate charged to supply each customer with it to the amount of $1, but the collection is nevertheless made. Should the weather not warrant the use of so much gas, the companies proceed to collect just the same.

The rule is unjust. It is based upon no principle that can be classed as honest business. There is, therefore, no reason why the city should permit it. Councilmen are elected for the purpose of protecting the interests of the people they serve as well as for the transaction of such other business as may come before them. They are not doing their duty when they refuse to demand fair and honest dealing from the gas companies for their constituents. The people do not ask gas for nothing. They are willing to pay the right rate for what they use, but not a consumer in the city is willing to pay for what he does not receive. Gas, if listed at ten cents a thousand, would not then be cheap.

TO SETTLE AFFAIRS

Reverend Laverty Has Gone to Los Angeles.

WILL BE ABSENT A MONTH

Evangelist Cornell Continues to Draw
Large Crowds to the Methodist Episcopal Church--Spoke Five Times Yesterday--All the News.

Rev. L. Finley Laverty left today for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will be absent for a month. It was the understanding that if Reverend Laverty came at once to take charge of the First Presbyterian church he could have the month of February in which to return to his old home and pack his household furniture and adjust things there so as to leave it permanently. Rev. George N. Johnson, of Pittsburg, will fill the pulpit while the pastor is away.

Good Meetings.

Evangelist Cornell continues the meetings at the Methodist Episcopal church. The meetings are well attended, and at night the house is crowded. Yesterday Mr. Cornell spoke five times.

The afternoon meeting, for men only, was well attended. The theme dealt with Samson slaying the lion and the various lions young men meet as they pass through society. He gave excellent advice as to the best manner of dealing with them.

Acknowledged the Debt.

The case of Rebecca Aughenbaugh against A. J. Powell for the sum of $26.30, claimed due for rent, was before Squire Riley at 9 o'clock this morning.

Attorney Snediker represented the plaintiff and Charles F. Boyd the defendant. Judgment for whole amount was rendered by confession.

Dismissed the Case.

The case of Zimri Whitacre against William Sams which was set for 7 o'clock Saturday evening came before Mayor Dennis at that hour, but as there was no evidence against him the case was dismissed and Sams was allowed to go free. He spent several days in the city hotel.

News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Dollie Dittmer, who was sent for on account of the serious illness of her father, Jacob Henze, left today for her home in New Philadelphia, leaving her father improved in health.

Engine 611, which has been undergoing repairs at the shops, took out the morning train to Cleveland.

The executive committee of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will meet tonight at the home of Miss Mary Cope, Main street.

William Ingram, of Congo, who has been confined to his home with grip for several days, was able to fill his place in his class in school today.

Miss Gertrude Rudybush has been sick for the past week with the grip.

The members of the social committee of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church, meet tonight with Mrs. Charles Andrews, in Eighth street.

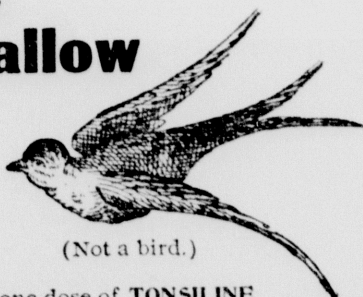

The ladies of the Church of the Immaculate Conception are preparing for an oyster supper and social to be given Feb. 14.

Doctor McFarland is having to take some of his own medicine. He has been on the sick list for the past two weeks.

Miss Sophia James is visiting relatives in Dennison.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zimmer, who recently went to housekeeping in the McLean property on Main street, will hereafter make their home in Adamsville, where Mr. Zimmer has taken a position with a drug firm.

Lost In Mayors' Court.

The case of Samuel Conkle against J. Frank Tullis for $71, to have been heard this morning in the court of Squire Rose, was postponed until Thursday morning. The amount sued for is the costs and damages arising from the recent action in which Tullis sued Conkle to recover $247 which he claimed to have lost in gambling. Tullis lost the case.

A BEAUTIFUL RAINBOW.

It Was In the East a Little South of the Sun.

A strange phenomenon was witnessed by a great many persons in the city this morning about 8 o'clock.

It took the form of a rainbow and occupied a place in the sky a little south of the sun. The colors shown beautifully, and for almost half an hour it was visible. At one time it was beautifully bright, and seemed fairly to blaze.

The phenomenon attracted much attention, and many persons who saw it stood in the cold until it had passed away.

ST. CLAIR IS SICK.

Almost the Entire Township Has the Grip.

St. Clair township is ill. In almost every house someone can be found suffering from the dreaded malady. To the present there have been few deaths, and while a great many persons are very ill none are considered in a dangerous condition.

Among those who are very ill are Mrs. George McKee and Mrs. K. Y. Hart, who are well known in this city.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS

May Cause a Meeting of the Board of Health.

Every possible effort will be made to have a regular meeting of the board of health Friday evening, as there is some important business to transact.

The board has not held a meeting for several months, and in the meantime business has been accumulating.

Those Who Are Ill.

Mrs. W. A. Weaver, who has been seriously ill, is somewhat improved today. Doctor Dake, of Pittsburg, was called here Saturday afternoon in consultation.

Mrs. John Palmer, of Lisbon street, is suffering from a severe attack of malaria. Her condition is serious.

Elmer McCord, who has been confined to his rooms in West Market street suffering with an attack of fever, is able to be out.

Patsy Kernan, who has been ill with grip for several weeks, is improving and is now able to be out.

Mr. Beane From Boston.

Numerous farce comedies have been presented here at various intervals, but none so mirthful and effervescent as the new version of "Mr. Beane From Boston" which the famous Brothers Gorman, John, James and George bring to the Grand Wednesday next. To Supersede Acetylene Gas.

It is announced that carbolite can be manufactured from blast furnace slag. Carbolite is necessary to the production of ethylene gas, which, it is said, is better than acetylene gas, though possessing the excellencies of the latter. To make this new substance slag, while molten, is poured into converters such as are used for the manufacture of Bessemer steel, and pulverized coke is blown through the liquid mass by means of the air blast. Next the melted slag thoroughly permeated by the pulverized coke is subjected to electric treatment by means of which the slag is fused with the coke. Then the mass is poured off into molds and allowed to cool, after which it is boxed with tin and wood and becomes carbolite in a commercial form. One of the inventor's claims is that this material will produce a gas superior to acetylene at much less cost—an announcement of unusual importance if it is well founded.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Minister's Mistake.

This story is told of a prominent preacher: On a hot Sabbath as he was preaching he took from his pocket what he thought was his handkerchief, shook it out and wiped his face, intently talking all the time. To his surprise a broad smile was on every face in his audience, when he discovered that what he had put in his pocket for a handkerchief that morning was a pair of his little child's drawers, the legs of which were quite visible as he wiped the perspiration from his face.—Homiletic Review

THE FAST YOUNG MAN

Evangelist Nash on His Daily Life.

TALKED IN A NICE WAY

To an Enormous Audience at the Association Auditorium Yesterday Afternoon. Services in the Churches of the City Yesterday.

There was a splendid audience of men present at the Young Men's Christian association meeting Sunday afternoon, attracted by the announcement that Evangelist Nash would take as his subject "The Life of a Fast Young Man."

The great pity is that the young men of East Liverpool are not more often in the habit of assembling at the Young Men's Christian association rooms, during the week as well as on Sunday afternoon, thus keeping away, in a marked degree from the accursed saloons of our city, dens which are not only ruining the bodies of our youth and unfitting them for business pursuits, but absolutely shutting them out of heaven and the presence of God and his angels.

Secretary Platts led the meeting in selections of appropriate song service, prominent among which was the grand old song of "Throw Out the Life Line," and it was rendered in manner which made the lover of humanity and human souls to thrill and rejoice. Reverend Swift led in a prayer full of pathos, asking that God might bless the meeting and those assembled, and that the evangelist might make use only of that, in his talk, which would be conducive of bringing men to a purer, a better, a higher life.

Space forbids publication of Mr. Nash's remarks. Not a word was made use of that the most refined wife, mother or sister could not hear. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to Christian sisters in a home, asserting that their power in saving wayward brothers was almost limitless. Then came a tribute to Christian mothers, loving their boys with a love second only to the love of Jesus, and many a man's heart in that audience thrilled under the burning words of truth. Nash then made use of the pith of the following:

"A professing Christian who loves to hear stories of impurity, or who loves to tell impure and vulgar stories, is a child of the devil, straight on the road to hell, and nothing will save him but true repentance and God's mercy."

Mr. Nash addressed a large audience at the First U. P. church last night.

SERVICES.

Items of Interest From all the Churches.

At St. Stephen's church last evening Reverend Weary preached an instructive sermon to a large congregation. He used for his subject "The Difficulties of the Bible."

"The Denial of a Request" was the subject from which Reverend Reinartz preached a splendid sermon last evening at St. John's church.

Rev. C. F. Swift last evening at the Methodist Protestant church preached an interesting sermon. His subject was "Seeking the Lost."

Services at the First M. E. church yesterday were largely attended. The revival services have been very successful.

The revival services at the Methodist Protestant church which have been discontinued for several days will be resumed Wednesday evening. The meeting that evening will be in charge of Reverend Gladden, of the Methodist Protestant church of New Brighton.

The monthly meeting of the King's Daughters will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist Protestant church tomorrow night. A report from the president will be read.

The Sunday school which met in the Davidson block at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon was largely attended. These services are being well attended, and it is evident that much good is being accomplished by those who have the work in charge.

There was a large attendance last evening at the First Presbyterian church and the pastor, Doctor John Lloyd Lee, delivered an eloquent sermon from the subject: "God's Definite Date In Every Life." The special song service was very pleasing, and a quartet composed of Miss Margaret Baxter, Miss Sarah James, Professor Laughlin and Walter Waggoner rendered a very beautiful selection. At the close of the regular meeting a short after meeting was held.

Rev. Chapley, of Lisbon, had charged of the services at the Christian church yesterday. The services were well attended.

LISBON JEWELER'S FIX MACKEY HAS RETURNED

A Canton Woman Has Entered Suit For Money.

PART PAID WITH A RING

But the Ring She Wanted Was Placed on the Finger of Another Woman--They Were to Have Been Married, She Says, and Provided Capital for His Business.

LISBON, Jan. 30.—[Special]—Lena Meyer, of Canton, has brought suit against Emmel Ruffe, a Lisbon jeweler, for $112, with interest from Aug. 15, 1898.

The plaintiff alleges that she has known the defendant 10 years. They became engaged to each other April 15, 1896, the defendant promising to marry her as soon as he could establish himself in business. Aug. 15, 1898, he borrowed from her $112 in order to go into business, obtaining the money on the faith of his promise to marry. No note was given for the loan. She says that in violation of the terms of his contract with her he was married Jan. 12, 1899, to Amelia Shawk, and gave the plaintiff a diamond ring, which he claimed was worth $80, as part payment of the debt. But, she finds, it is worth less than the amount claimed. She sent him the ring, and sues for the amount of the debt. It is believed a suit for breach of promise will be entered.

THE ASSIGNMENT

QUARRELING WITH A WOMAN

When He Was Arrested In Zanesville Last Friday Afternoon--Doctor Beane Identified the Clothing--He Will Probably Be Heard Tomorrow Morning.

Chief Johnson this morning returned from Zanesville where he went Saturday at noon for the purpose of bringing back Charles Mackey, who was wanted in this city on a serious charge.

When Mackey was being taken to jail from the train he held his head low. He looked and spoke to no one. When he was put in cell No. 3, Doctor Beane was summoned, and when he saw the prisoner he identified the clothing worn by the prisoner as those stolen from him. He would not say anything of his actions.

Mackey was arrested Friday afternoon in company with a woman with whom he was quarreling. The police, when they were investigating the articles which they took from him, discovered a name on the back of an elk's head which was used as a watch charm. This led to further investigation which resulted in him being brought to this place.

Mackey is known to a portion of the police force in this city. He is a stranger, but is well known in Brilliant and Wheeling where he had been living before he came to this city. He will be given a hearing probably tomorrow and be bound over to court.

The articles which were taken by Mackey are expected to arrive in the city this evening and will be returned to their owner.

A VISIT TO THE PRIDE OF EAST LIVERPOOL

The Big House-Furnishing Store of The S. G. HARD CO.

A Modern Up-to-Date Establishment That Would Be Creditable to a City of 100,000 People--A Store Beside Which Most Stores are Pigmies.

The general public did not realize what the "Re-arranging of the Big Store" meant when the S. G. Hard Co. announced in November last "that they were going to make some changes," but the scribe who was detailed to write up "The Big Store" realizes that East Liverpool has in her midst a great, modern department store, worthy of a city ten times her size.

The S. G. Hard Co. certainly deserves credit for its efforts and success.

As the Carpenters, Painters, Plasterers, Electric and Gas Fitters have completed their labors and gone, and The Big Store is again in "Ship Shape," the writer was invited to tell the people about the Re-arranged Big Store, so we began in the big, roomy, airy and light basement, where is done the Co.'s immense

Matting, Oil Cloth and Linoleum Business.

Here are carried the stocks required for its large retail and jobbing trade.

Here is where the Cutting, Fitting and Packing is done.

Here retail customers seldom are taken, except for remnants, as the selling is done in the Carpet Department.

which is found on the First Floor.

This floor is more than twice as wide as most stores and twice as long.

The Carpet Department, which had been divided, is now altogether and of such a magnitude that more than a hundred customers can be waited upon at one time, and each have plenty of room.

Here in this immense, elegantly lighted room, is shown the largest stock of Brussels, Velvet and Ingrain Carpets this side of Pittsburg.

Here are more

than any half-dozen stores show.

Here are Rugs, from the small ones for doors, to the immense ones, large enough for an entire floor, in such great quantities that you wonder what the Co. do with them.

"Our Retail trade demands many and we Wholesale Many Times More,"

explains the manager.

Wholesale and Retail also explains the need of the tremendous stock of Window Shades, Curtain Poles, etc., carried in stock.

So large is this Carpet floor that a Bicycle buyer, who was investing in one of the celebrated Cleveland wheels, of which this firm has the exclusive sale, was invited to "jump on and take a ride in the Carpet room," an invitation he speedily accepted, but by so doing in no ways disturbed the numerous customers looking at Carpets and Curtains.

The General Offices

of the Co are located on this floor, easy of access to customers, salesmen and others, for

"Easy to Do Business"

is one of the mottoes.

On this floor are also shown Bicycles and Heavy Furniture, such as Side Boards, Folding Beds, Heavy Extension Tables.

By a Broad, Easy Stairway

we are led to the spacious Galleries, now used entirely for showing Rockers and Chairs.

As these Galleries were used formerly for both these goods and the Brussels Carpet, Rug and Curtain Departments, their size, as may be imagined, is not insignificant.

In fact, size is one of the features of

The BIG STORE.

From here we are ushered into an immense Hall on the 2d floor, which presented the most magnificent sights we have ever witnessed. A Hall without a post or pillar, lit entirely by huge sky lights in the center—the walls entirely covered with majestic Book-cases, Hall-trees and the like, and the center resplendent with beautiful upholstery on Parlor Suites, Couches and Baby Cabs, made up a picture of beauty not soon forgotten.

Here you certainly know how to arrange goods to get a great effect, we remarked to our guide.

We help our customers also, that's why they like to deal at "Hard's," was his reply.

On this floor also are the Art and Picture framing rooms and a number of rooms containing very choice Parlor Suites, Tables, Odd Pieces and the like.

The 3d floor is not needed as display room, but is an exposition of Chairs, Tables, etc.

The ANNEX,

a 2 story Brick building, as wide but not so deep as the main store, is immediately in its rear, connected by a broad hall. Here are displayed the entire line of Chamber Suites, Iron and Brass Beds, Bedding, Pillows, etc., for which the Co. are justly famous.

Among these magnificent collections many hours can be spent pleasantly and profitably, for on their over one-half acre of floor there is no waste space, and The S. G. Hard Co. certainly have a wonderful display of Household necessities and luxuries, which they invite you to see whether you want to buy or not.

Their force of nearly a dozen salesmen are just as pleased to show as to sell goods, for they know a pleased visitor will be a willing buyer if ever in need, and a good advertisement any way.

We have not mentioned their immense warerooms, nor stables, and fine teams for delivering, because this article is already too long, but nowhere could we abridge it and do justice to this Great Store which has done so much to glorify East Liverpool and help her people with its Cash or Easy Payment Terms.

The ANNEX,

a 2 story Brick building, as wide but not so deep as the main store, is immediately in its rear, connected by a broad hall. Here are displayed the entire line of Chamber Suits, Iron and Brass Beds, Bedding, Pillows, etc., for which the Co. are justly famous.

Among these magnificent collections many hours can be spent pleasantly and profitably, for on their over one half acre of floor there is no waste space, and The S. G. Hard Co. certainly have a wonderful display of Household necessities and luxuries, which they invite you to see whether you want to buy or not.

Their force of nearly a dozen salesmen are just as pleased to show as to sell goods, for they know a pleased visitor will be a willing buyer if ever in need, and a good advertisement any way.

We have not mentioned their immense warerooms, nor stables, and fine teams for delivering, because this article is already too long, but nowhere could we abridge it and do justice to this Great Store which has done so much to glorify East Liverpool and help her people with its Cash or Easy Payment Terms.

THE FAST YOUNG MAN

Evangelist Nash on His Daily Life.

TALKED IN A NICE WAY

To an Enormous Audience at the Association Auditorium Yesterday Afternoon. Services in the Churches of the City Yesterday.

There was a splendid audience of men present at the Young Men's Christian association meeting Sunday afternoon, attracted by the announcement that Evangelist Nash would take as his subject "The Life of a Fast Young Man."

The great pity is that the young men of East Liverpool are not more often in the habit of assembling at the Young Men's Christian association rooms, during the week as well as on Sunday afternoon, thus keeping away, in a marked degree from the accursed saloons of our city, dens which are not only ruining the bodies of our youth and unfitting them for business pursuits, but absolutely shutting them out of heaven and the presence of God and his angels.

Secretary Platts led the meeting in selections of appropriate song service, prominent among which was the grand old song of "Throw Out the Life Line," and it was rendered in manner which made the lover of humanity and human souls to thrill and rejoice. Reverend Swift led in a prayer full of pathos, asking that God might bless the meeting and those assembled, and that the evangelist might make use only of that, in his talk, which would be conducive of bringing men to a purer, a better, a higher life.

Space forbids publication of Mr. Nash's remarks. Not a word was made use of that the most refined wife, mother or sister could not hear. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to Christian sisters in a home, asserting that their power in saving wayward brothers was almost limitless. Then came a tribute to Christian mothers, loving their boys with a love second only to the love of Jesus, and many a man's heart in that audience thrilled under the burning words of truth. Nash then made use of the pith of the following:

"A professing Christian who loves to hear stories of impurity, or who loves to tell impure and vulgar stories, is a child of the devil, straight on the road to hell, and nothing will save him but true repentance and God's mercy."

Mr. Nash addressed a large audience at the First U. P. church last night.

SERVICES.

Items of Interest From all the Churches.

At St. Stephen's church last evening Reverend Weary preached an instructive sermon to a large congregation. He used for his subject "The Difficulties of the Bible."

"The Denial of a Request" was the subject from which Reverend Reinartz preached a splendid sermon last evening at St. John's church.

Rev. C. F. Swift last evening at the Methodist Protestant church preached an interesting sermon. His subject was "Seeking the Lost."

Services at the First M. E. church yesterday were largely attended. The revival services have been very successful.

The revival services at the Methodist Protestant church which have been discontinued for several days will be resumed Wednesday evening. The meeting that evening will be in charge of Reverend Gladden, of the Methodist Protestant church of New Brighton.

The monthly meeting of the King's Daughters will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist Protestant church tomorrow night. A report from the platform will be read.

The Sunday school which met in the Davidson block at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon was largely attended. These services are being well attended, and it is evident that much good is being accomplished by those who have the work in charge.

There was a large attendance last evening at the First Presbyterian church and the pastor, Doctor John Lloyd Lee, delivered an eloquent sermon from the subject: "God's Definite Date In Every Life." The special song service was very pleasing, and a quartet composed of Miss Margaret Baxter, Miss Sarah James, Professor Laughlin and Walter Waggoner rendered a very beautiful selection. At the close of the regular meeting a short after meeting was held.

Rev. Chapley, of Lisbon, had charged of the services at the Christian church yesterday. The services were well attended.

LISBON JEWELER'S FIX MACKEY HAS RETURNED

A Canton Woman Has Entered Suit For Money.

PART PAID WITH A RING

But the Ring She Wanted Was Placed on the Finger of Another Woman--They Were to Have Been Married, She Says, and Provided Capital for His Business.

LISBON, Jan. 30.—[Special]—Lena Meyer, of Canton, has brought suit against Emuel Ruffe, a Lisbon jeweler, for $112, with interest from Aug. 15, 1898.

The plaintiff alleges that she has known the defendant 10 years. They became engaged to each other April 15, 1896, the defendant promising to marry her as soon as he could establish himself in business. Aug. 15, 1898, he borrowed from her $112 in order to go into business, obtaining the money on the faith of his promise to marry. No note was given for the loan. She says that in violation of the terms of his contract with her he was married Jan. 12, 1899, to Amelia Shawk, and gave the plaintiff a diamond ring, which he claimed was worth $80, as part payment of the debt. But, she finds, it is worth less than the amount claimed. She sent him the ring, and sues for the amount of the debt. It is believed a suit for breach of promise will be entered.

QUARRELING WITH A WOMAN

When He Was Arrested In Zanesville Last Friday Afternoon--Doctor Beane Identified the Clothing--He Will Probably Be Heard Tomorrow Morning.

Chief Johnson this morning returned from Zanesville where he went Saturday at noon for the purpose of bringing back Charles Mackey, who was wanted in this city on a serious charge.

When Mackey was being taken to jail from the train he held his head low. He looked and spoke to no one. When he was put in cell No. 3, Doctor Beane was summoned, and when he saw the prisoner he identified the clothing worn by the prisoner as those stolen from him. He would not say anything of his actions.

Mackey was arrested Friday afternoon in company with a woman with whom he was quarreling. The police, when they were investigating the articles which they took from him, discovered a name on the back of an elk's head which was used as a watch charm. This led to further investigation which resulted in him being brought to this place.

Mackey is known to a portion of the police force in this city. He is a stranger, but is well known in Brilliant and Wheeling where he had been living before he came to this city. He will be given a hearing probably tomorrow and be bound over to court.

The articles which were taken by Mackey are expected to arrive in the city this evening and will be returned to their owner.

It Pays to Advertise.

A VISIT TO THE PRIDE OF EAST LIVERPOOL

The Big House-Furnishing Store of The S. G. HARD CO.

A Modern Up-to-Date Establishment That Would Be Creditable to a City of 100,000 People--A Store Beside Which Most Stores are Pigmies.

The general public did not realize what the "Re-arranging of the Big Store" meant when the S. G. Hard Co. announced in November last "that they were going to make some changes;" but the scribe who was detailed to write up "The Big Store" realizes that East Liverpool has in her midst a great, modern department store, worthy of a city ten times her size.

The S. G. Hard Co. certainly deserves credit for its efforts and success.

As the Carpenters, Painters, Plasterers, Electric and Gas Fitters have completed their labors and gone, and The Big Store is again in "Ship Shape," the writer was invited to tell the people about the Re-arranged Big Store, so we began in the big, roomy, airy and light basement, where is done the Co.'s immense

Matting, Oil Cloth and Linoleum Business.

Here are carried the stocks required for its large retail and jobbing trade.

Here is where the Cutting, Fitting and Packing is done.

Here retail customers seldom are taken, except for remnants, as the selling is done in the Carpet Department.

which is found on the First Floor.

This floor is more than twice as wide as most stores and twice as long

The Carpet Department, which had been divided, is now altogether and of such a magnitude that more than a hundred customers can be waited upon at one time, and each have plenty of room.

Here in this immense, elegantly lighted room, is shown the largest stock of Brussels, Velvet and Ingrain Carpets this side of Pittsburg.

Here are more

than any half-dozen stores show.

Here are Rugs, from the small ones for doors, to the immense ones, large enough for an entire floor, in such great quantities that you wonder what the Co. do with them.

"Our Retail trade demands many and we

explains the manager.

Wholesale and Retail also explains the need of the tremendous stock of Window Shades, Curtain Poles, etc., carried in stock.

So large is this Carpet floor that a Bicycle buyer, who was investing in one of the celebrated Cleveland wheels, of which this firm has the exclusive sale, was invited to "jump on and take a ride in the Carpet room," an invitation he speedily accepted, but by so doing in no ways disturbed the numerous customers looking at Carpets and Curtains.

The General Offices

of the Co are located on this floor, easy of access to customers, salesmen and others, for

is one of the mottoes.

On this floor are also shown Bicycles and Heavy Furniture, such as Side Boards, Folding Beds, Heavy Extension Tables.

By a Broad, Easy Stairway

we are led to the spacious Galleries, now used entirely for showing Rockers and Chairs.

As these Galleries were used formerly for both these goods and the Brussels Carpet, Rug and Curtain Departments, their size, as may be imagined, is not insignificant.

In fact, size is one of the features of

The BIG STORE.

From here we are ushered into an immense Hall on the 2d floor, which presented the most magnificent sights we have ever witnessed. A Hall without a post or pillar, lit entirely by huge sky lights in the center—the walls entirely covered with majestic Book-cases, Hall-trees and the like, and the center resplendent with beautiful upholstery on Parlor Suits, Couches and Baby Cabs, made up a picture of beauty not soon forgotten.

Here you certainly know how to arrange goods to get a great effect, we remarked to our guide.

We help our customers also, that's why they like to deal at "Hard's," was his reply.

On this floor also are the Art and Picture framing rooms and a number of rooms containing very choice Parlor Suits, Tables, Odd Pieces and the like.

The 3d floor is not needed as display room, but is an exposition of Chairs, Tables, etc.

The ANNEX,

a 2 story Brick building, as wide but not so deep as the main store, is immediately in its rear, connected by a broad hall. Here are displayed the entire line of Chamber Suits, Iron and Brass Beds, Bedding, Pillows, etc., for which the Co. are justly famous.

CAR LEFT THE TRACK

It Failed to Take the Second Street Curve.

ONE MAN WAS SLIGHTLY HURT

Because He Did Not Stay on His Seat When He Found the Motorman No Longer in Control—The Car Escaped Without Injury.

The first street car accident in many months happened Saturday night.

The last car for the East End, in charge of Motorman Dotts, was going down Washington street about 12:30 o'clock when it got beyond the control of the motorman and started for the bottom of the hill at a high rate of speed. When it reached the turn at the corner of Second street it jumped the track and continued down Washington street for a short distance before it could be stopped. The car was not damaged in the slightest, and was sent out of the barn yesterday morning without any repairs. The paint was not even scratched.

The passengers in the car were very much frightened, but the only one to be injured was Ingram Sebring. When he saw the car was beyond the control of the motorman he attempted to get off and succeeded beyond his expectations, alighting on all fours and sliding along the ground for some distance, bruising himself considerably, and also badly scratching his face. He was taken to the home of Dal Anderson in the East End and today is better.

THE PLAY TONIGHT.

The Sunshine of Paradise Alley Will Be Presented.

That remarkably effective and faithful series of pictures representing New York slum life, entitled "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley," which is now in the third season of its success, will have its first presentation here at the Grand this evening.

It is by the same authors, Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer, who gave us that dramatic idyl of New England life, "The Old Homestead." The piece is divided into four acts or pictures and represents an East River dock scene, the apartments of Widow McNally, Paradise Alley itself, and a beautiful autumnal scene in Bronx park. It is a series of vivid and natural scenes among the poorer classes of the East Side of the great metropolis.

TUESDAY MORNING

Will the Funeral Services of W. Everson Macrum Be Held.

The funeral services of Mr. W. Everson Macrum will be held at the residence of his parents, 277 West Second street, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, Dr. John Lloyd Lee officiating. Interment will be private at a later hour. The remains will be laid to rest in Riverview cemetery.

TORE HER DRESS.

A Torpedo Placed on the Street Car Track Caused Damage.

Saturday afternoon some person placed a small torpedo on the street car track in Sixth street. A lady was standing near the track waiting to get on the car when the explosion took place, and two large holes were cut in her dress by pieces of the flying missile.

Largely Attended Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Mass, who died Saturday at her home on the Virginia side, took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The services were largely attended, and were conducted by the pastor of the Free Methodist church. Interment was made in Riverview cemetery.

In the New Room.

The Citizens' National bank this morning began doing business in their handsome new block in Washington street. Cashier Blythe spent a part of the morning receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Returned to Sistersville.

J. R. Martin, of Sistersville, who has been in the city attending the funeral of his son, who died last Sunday, returned to his home this morning.

Moved to Akron.

The household effects of Frank Hugo were this morning forwarded to Akron. The family, composed of 10 persons, left on the 8:17 train for that place.

TWO I'S IN ONE BODY.

Psychologists Discuss a Sort of Jekyll and Hyde Phenomenon.

Twenty-three women and 15 men attended the meeting of the psychological section of the Medico-Legal society at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York the other night and discussed the mysteries of "shifting egos."

A paper on "Double Personality" written by Dr. William Lee Howard of Baltimore was read by Dr. George W. Grover. It was in part as follows: "This paper refers to a condition in which there is a displacement of the ego by which the I which perceives the abnormal is not the I which was wont to perceive the normal. This state must not be confused with a condition of disordered consciousness found after traumatism to the head and certain amnesic states following fevers.

"One point in which the state of second personality differs from the insane state is to be found in the fact that in the former a large part of the memory is blotted out and the mind is unable to compare present facts with the experience of the past, while in the insane the memory of remote events is often unimpaired. In speaking of double personality I refer to a psychic condition which dissociates the elements of the mind and then combines them into a distinct, separate and strange personality. During this state the individual has no recognition of his normal state. He bears a different name, has another occupation, perhaps resides in a town distant from his own, acts rationally and is fairly successful in his new vocation. He suddenly returns to his primary self and goes back to home and business. During the period of time he is another individual, a period which may last weeks or years, he has no consciousness of the existence of his normal body or no lucid consciousness belonging to that body. Under such conditions an individual has a perfect dual existence."

In illustration several cases were cited in which apparently normal persons had forgotten everything about themselves and assumed new names, taken up new work and gone to strange places. It was suggested by Dr. Howard that disease, drugs, alcohol or hypnotic suggestions might be contributing causes of the submerging of the real self by the second self.—New York Sun.

A KIND WORD FOR HOBSON.

An Explanation of His Conduct on His Recent Continental Trip.

A correspondent of the New York Times, writing under the signature of "Fair Play" about Hobson's trip across the continent, says:

There seems to be an unconscious unfairness and cruelty in a good deal of the comment on certain unfortunate incidents of Hobson's trip across the continent. I am not defending his way of meeting an unexpected situation, but I can well understand how a chivalrous, but, in a worldly sense, inexperienced young southerner could make the mistake he made—a mistake corrected before he left the country, and, as I believe, never to be repeated. How many fine young southerners have, along with a peculiar sense of gallantry, a seriousness of character which implies a lack of humor!

Those who know Hobson know him to be a remarkably able, courteous and high minded young man. He was placed in circumstances in which his peculiar sense of gallantry impelled him to conduct which, though a mistake, is no crime and should not be punished as criminal. If he had persisted in this course, or if he should persist in it, his bad taste would deserve to be punished almost as seriously as a crime. But there is no question of persistence, and he remains a deeply patriotic, magnificently brave and noble hearted youth, who still deserves, and who, I believe, will continue to deserve, the good opinion of his fellow countrymen.

Queer Result of Grip.

Thirty-nine months ago Mrs. Robert Davis of Martinsville, Ind., suddenly lost her voice completely from paralysis of the vocal organs. She could only converse in a low whisper. The other evening she was taken sick with the grip and suffered intensely. She recently began to improve, and during her convalescence she discovered that her voice had returned and was good as ever. Physicians say her voice has probably returned permanently.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Three Trees in One.

At Red Bluff Primitive Baptist church, near Waycross, Ga., in Ware county, a great natural curiosity has been discovered in the shape of three different trees in one. The original tree is a mammoth mulberry, the heart of which is rotted away. Out of the heart, five feet from the ground, grow a cherry tree and a peach tree, both eight inches in diameter. All three of the trees bear fruit every year.—Atlanta Constitution.

Sanitation Before All Else.

We shall not leave Cuba in any case until the yellow fever is stamped out. The sanitary opportunity is too important not to be improved to the utmost.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"And you say you ate horse steak in Paris? How was it served?"
"A la cart, of course."

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY

Views of the Ex-Senator on the Roberts Case.

HOW CONGRESS CAN SETTLE IT.

If the House of Representatives Thinks Its Dignity Is Menaced by Roberts Taking His Seat, by a Two-thirds Vote It May Lawfully Expel Him—Condition of Utah's Statehood. Roberts' Plural Marriages.

At the request of The Christian Herald ex-Senator George F. Edmunds, father of the antipolygamy act, has prepared an opinion on the case of Roberts, the polygamous congressman elect from Utah, which will be read with widespread interest. Senator Edmunds' conclusions will probably influence congress in determining the course to be pursued in this remarkable case. His letter is as follows:

It is now just 50 years since the Mormon political hierarchy was established in Utah. It became an organized territory of the United States in 1850, and seven years thereafter a large military force was required to induce the Mormon territorial government and officers to obey the laws of the United States. From that time onward until the passage of the act of congress of March 22, 1882, the political hierarchy under the form of territorial self government grew stronger and stronger, and polygamy had become an established and strong and growing institution in spite of the fact that ever since 1862 there had been in force an act of congress making bigamy in that territory, as well as others, a crime, and providing for its punishment. But, so far as I am informed, the act has remained almost a dead letter, and naturally so, because substantially all the machinery of administering justice was under the control, either affirmatively or negatively, of the hierarchy. The act of 1882 undertook to reform the methods of administering justice and to provide means for bringing to punishment persons guilty of polygamous practices under whatever name they might exist. The act also provided for excluding from suffrage and from official employment that class of criminals. At the time it was under discussion it was stated by those having the bill in charge that further measures would be brought to the attention of congress as might appear expedient, and accordingly congress passed a supplemental act on the 3d of March, 1887, in which it provided among other things for annulling the territorial law of Utah, under which illegitimate children inherited the same as legitimate ones.

In consequence of these laws the institution of polygamy greatly declined, and there appeared reason for believing that in a few years this blot upon our civilization would entirely disappear. The hierarchy, however, still continued to control the majority of the voters in the territory, and it was thought unsafe to admit Utah as a state until there should be a decided gentile majority of voters there. But the determination of the hierarchy was continuous and its efforts for admission persistent, until finally congress was persuaded to pass the act of July 16, 1894, authorizing the people of Utah to form a state constitution and to be admitted. It is generally known that this was accomplished by inducing congress to believe that the claim of the hierarchy that polygamy was a divine institution and a part of the Mormon religion had been abandoned and that its practice had substantially ceased and therefore that Utah ought to be admitted as a state. The only condition in the enabling act was that the Utah constitutional convention should provide by an ordinance irrevocable, without the consent of the United States and the people of Utah, that while religious liberty should be sacred, "polygamous or plural marriages are forever prohibited." The constitutional convention held pursuant to this act adopted an ordinance in the very words of the requirement I have quoted, and the convention made all the territorial laws of Utah then in force a part of the state law. But in respect of the territorial act of the 4th of February, 1892, defining and punishing polygamy, etc., the convention adopted that act only so far as it applied to polygamous marriages, the effect of which was, following the very words of the act of congress, to punish only the crime of contracting a polygamous or plural marriage, the proof of which, owing to the peculiar methods of the hierarchy, it had been found almost impossible to make in prosecutions under the acts of congress. This difficulty had led congress in the acts I have referred to to reach the evil by providing for the punishment of unlawful cohabitation.

Since the admission of the state, which was completed by the president's proclamation of the 4th of January, 1896, I have never heard of any state prosecution in respect of any of the acts related to the subject, and it is well understood that the Mormon hierarchy is in just as complete possession of the state in all respects as it was before the acts of congress passed in 1882 and 1887. This domination is not con-

It Failed to Take the Second Street Curve.

ONE MAN WAS SLIGHTLY HURT

Because He Did Not Stay on His Seat When He Found the Motorman No Longer in Control—The Car Escaped Without Injury.

The first street car accident in many months happened Saturday night.

The last car for the East End, in charge of Motorman Dotts, was going down Washington street about 12:30 o'clock when it got beyond the control of the motorman and started for the bottom of the hill at a high rate of speed. When it reached the turn at the corner of Second street it jumped the track and continued down Washington street for a short distance before it could be stopped. The car was not damaged in the slightest, and was sent out of the barn yesterday morning without any repairs. The paint was not even scratched.

The passengers in the car were very much frightened, but the only one to be injured was Ingram Sebring. When he saw the car was beyond the control of the motorman he attempted to get off and succeeded beyond his expectations, alighting on all fours and sliding along the ground for some distance, bruising himself considerably, and also badly scratching his face. He was taken to the home of Dal Anderson in the East End and today is better.

THE PLAY TONIGHT.

The Sunshine of Paradise Alley Will Be Presented.

That remarkably effective and faithful series of pictures representing New York slum life, entitled "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley," which is now in the third season of its success, will have its first presentation here at the Grand this evening.

It is by the same authors, Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer, who gave us that dramatic idyl of New England life, "The Old Homestead." The piece is divided into four acts or pictures and represents an East River dock scene, the apartments of Widow McNally, Paradise Alley itself, and a beautiful autumnal scene in Bronx park. It is a series of vivid and natural scenes among the poorer classes of the East Side of the great metropolis.

TUESDAY MORNING

Will the Funeral Services of W. Everson Macrum Be Held.

The funeral services of Mr. W. Everson Macrum will be held at the residence of his parents, 27 West Second street, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, Dr. John Lloyd Lee officiating. Interment will be private at a later hour. The remains will be laid to rest in Riverview cemetery.

TORE HER DRESS.

A Torpedo Placed on the Street Car Track Caused Damage.

Saturday afternoon some person placed a small torpedo on the street car track in Sixth street. A lady was standing near the track waiting to get on the car when the explosion took place, and two large holes were cut in her dress by pieces of the flying missile.

Largely Attended Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Mass, who died Saturday at her home on the Virginia side, took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The services were largely attended, and were conducted by the pastor of the Free Methodist church. Interment was made in Riverview cemetery.

In the New Room.

The Citizens' National bank this morning began doing business in their handsome new block in Washington street. Cashier Blythe spent a part of the morning receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Returned to Sistersville.

J. R. Martin, of Sistersville, who has been in the city attending the funeral of his son, who died last Sunday, returned to his home this morning.

TWO I'S IN ONE BODY.

Psychologists Discuss a Sort of Jekyll and Hyde Phenomenon.

Twenty-three women and 15 men attended the meeting of the psychological section of the Medico-Legal society at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York the other night and discussed the mysteries of "shifting egos."

A paper on "Double Personality" written by Dr. William Lee Howard of Baltimore was read by Dr. George W. Grover. It was in part as follows: "This paper refers to a condition in which there is a displacement of the ego by which the I which perceives the abnormal is not the I which was wont to perceive the normal. This state must not be confused with a condition of disordered consciousness found after traumatism to the head and certain amnesic states following fevers.

"One point in which the state of second personality differs from the insane state is to be found in the fact that in the former a large part of the memory is blotted out and the mind is unable to compare present facts with the experience of the past, while in the insane the memory of remote events is often unimpaired. In speaking of double personality I refer to a psychic condition which dissociates the elements of the mind and then combines them into a distinct, separate and strange personality. During this state the individual has no recognition of his normal state. He bears a different name, has another occupation, perhaps resides in a town distant from his own, acts rationally and is fairly successful in his new vocation. He suddenly returns to his primary self and goes back to home and business. During the period of time he is another individual, a period which may last weeks or years, he has no consciousness of the existence of his normal body or no lucid consciousness belonging to that body. Under such conditions an individual has a perfect dual existence."

In illustration several cases were cited in which apparently normal persons had forgotten everything about themselves and assumed new names, taken up new work and gone to strange places. It was suggested by Dr. Howard that disease, drugs, alcohol or hypnotic suggestions might be contributing causes of the submerging of the real self by the second self.—New York Sun.

A KIND WORD FOR HOBSON.

An Explanation of His Conduct on His Recent Continental Trip.

A correspondent of the New York Times, writing under the signature of "Fair Play" about Hobson's trip across the continent, says:

There seems to be an unconscious unfairness and cruelty in a good deal of the comment on certain unfortunate incidents of Hobson's trip across the continent. I am not defending his way of meeting an unexpected situation, but I can well understand how a chivalrous, but, in a worldly sense, inexperienced young southerner could make the mistake he made—a mistake corrected before he left the country, and, as I believe, never to be repeated. How many fine young southerners have, along with a peculiar sense of gallantry, a seriousness of character which implies a lack of humor!

Those who know Hobson know him to be a remarkably able, courteous and high minded young man. He was placed in circumstances in which his peculiar sense of gallantry impelled him to conduct which, though a mistake, is no crime and should not be punished as criminal. If he had persisted in this course, or if he should persist in it, his bad taste would deserve to be punished almost as seriously as a crime. But there is no question of persistence, and he remains a deeply patriotic, magnificently brave and noble hearted youth, who still deserves, and who, I believe, will continue to deserve, the good opinion of his fellow countrymen.

Queer Result of Grip.

Thirty-nine months ago Mrs. Robert Davis of Martinsville, Ind., suddenly lost her voice completely from paralysis of the vocal organs. She could only converse in a low whisper. The other evening she was taken sick with the grip and suffered intensely. She recently began to improve, and during her convalescence she discovered that her voice had returned and was good as ever. Physicians say her voice has probably returned permanently.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Three Trees in One.

At Red Bluff Primitive Baptist church, near Waycross, Ga., in Ware county, a great natural curiosity has been discovered in the shape of three different trees in one. The original tree is a mammoth mulberry, the heart of which is rotted away. Out of the heart, five feet from the ground, grow a cherry tree and a peach tree, both eight inches in diameter. All three of the trees bear fruit every year.—Atlanta Constitution.

Sanitation Before All Else.

We shall not leave Cuba in any case until the yellow fever is stamped out. The sanitary opportunity is too important not to be improved to the utmost.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"And you say you ate horse steak in Paris? How was it served?"

"A la cart, of course."

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY

Views of the Ex-Senator on the Roberts Case.

HOW CONGRESS CAN SETTLE IT.

If the House of Representatives Thinks Its Dignity Is Menaced by Roberts Taking His Seat, by a Two-thirds Vote It May Lawfully Expel Him—Condition of Utah's Statehood, Roberts' Plural Marriages.

At the request of The Christian Herald ex-Senator George F. Edmunds, father of the antipolygamy act, has prepared an opinion on the case of Roberts, the polygamous congressman elect from Utah, which will be read with widespread interest. Senator Edmunds' conclusions will probably influence congress in determining the course to be pursued in this remarkable case. His letter is as follows:

It is now just 50 years since the Mormon political hierarchy was established in Utah. It became an organized territory of the United States in 1850, and seven years thereafter a large military force was required to induce the Mormon territorial government and officers to obey the laws of the United States. From that time onward until the passage of the act of congress of March 22, 1882, the political hierarchy under the form of territorial self government grew stronger and stronger, and polygamy had become an established and strong and growing institution in spite of the fact that ever since 1862 there had been in force an act of congress making bigamy in that territory, as well as others, a crime, and providing for its punishment. But, so far as I am informed, the act has remained almost a dead letter, and naturally so, because substantially all the machinery of administering justice was under the control, either affirmatively or negatively, of the hierarchy. The act of 1882 undertook to reform the methods of administering justice and to provide means for bringing to punishment persons guilty of polygamous practices under whatever name they might exist. The act also provided for excluding from suffrage and from official employment that class of criminals. At the time it was under discussion it was stated by those having the bill in charge that further measures would be brought to the attention of congress as might appear expedient, and accordingly congress passed a supplemental act on the 3d of March, 1887, in which it provided among other things for annulling the territorial law of Utah, under which illegitimate children inherited the same as legitimate ones.

In consequence of these laws the institution of polygamy greatly declined, and there appeared reason for believing that in a few years this blot upon our civilization would entirely disappear. The hierarchy, however, still continued to control the majority of the voters in the territory, and it was thought unsafe to admit Utah as a state until there should be a decided gentile majority of voters there. But the determination of the hierarchy was continuous and its efforts for admission persistent, until finally congress was persuaded to pass the act of July 16, 1894, authorizing the people of Utah to form a state constitution and to be admitted. It is generally known that this was accomplished by inducing congress to believe that the claim of the hierarchy that polygamy was a divine institution and a part of the Mormon religion had been abandoned and that its practice had substantially ceased and therefore that Utah ought to be admitted as a state. The only condition in the enabling act was that the Utah constitutional convention should provide by an ordinance irrevocable, without the consent of the United States and the people of Utah, that while religious liberty should be sacred, "polygamous or plural marriages are forever prohibited." The constitutional convention held pursuant to this act adopted an ordinance in the very words of the requirement I have quoted, and the convention made all the territorial laws of Utah then in force a part of the state law. But in respect of the territorial act of the 4th of February, 1892, defining and punishing polygamy, etc., the convention adopted that act only so far as it applied to polygamous marriages, the effect of which was, following the very words of the act of congress, to punish only the crime of contracting a polygamous or plural marriage, the proof of which, owing to the peculiar methods of the hierarchy, it had been found almost impossible to make in prosecutions under the acts of congress. This difficulty had led congress in the acts I have referred to to reach the evil by providing for the punishment of unlawful cohabitation.

Since the admission of the state, which was completed by the president's proclamation of the 4th of January, 1896, I have never heard of any state prosecution in respect of any of the acts related to the subject, and it is well understood that the Mormon hierarchy is in just as complete possession of the state in all respects as it was before the acts of congress passed in 1882 and 1887. This domination is not con-

The last car for the East End, in charge of Motorman Dotts, was going down Washington street about 12:30 o'clock when it got beyond the control of the motorman and started for the bottom of the hill at a high rate of speed. When it reached the turn at the corner of Second street it jumped the track and continued down Washington street for a short distance before it could be stopped. The car was not damaged in the slightest, and was sent out of the barn yesterday morning without any repairs. The paint was not even scratched.

The passengers in the car were very much frightened, but the only one to be injured was Ingram Sebring. When he saw the car was beyond the control of the motorman he attempted to get off and succeeded beyond his expectations, alighting on all fours and sliding along the ground for some distance, bruising himself considerably, and also badly scratching his face. He was taken to the home of Dal Anderson in the East End and today is better.

THE PLAY TONIGHT.

The Sunshine of Paradise Alley Will Be Presented.

That remarkably effective and faithful series of pictures representing New York slum life, entitled "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley," which is now in the third season of its success, will have its first presentation here at the Grand this evening.

It is by the same authors, Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer, who gave us that dramatic idyl of New England life, "The Old Homestead." The piece is divided into four acts or pictures and represents an East River dock scene, the apartments of Widow McNally, Paradise Alley itself, and a beautiful autumnal scene in Bronx park. It is a series of vivid and natural scenes among the poorer classes of the East Side of the great metropolis.

TUESDAY MORNING

Will the Funeral Services of W. Everson Macrum Be Held.

The funeral services of Mr. W. Everson Macrum will be held at the residence of his parents, 277 West Second street, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, Dr. John Lloyd Lee officiating. Interment will be private at a later hour. The remains will be laid to rest in River-view cemetery.

TORE HER DRESS.

A Torpedo Placed on the Street Car Track Caused Damage.

Saturday afternoon some person placed a small torpedo on the street car track in Sixth street. A lady was standing near the track waiting to get on the car when the explosion took place, and two large holes were cut in her dress by pieces of the flying missile.

Largely Attended Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Mass, who died Saturday at her home on the Virginia side, took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The services were largely attended, and were conducted by the pastor of the Free Methodist church. Interment was made in Riverview cemetery.

In the New Room.

The Citizens' National bank this morning began doing business in their handsome new block in Washington street. Cashier Blythe spent a part of the morning receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Returned to Sistersville.

J. R. Martin, of Sistersville, who has been in the city attending the funeral of his son, who died last Sunday, returned to his home this morning.

Moved to Akron.

The household effects of Frank Hugo were this morning forwarded to Akron. The family, composed of 10 persons, left on the 8:17 train for that place.

Salineville Telephones.

Lineman Kelley, of the telephone office, was in Salineville today placing several new telephones.

TWO I'S IN ONE BODY.

Psychologists Discuss a Sort of Jekyll and Hyde Phenomenon.

Twenty-three women and 15 men attended the meeting of the psychological section of the Medico-Legal society at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York the other night and discussed the mysteries of "shifting egos."

A paper on "Double Personality" written by Dr. William Lee Howard of Baltimore was read by Dr. George W. Grover. It was in part as follows: "This paper refers to a condition in which there is a displacement of the ego by which the I which perceives the abnormal is not the I which was wont to perceive the normal. This state must not be confused with a condition of disordered consciousness found after traumatic to the head and certain amnesic states following fevers."

"One point in which the state of second personality differs from the insane state is to be found in the fact that in the former a large part of the memory is blotted out and the mind is unable to compare present facts with the experience of the past, while in the insane the memory of remote events is often unimpaired. In speaking of double personality I refer to a psychic condition which dissociates the elements of the mind and then combines them into a distinct, separate and strange personality. During this state the individual has no recognition of his normal state. He bears a different name, has another occupation, perhaps resides in a town distant from his own, acts rationally and is fairly successful in his new vocation. He suddenly returns to his primary self and goes back to home and business. During the period of time he is another individual, a period which may last weeks or years, he has no consciousness of the existence of his normal body or no lucid consciousness belonging to that body. Under such conditions an individual has a perfect dual existence."

In illustration several cases were cited in which apparently normal persons had forgotten everything about themselves and assumed new names, taken up new work and gone to strange places. It was suggested by Dr. Howard that disease, drugs, alcohol or hypnotic suggestions might be contributing causes of the submerging of the real self by the second self.—New York Sun.

A KIND WORD FOR HOBSON.

An Explanation of His Conduct on His Recent Continental Trip.

A correspondent of the New York Times, writing under the signature of "Fair Play" about Hobson's trip across the continent, says:

There seems to be an unconscious unfairness and cruelty in a good deal of the comment on certain unfortunate incidents of Hobson's trip across the continent. I am not defending his way of meeting an unexpected situation, but I can well understand how a chivalrous, but, in a worldly sense, inexperienced young southerner could make the mistake he made—a mistake corrected before he left the country, and, as I believe, never to be repeated. How many fine young southerners have, along with a peculiar sense of gallantry, a seriousness of character which implies a lack of humor!

Those who know Hobson know him to be a remarkably able, courteous and high minded young man. He was placed in circumstances in which his peculiar sense of gallantry impelled him to conduct which, though a mistake, is no crime and should not be punished as criminal. If he had persisted in this course, or if he should persist in it, his bad taste would deserve to be punished almost as seriously as a crime. But there is no question of persistence, and he remains a deeply patriotic, magnificently brave and noble hearted youth, who still deserves, and who, I believe, will continue to deserve, the good opinion of his fellow countrymen.

Queer Result of Grip.

Thirty-nine months ago Mrs. Robert Davis of Martinsville, Ind., suddenly lost her voice completely from paralysis of the vocal organs. She could only converse in a low whisper. The other evening she was taken sick with the grip and suffered intensely. She recently began to improve, and during her convalescence she discovered that her voice had returned and was good as ever. Physicians say her voice has probably returned permanently.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Three Trees in One.

At Red Bluff Primitive Baptist church, near Waycross, Ga., in Ware county, a great natural curiosity has been discovered in the shape of three different trees in one. The original tree is a mammoth mulberry, the heart of which is rotted away. Out of the heart, five feet from the ground, grow a cherry tree and a peach tree, both eight inches in diameter. All three of the trees bear fruit every year.—Atlanta Constitution.

Sanitation Before All Else.

We shall not leave Cuba in any case until the yellow fever is stamped out. The sanitary opportunity is too important not to be improved to the utmost.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"And you say you ate horse steak in Paris? How was it served?"
"A la cart, of course."

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY

Views of the Ex-Senator on the Roberts Case.

HOW CONGRESS CAN SETTLE IT.

If the House of Representatives Thinks Its Dignity Is Menaced by Roberts Taking His Seat, by a Two-thirds Vote It May Lawfully Expel Him—Condition of Utah's Statehood. Roberts' Plural Marriages.

At the request of The Christian Herald ex-Senator George F. Edmunds, father of the antipolygamy act, has prepared an opinion on the case of Roberts, the polygamous congressman elect from Utah, which will be read with widespread interest. Senator Edmunds' conclusions will probably influence congress in determining the course to be pursued in this remarkable case. His letter is as follows:

It is now just 50 years since the Mormon political hierarchy was established in Utah. It became an organized territory of the United States in 1850, and seven years thereafter a large military force was required to induce the Mormon territorial government and officers to obey the laws of the United States. From that time onward until the passage of the act of congress of March 22, 1882, the political hierarchy under the form of territorial self government grew stronger and stronger, and polygamy had become an established and strong and growing institution in spite of the fact that ever since 1862 there had been in force an act of congress making bigamy in that territory, as well as others, a crime, and providing for its punishment. But, so far as I am informed, the act has remained almost a dead letter, and naturally so, because substantially all the machinery of administering justice was under the control, either affirmatively or negatively, of the hierarchy. The act of 1882 undertook to reform the methods of administering justice and to provide means for bringing to punishment persons guilty of polygamous practices under whatever name they might exist. The act also provided for excluding from suffrage and from official employment that class of criminals. At the time it was under discussion it was stated by those having the bill in charge that further measures would be brought to the attention of congress as might appear expedient, and accordingly congress passed a supplemental act on the 3d of March, 1887, in which it provided among other things for annulling the territorial law of Utah, under which illegitimate children inherited the same as legitimate ones.

In consequence of these laws the institution of polygamy greatly declined, and there appeared reason for believing that in a few years this blot upon our civilization would entirely disappear. The hierarchy, however, still continued to control the majority of the voters in the territory, and it was thought unsafe to admit Utah as a state until there should be a decided gentile majority of voters there. But the determination of the hierarchy was continuous and its efforts for admission persistent, until finally congress was persuaded to pass the act of July 16, 1894, authorizing the people of Utah to form a state constitution and to be admitted. It is generally known that this was accomplished by inducing congress to believe that the claim of the hierarchy that polygamy was a divine institution and a part of the Mormon religion had been abandoned and that its practice had substantially ceased and therefore that Utah ought to be admitted as a state. The only condition in the enabling act was that the Utah constitutional convention should provide by an ordinance irrevocable, without the consent of the United States and the people of Utah, that while religious liberty should be sacred, "polygamous or plural marriages are forever prohibited." The constitutional convention held pursuant to this act adopted an ordinance in the very words of the requirement I have quoted, and the convention made all the territorial laws of Utah then in force a part of the state law. But in respect of the territorial act of the 4th of February, 1892, defining and punishing polygamy, etc., the convention adopted that act only so far as it applied to polygamous marriages, the effect of which was, following the very words of the act of congress, to punish only the crime of contracting a polygamous or plural marriage, the proof of which, owing to the peculiar methods of the hierarchy, it had been found almost impossible to make in prosecutions under the acts of congress. This difficulty had led congress in the acts I have referred to to reach the evil by providing for the punishment of unlawful cohabitation.

Since the admission of the state, which was completed by the president's proclamation of the 4th of January, 1896, I have never heard of any state prosecution in respect of any of the acts related to the subject, and it is well understood that the Mormon hierarchy is in just as complete possession of the state in all respects as it was before the acts of congress passed in 1882 and 1887. This domination is not con-

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card when making their purchases. Ask for it when making your purchases. Enforced by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE
COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER
Good only when shown in lower left hand corner of properly signed and STAMPED with the number of the quarter.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

CUSTOM TAILORS' LABEL.

The Journeymen Tailors' Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeited, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

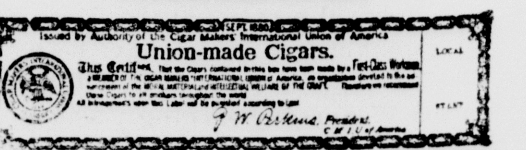

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants!

BICYCLE LABEL

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the clear-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

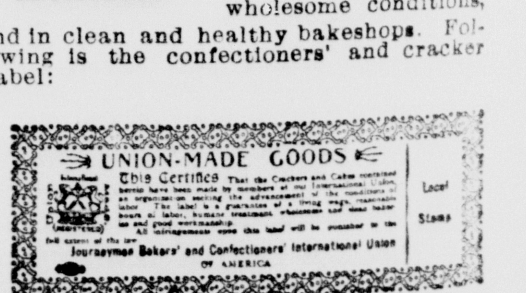

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is an evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions, and in clean and healthy bakeries. Following is the confectioners' and cracker Label:

J. D. WEST MENTIONED

As Candidate For Council In the First Ward.

COMES FROM SECOND PRECINCT

It Has Not Had a Representative In Five Years, Its Last Being William Swindells—Politics Commencing to Brighten
In All Parts of Town.

Politics is brightening in all parts of the city, and while some attention is being paid to the county primaries it cannot be denied that city business is attracting more than the usual attention for an off year.

The Republican nominations for council seem to have the lead, but few names have been mentioned beyond those members who have announced their intention of seeking re-election.

The First ward is already discussing the matter, particularly in the second precinct where the name of J. D. West has been suggested. The precinct has had no representation in five years, the last one being William Swindells. It will also be remembered that his term was during the days when there were but two precincts in the ward. The present incumbent is James Challis, of the third precinct, who has filled the position for two terms. In the second they think he has had enough and now want a resident of that part of the ward chosen. It is conceded that East End, the first precinct, should have a representative always, being cut off as it is from the city proper, and the remainder of the ward should divide the honors belonging to it. That is why the second now thinks it is entitled to a councilman. Doctor Marshall, president of council, is from the first precinct and has another year to serve.

Mr. West, whose name has so often been heard in connection with the place during the past few days, is one of the city's most successful business men. He is regarded as a conscientious gentleman, and would fill the place with honor to himself and satisfaction for his constituents.

DAILY PAPERS

Were Carried Off by a Small Dog.

The residents of Seventh street are looking for a small dog with vengeance in their eye, and if the animal is captured it will probably meet with a speedy death. For several days residents of the street have been missing their daily papers, and a careful watch was kept and finally the dog appeared and gathering up the papers departed. The animal would go from house to house and carry the papers to one place, and then enjoy itself tearing them up.

REVENUE STAMPS

Are Not Received at the Local Post-office.

Saturday evening one of the clerks at the postoffice saw two letters stamped with revenue stamps instead of the regular stamps. They were thrown aside immediately and will be forwarded to the dead letter office unless they are claimed during the week.

The letters were mailed about 7 o'clock and one was addressed to an Allegheny firm.

A FEW DRUNKS

Were Seen In the Lower Part of Town
Yesterday.

A number of drunks were seen in the lower part of the city yesterday morning. As late as noon they were seen in Union street near the railroad crossing, and a number were also seen staggering along Pink alley. They caused no trouble but were so drunk they could scarcely walk.

On the River.

Continued cold weather had a demoralizing effect on business along the river during yesterday. Rivermen are waiting for warmer weather, when a rise is expected and, from natural conditions, is bound to follow.

The Dick Fulton went down during the day and brought back a tow of empties. The Ben Hur, Keystone State and Kanawha arrived with freight and passengers from lower ports. During the last 24 hours the river has fallen one foot as a result of cold weather. The stage of water is eight feet and falling.

Much ice is going down the river, but is not heavy enough to cause the suspension of navigation.

An Old Car.

An oldtime, combination baggage and smoking car was attached to the Bellaire and Pittsburg accommodation train this morning. It was being taken to the Allegheny shops from Wellsville.

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY.

finer to matters of religious belief or worship, but extends to all the civil and political operations of the state—a concentration of power in a few hands which is perhaps without a parallel in any government having a written constitution and professing to be a government of the people.

It is now evident enough that congress was mistaken when it passed the enabling act in supposing that polygamous notions had disappeared, and that the state would go on in the same way as other states. Congress also must have overlooked the fact that any engagements on the part of the state of Utah as a condition of its admission to the Union relating to the administration of its internal affairs would not be binding in point of law and could only bind the faith of the state government, for a breach of which the only redress must be the forcible overturning of the state government, which would be simply war. The instant the state was admitted every act of congress relating to its internal policy ceased to have any force whatever. The consequence is that in point of law the state of Utah has the same sovereign rights that any other state has. She may punish polygamy or unlawful cohabitation or she may authorize it. She may declare, as congress had done, that illegitimate children shall not inherit, or she may declare, as she appears to have done since her admission, that illegitimate children shall inherit on an equal footing with legitimates.

The constitution of Utah only prohibits the ceremony of making a polygamous or plural marriage. It does not prohibit the carrying on of polygamous relations. Nor do her laws go any further, so far as I can ascertain. In fact, she is, as I have said, absolutely independent of congress in respect of the subject, and she appears from all reports to be steadily taking advantage of her opportunities and has, if reports are true, deliberately elected to congress a person in the open and notorious practice of polygamy. I am not informed at what time these alleged polygamous marriages took place, nor is this material to the question. If they took place before the state was admitted, Mr. Roberts could have been punished by the authorities of the United States. But he cannot be now. The acts of congress, while they punish cohabitation with plural wives, did not punish and were not intended to punish those who had been in the practice of polygamy for supporting those who had been their unlawful wives, but they did provide for punishing a continuance of the polygamous relation. If Mr. Roberts' polygamous marriages took place after the state was admitted, he would be guilty of violating the state law in contracting such marriages, but he would not be guilty of violating any state law in living as a husband with all his plural wives, for so far as I am informed there is no such law of Utah. In any case, as is true everywhere, statutes restraining crime are of no value unless there be a state of government, executive and judicial, willing and desirous to execute the law and bring offenders to punishment. It would seem clear from what has transpired that the government of Utah has no disposition to proceed in that direction.

In this state of things you ask, What can the house of representatives do in the case of Mr. Roberts? The constitution of the United States provides that the house of representatives shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its members. The power to judge of the election is merely the power to ascertain whether a majority of the legal voters have in the manner provided by law voted for the member, and that is all. The qualifications of the member are three. He must be 25 years of age; he must have been seven years a citizen of the United States; he must have been at the time of his election an inhabitant of the state. Of these three requisites the house is the judge. If he possesses these, the house has, in my opinion, no lawful power to apply any other or further test in respect of his being admitted to a seat. It would be extremely dangerous for a constitution to give a majority of a house the right to determine what particular sort of man the people of a state should have the right to elect to represent them further than our constitution has declared.

This is too obvious to require illustration, but when a man so elected and possessing the qualifications required by the constitution has once taken his seat the constitution brings into play another and entirely different provision, authorizing the house, with the concurrence of two-thirds, to expel a member. Upon the exercise of this right the constitution wisely imposed no limitation except that of requiring the concurrence of two-thirds to expel. If, therefore, the house of representatives shall find on due inquiry that Mr. Roberts is an open, practical and persistent polygamist, and the house thinks that in view of that fact and in connection with the circumstances under which Utah was admitted, or without reference to these circumstances, it will be a reproach to its dignity and good name to continue Mr. Roberts as a member, it may lawfully and rightfully expel him. If it does not act at all, supposing the facts to be as stated, it will have given its acquiescent approval of the conduct of Mr. Roberts and of the action of the people who elected him with full knowledge of the circumstances, and henceforth it will be justly considered that the house has no disposition to interfere with the practice of polygamy in Utah. If it does act and expel the member, it will have declared against the perpetuation of that system. Utah being now a sovereign state, with all the power of any other state, neither house of congress nor the whole government of the United States can do anything further, except by the act of war to which I have already alluded.

"A SAD NIGHT."

How Carlyle and Leigh Hunt Differed Even About the Sky.

Leigh Hunt and Carlyle were once present at a small party of equally well known men. It happened that the conversation rested with these two, and the others sat, well pleased to listen. Leigh Hunt talked on in his bright and hopeful way, when Carlyle would drop some heavy tree trunk across his pleasant stream and bark it up with philosophical doubts and objections at every interval, but Hunt never ceased his joyous anticipations nor saturnine Carlyle his infinite demurs. The listeners laughed and applauded by turns, and now fairly pitted them against each other as the philosophers of hopefulness and unhopefulness. The contest continued with ready wit, philosophy, pleasantry and profundity and extensive knowledge of books and character.

The opponents were so well matched that it was quite clear that the contest would last indefinitely, but night was far advanced, and the party now broke up. They all sallied forth, and, leaving the close room, the candles and the arguments behind them, found themselves under a most brilliant and starlight sky. They looked up. Carlyle can have no answer to this, thought Hunt, and shouted: "There! Look at that glorious harmony that sings with infinite voices an eternal song of hope in the soul of man!"

Carlyle looked up. They all remained silent to hear what he would say. They began to think he was silenced at last, but out of the silence came a few low toned words in a broad Scotch accent: "Eh, it's a sad night!"

They all laughed and then looked thoughtful. There might be some reason for sadness, too—that brilliant firmament perhaps contained infinite worlds, each full of struggling and suffering beings.

Unrecognized.

Perhaps when one makes that conversational blunder which is known as a "break" it is best to say nothing whatever about it. Extenuation only renders a bad matter worse.

Not long ago a lady was visiting the studio of a portrait painter and trying to make herself as agreeable as possible in return for a welcome and afternoon tea. She enjoyed the pictures, although in each case they seemed to her much idealized, and she went from one to another, civilly expressing her approbation.

"Ah," she said to her hostess, "you must tell me all about them! Who is this?"

"Mrs. Lorraine."
"I don't know her; charming, but of course I can't speak for the likeness."
"I try to be faithful," said the artist humbly.

"Oh, I know! I know! And who is the very pretty lady in brown?"

"That," said the other, with some frigidity, "is myself!"—Youth's Companion.

J. D. WEST MENTIONED

As Candidate For Council In the First Ward.
COMES FROM SECOND PRECINCT

It Has Not Had a Representative In Five Years, Its Last Being William Swindells—Politics Commencing to Brighten
In All Parts of Town.

Politics is brightening in all parts of the city, and while some attention is being paid to the county primaries it cannot be denied that city business is attracting more than the usual attention for an off year.

The Republican nominations for council seem to have the lead, but few names have been mentioned beyond those members who have announced their intention of seeking re-election.

The First ward is already discussing the matter, particularly in the second precinct where the name of J. D. West has been suggested. The precinct has had no representation in five years, the last one being William Swindells. It will also be remembered that his term was during the days when there were but two precincts in the ward. The present incumbent is James Challis, of the third precinct, who has filled the position for two terms. In the second they think he has had enough and now want a resident of that part of the ward chosen. It is conceded that East End, the first precinct, should have a representative always, being cut off as it is from the city proper, and the remainder of the ward should divide the honors belonging to it. That is why the second now thinks it is entitled to a councilman.
Doctor Marshall, president of council, is from the first precinct and has another year to serve.

Mr. West, whose name has so often been heard in connection with the place during the past few days, is one of the city's most successful business men. He is regarded as a conscientious gentleman, and would fill the place with honor to himself and satisfaction for his constituents.

DAILY PAPERS

Were Carried Off by a Small Dog.

The residents of Seventh street are looking for a small dog with vengeance in their eye, and if the animal is captured it will probably meet with a speedy death. For several days residents of the street have been missing their daily papers, and a careful watch was kept and finally the dog appeared and gathering up the papers departed. The animal would go from house to house and carry the papers to one place, and then enjoy itself tearing them up.

REVENUE STAMPS

Are Not Received at the Local Postoffice.

Saturday evening one of the clerks at the postoffice saw two letters stamped with revenue stamps instead of the regular stamps. They were thrown aside immediately and will be forwarded to the dead letter office unless they are claimed during the week.

The letters were mailed about 7 o'clock and one was addressed to an Allegheny firm.

A FEW DRUNKS

Were Seen In the Lower Part of Town
Yesterday.

A number of drunks were seen in the lower part of the city yesterday morning. As late as noon they were seen in Union street near the railroad crossing, and a number were also seen staggering along Pink alley. They caused no trouble but were so drunk they could scarcely walk.

On the River.

Continued cold weather had a demoralizing effect on business along the river during yesterday. Rivermen are waiting for warmer weather, when a rise is expected and, from natural conditions, is bound to follow.

The Dick Fulton went down during the day and brought back a tow of empties. The Ben Hur, Keystone State and Kanawha arrived with freight and passengers from lower ports. During the last 24 hours the river has fallen one foot as a result of cold weather. The stage of water is eight feet and falling.

Much ice is going down the river, but is not heavy enough to cause the suspension of navigation.

An Old Car.

An oldtime, combination baggage and smoking car was attached to the Bellaire and Pittsburg accommodation train this morning. It was being taken to the Allegheny shops from Wellsville.

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY.

finer to matters of religious belief or worship, but extends to all the civil and political operations of the state—a concentration of power in a few hands which is perhaps without a parallel in any government having a written constitution and professing to be a government of the people.

It is now evident enough that congress was mistaken when it passed the enabling act in supposing that polygamous notions had disappeared, and that the state would go on in the same way as other states. Congress also must have overlooked the fact that any engagements on the part of the state of Utah as a condition of its admission to the Union relating to the administration of its internal affairs would not be binding in point of law and could only bind the faith of the state government, for a breach of which the only redress must be the forcible overturning of the state government, which would be simply war. The instant the state was admitted every act of congress relating to its internal policy ceased to have any force whatever. The consequence is that in point of law the state of Utah has the same sovereign rights that any other state has. She may punish polygamy or unlawful cohabitation or she may authorize it. She may declare, as congress had done, that illegitimate children shall not inherit, or she may declare, as she appears to have done since her admission, that illegitimate children shall inherit on an equal footing with legitimates.

The constitution of Utah only prohibits the ceremony of making a polygamous or plural marriage. It does not prohibit the carrying on of polygamous relations. Nor do her laws go any further, so far as I can ascertain. In fact, she is, as I have said, absolutely independent of congress in respect of the subject, and she appears from all reports to be steadily taking advantage of her opportunities and has, if reports are true, deliberately elected to congress a person in the open and notorious practice of polygamy. I am not informed at what time these alleged polygamous marriages took place, nor is this material to the question. If they took place before the state was admitted, Mr. Roberts could have been punished by the authorities of the United States. But he cannot be now. The acts of congress, while they punish cohabitation with plural wives, did not punish and were not intended to punish those who had been in the practice of polygamy for supporting those who had been their unlawful wives, but they did provide for punishing a continuance of the polygamous relation. If Mr. Roberts' polygamous marriages took place after the state was admitted, he would be guilty of violating the state law in contracting such marriages, but he would not be guilty of violating any state law in living as a husband with all his plural wives, for so far as I am informed there is no such law of Utah. In any case, as is true everywhere, statutes restraining crime are of no value unless there be a state of government, executive and judicial, willing and desirous to execute the law and bring offenders to punishment. It would seem clear from what has transpired that the government of Utah has no disposition to proceed in that direction.

In this state of things you ask, What can the house of representatives do in the case of Mr. Roberts? The constitution of the United States provides that the house of representatives shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its members. The power to judge of the election is merely the power to ascertain whether a majority of the legal voters have in the manner provided by law voted for the member, and that is all. The qualifications of the member are three. He must be 25 years of age; he must have been seven years a citizen of the United States; he must have been at the time of his election an inhabitant of the state. Of these three requisites the house is the judge. If he possesses these, the house has, in my opinion, no lawful power to apply any other or further test in respect of his being admitted to a seat. It would be extremely dangerous for a constitution to give a majority of a house the right to determine what particular sort of man the people of a state should have the right to elect to represent them further than our constitution has declared.

This is too obvious to require illustration, but when a man so elected and possessing the qualifications required by the constitution has once taken his seat the constitution brings into play another and entirely different provision, authorizing the house, with the concurrence of two-thirds, to expel a member.
Upon the exercise of this right the constitution wisely imposed no limitation except that of requiring the concurrence of two-thirds to expel. If, therefore, the house of representatives shall find on due inquiry that Mr. Roberts is an open, practical and persistent polygamist, and the house thinks that in view of that fact and in connection with the circumstances under which Utah was admitted, or without reference to these circumstances, it will be a reproach to its dignity and good name to continue Mr. Roberts as a member, it may lawfully and rightfully expel him. If it does not act at all, supposing the facts to be as stated, it will have given its acquiescent approval of the conduct of Mr. Roberts and of the action of the people who elected him with full knowledge of the circumstances, and henceforth it will be justly considered that the house has no disposition to interfere with the practice of polygamy in Utah. If it does act and expel the member, it will have declared against the perpetuation of that system.

Utah being now a sovereign state, with all the power of any other state, neither house of congress nor the whole government of the United States can do anything further, except by the act of war to which I have already alluded.

J. D. WEST MENTIONED

As Candidate For Council In the First Ward.

COMES FROM SECOND PRECINCT

It Has Not Had a Representative In Five Years, Its Last Being William Swindells—Politics Commencing to Brighten In All Parts of Town.

Politics is brightening in all parts of the city, and while some attention is being paid to the county primaries it cannot be denied that city business is attracting more than the usual attention for an off year.

The Republican nominations for council seem to have the lead, but few names have been mentioned beyond those members who have announced their intention of seeking re-election.

The First ward is already discussing the matter, particularly in the second precinct where the name of J. D. West has been suggested. The precinct has had no representation in five years, the last one being William Swindells. It will also be remembered that his term was during the days when there were but two precincts in the ward. The present incumbent is James Challis, of the third precinct, who has filled the position for two terms. In the second they think he has had enough and now want a resident of that part of the ward chosen. It is conceded that East End, the first precinct, should have a representative always, being cut off as it is from the city proper, and the remainder of the ward should divide the honors belonging to it. That is why the second now thinks it is entitled to a councilman. Doctor Marshall, president of council, is from the first precinct and has another year to serve.

Mr. West, whose name has so often been heard in connection with the place during the past few days, is one of the city's most successful business men. He is regarded as a conscientious gentleman, and would fill the place with honor to himself and satisfaction for his constituents.

DAILY PAPERS

Were Carried Off by a Small Dog.

The residents of Seventh street are looking for a small dog with vengeance in their eye, and if the animal is captured it will probably meet with a speedy death. For several days residents of the street have been missing their daily papers, and a careful watch was kept and finally the dog appeared and gathering up the papers departed. The animal would go from house to house and carry the papers to one place, and then enjoy itself tearing them up.

REVENUE STAMPS

Are Not Received at the Local Post-office.

Saturday evening one of the clerks at the postoffice saw two letters stamped with revenue stamps instead of the regular stamps. They were thrown aside immediately and will be forwarded to the dead letter office unless they are claimed during the week.

The letters were mailed about 7 o'clock and one was addressed to an Allegheny firm.

A FEW DRUNKS

Were Seen In the Lower Part of Town Yesterday.

A number of drunks were seen in the lower part of the city yesterday morning. As late as noon they were seen in Union street near the railroad crossing, and a number were also seen staggering along Pink alley. They caused no trouble but were so drunk they could scarcely walk.

On the River.

Continued cold weather had a demoralizing effect on business along the river during yesterday. Rivermen are waiting for warmer weather, when a rise is expected and, from natural conditions, is bound to follow.

The Dick Fulton went down during the day and brought back a tow of empties. The Ben Hur, Keystone State and Kanawha arrived with freight and passengers from lower ports. During the last 24 hours the river has fallen one foot as a result of cold weather. The stage of water is eight feet and falling.

Much ice is going down the river, but is not heavy enough to cause the suspension of navigation.

An Old Car.

An oldtime, combination baggage and smoking car was attached to the Bellaire and Pittsburgh accommodation train this morning. It was being taken to the Allegheny shops from Wellsville.

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY.

fining to matters of religious belief or worship, but extends to all the civil and political operations of the state—a concentration of power in a few hands which is perhaps without a parallel in any government having a written constitution and professing to be a government of the people.

It is now evident enough that congress was mistaken when it passed the enabling act in supposing that polygamous notions had disappeared, and that the state would go on in the same way as other states. Congress also must have overlooked the fact that any engagements on the part of the state of Utah as a condition of its admission to the Union relating to the administration of its internal affairs would not be binding in point of law and could only bind the faith of the state government, for a breach of which the only redress must be the forcible overturning of the state government, which would be simply war. The instant the state was admitted every act of congress relating to its internal policy ceased to have any force whatever. The consequence is that in point of law the state of Utah has the same sovereign rights that any other state has. She may punish polygamy or unlawful cohabitation or she may authorize it. She may declare, as congress had done, that illegitimate children shall not inherit, or she may declare, as she appears to have done since her admission, that illegitimate children shall inherit on an equal footing with legitimate children.

The constitution of Utah only prohibits the ceremony of making a polygamous or plural marriage. It does not prohibit the carrying on of polygamous relations. Nor do her laws go any further, so far as I can ascertain. In fact, she is, as I have said, absolutely independent of congress in respect of the subject, and she appears from all reports to be steadily taking advantage of her opportunities and has, if reports are true, deliberately elected to congress a person in the open and notorious practice of polygamy. I am not informed at what time these alleged polygamous marriages took place, nor is this material to the question. If they took place before the state was admitted, Mr. Roberts could have been punished by the authorities of the United States. But he cannot be now. The acts of congress, while they punish cohabitation with plural wives, did not punish and were not intended to punish those who had been in the practice of polygamy for supporting those who had been their unlawful wives, but they did provide for punishing a continuance of the polygamous relation. If Mr. Roberts' polygamous marriages took place after the state was admitted, he would be guilty of violating the state law in contracting such marriages, but he would not be guilty of violating any state law in living as a husband with all his plural wives, for so far as I am informed there is no such law of Utah. In any case, as is true everywhere, statutes restraining crime are of no value unless there be a state of government, executive and judicial, willing and desirous to execute the law and bring offenders to punishment. It would seem clear from what has transpired that the government of Utah has no disposition to proceed in that direction.

In this state of things you ask, What can the house of representatives do in the case of Mr. Roberts? The constitution of the United States provides that the house of representatives shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its members. The power to judge of the election is merely the power to ascertain whether a majority of the legal voters have in the manner provided by law voted for the member, and that is all. The qualifications of the member are three. He must be 25 years of age; he must have been seven years a citizen of the United States; he must have been at the time of his election an inhabitant of the state. Of these three requisites the house is the judge. If he possesses these, the house has, in my opinion, no lawful power to apply any other or further test in respect of his being admitted to a seat. It would be extremely dangerous for a constitution to give a majority of a house the right to determine what particular sort of man the people of a state should have the right to elect to represent them further than our constitution has declared.

This is too obvious to require illustration, but when a man so elected and possessing the qualifications required by the constitution has once taken his seat the constitution brings into play another and entirely different provision, authorizing the house, with the concurrence of two-thirds, to expel a member. Upon the exercise of this right the constitution wisely imposed no limitation except that of requiring the concurrence of two-thirds to expel. If, therefore, the house of representatives shall find on due inquiry that Mr. Roberts is an open, practical and persistent polygamist, and the house thinks that in view of that fact and in connection with the circumstances under which Utah was admitted, or without reference to these circumstances, it will be a reproach to its dignity and good name to continue Mr. Roberts as a member, it may lawfully and rightfully expel him. If it does not act at all, supposing the facts to be as stated, it will have given its acquiescent approval of the conduct of Mr. Roberts and of the action of the people who elected him with full knowledge of the circumstances, and henceforth it will be justly considered that the house has no disposition to interfere with the practice of polygamy in Utah. If it does act and expel the member, it will have declared against the perpetuation of that system. Utah being now a sovereign state, with all the power of any other state, neither house of congress nor the whole government of the United States can do anything further, except by the act of war to which I have already alluded.

"A SAD NIGHT."

How Carlyle and Leigh Hunt Differed Even About the Sky.

Leigh Hunt and Carlyle were once present at a small party of equally well known men. It happened that the conversation rested with these two, and the others sat, well pleased to listen. Leigh Hunt talked on in his bright and hopeful way, when Carlyle would drop some heavy tree trunk across his pleasant stream and bank it up with philosophical doubts and objections at every interval, but Hunt never ceased his joyous anticipations nor saturnine Carlyle his infinite demurs. The listeners laughed and applauded by turns, and now fairly pitted them against each other as the philosophers of hopefulness and unhopefulness. The contest continued with ready wit, philosophy, pleasantry and profundity and extensive knowledge of books and character.

The opponents were so well matched that it was quite clear that the contest would last indefinitely, but night was far advanced, and the party now broke up. They all sallied forth, and, leaving the close room, the candles and the arguments behind them, found themselves under a most brilliant and starlight sky. They looked up. Carlyle can have no answer to this, thought Hunt, and shouted: "There! Look at that glorious harmony that sings with infinite voices an eternal song of hope in the soul of man!"

Carlyle looked up. They all remained silent to hear what he would say. They began to think he was silenced at last, but out of the silence came a few low toned words in a broad Scotch accent: "Eh, it's a sad night!"

They all laughed and then looked thoughtful. There might be some reason for sadness, too—that brilliant firmament perhaps contained infinite worlds, each full of struggling and suffering beings.

Unrecognized.

Perhaps when one makes that conversational blunder which is known as a "break" it is best to say nothing whatever about it. Extenuation only renders a bad matter worse.

Not long ago a lady was visiting the studio of a portrait painter and trying to make herself as agreeable as possible in return for a welcome and afternoon tea. She enjoyed the pictures, although in each case they seemed to her much idealized, and she went from one to another, civilly expressing her approbation.

"Ah," she said to her hostess, "you must tell me all about them! Who is this?"

"Mrs. Lorraine."

"I don't know her; charming, but of course I can't speak for the likeness."

"I try to be faithful," said the artist humbly.

"Oh, I know! I know! And who is the very pretty lady in brown?"

"That," said the other, with some frigidity, "is myself!"—Youth's Companion.

Below Decks During a Fight.

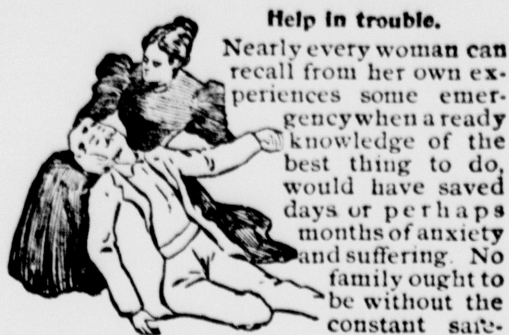

The position of the men below decks on a modern vessel of war, they being isolated by the watertight hatches and doors, has been frequently commented upon, but their position is not always so hard as has been supposed. On the Brooklyn, during the fight before Santiago, Admiral Schley sent orderlies among the men behind casemates and below decks telling them the effects of the shots and how the fight was going. When the chase of the Colon began, the orderlies went down to the stoke holes and engine room and told the men there that the race had begun and everything depended upon them. The wisdom of the action was partly shown in the outcome.—Argonaut.

People of Stone Age.

"The stone age" is not, properly speaking, an expression of time. It refers to a stage in civilization which passed long ago in Europe and Asia, but still lingers in some out of the way corners of the world. A report of La Plata museum in Paraguay describes the Quayoquis, a small tribe of 500 or 600 living near the headwaters of the Acaray river, as a true stone age people. They are timid, harmless folks, desperately afraid of the whites, and with reason, as they have been shamefully abused by them. They have no weapons for defense save bows, lances and stone tomahawks. They are undersized and round headed.

Unique Table Decorations.

The table decorations at the reception given in honor of the army recently by Secretary and Mrs. Alger are said to have been more notable for their uniqueness and appropriateness than any that have been seen in Washington for a long time. The table was arranged as ever-present help of that wonderful free book The Common Sense Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells what to do in emergency or accident or sudden sickness. It contains over one thousand pages, profusely illustrated with engravings and colored plates. It gives receipts for several hundred simple, well-tried home remedies. It instructs the mother in the care of her ailing children or husband, and gives invaluable suggestions for the preservation of her own health and condition in all those critical and delicate periods to which women are subject. The author of this great work has had a wider practical experience in treating obstinate diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-renowned for their marvelous efficacy.

Mrs. H. M. Hansrope, of Magnolia, Morgan Co., W. Va., in a letter to Dr. Pierce says: "My husband is a locomotive engineer. He came home about a year ago and just dropped in the doorway. He was burning up with fever and he commenced with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery according to directions and in two weeks he was able to go to work, without having a doctor. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription something over two years ago, and am glad to testify that it is a God-send to womankind. I have been out of health for years, and am now able to say your medicine has cured me entirely. The three children who were born before I commenced to take your medicine did not live long, they were very delicate, but those born since (three in all) are very hearty, and that convinces me that your medicine is just what it is said to be and a great deal more."

By simply enclosing 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y., a paper-bound volume of Dr. Pierce's great book will be sent absolutely free, or for ten stamps extra a heavier and handsomer cloth-bound copy will be sent. A whole medical library in one 1000-page volume.

A BOLD ASSERTION.

The Assertion Made In the Introduction to This East Liverpool Citizen's Statement Is Literally True.

There is only one proprietary article on the market which gives local evidence touching its merits; home proof to back up its claims: East Liverpool evidence for East Liverpool people. Statements from people we know in place of statements from strangers. That preparation is the one endorsed by Mrs. Mary Hewitt, of St. George street, who says: "I read in the Pittsburgh Press an account of some one who had been cured of kidney complaint in that city by using Doan's Kidney Pills. The fact of such an account being published of one living in almost the same place, had a tendency to convince me that there must be some truth in it, and I determined to try them myself. Some years before this I had a severe attack of rheumatism; for three months I lay helpless, and after that I had trouble with my kidneys. For a year I suffered severely. My back was so bad that it felt as if I had a boil where the kidneys are. I could not bend, lean back against a chair, or reach up. I could not lie on my back, and about every move I made caused pain. I had taken numerous remedies, but none brought the desired relief. Well, Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the W. & W. Pharmacy, did what no other remedy was able to do. I took them regularly for a short time, and found them to be all that the Pittsburgh paper stated them to be. I can heartily recommend them. After using them I was rid of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FRANCE ON THE VERGE.

Government Weakly Submitted to Anti-Dreyfus Agitation—The Imperialists Got More Bold.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The government's decision to submit to the chamber of deputies today a bill providing that cases on trial revision shall be brought before the united sections of the court of cassations has re-opened the flood-gates of the Dreyfus agitation. The situation appears more confusing and menacing than ever.

For days the anti-Dreyfusites have been clamoring to have this done considering it certain that among more than 30 judges they could rely upon an anti-Dreyfusite majority.

In the Echo De Paris, M. Quesnay de Beaurepaire, who, on Jan. 9 resigned the presidency of the civil section of the court of cassation as a protest against the way in which the criminal section, under the presidency of M. Loew, was conducting the Dreyfus proceedings, again justified his action in a screaming screed, and asserted that the ministers held decisive documents.

M. Loew, president of the criminal chamber, who was asked his opinion regarding the government's proposal said: "I am glad to be relieved of the responsibility, but the government's action is revolutionary."

It is thought in some quarters that the senate will refuse to accept the bill, thus producing a constitutional crisis.

The disturbance at the Nouveau theater last Friday evening, when at the conclusion of the performance of the play "The King of Rome," the Bonapartists in the house hoisted a tricolor flag, surmounted by an imperial eagle, and shouted "Viva L'Empereur," was very significant of the attitude the imperialists take in the circumstances.

SPOKE OF ALLIANCE.

Member of British Government Said He Believed America Would Aid England In a Crisis.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, president of the board of agriculture, addressing the Farmers' club at New Castle used the word "alliance" in referring to the future relations between Great Britain and the United States. The frank employment of this term by a member of the government is likely to evoke much discussion, not all of which will be of the friendliest character, inasmuch as seeking an alliance to fight England's battles is not regarded as the best policy to promote an Anglo-American entente.

At one point, he said in part: "I am glad of our improved relations with our American cousins, because I believe the true meaning of that increased friendliness is that the Americans have realized our blood relationship and have firmly resolved that if Great Britain is called upon to face difficulties she shall not face them alone, but in alliance with her wealthy and vastly populous sister country, the republic of the United States. I am confident, seeing that the two countries are pursuing the same policy and have the same ends in view, they must be friends, firm and true to one another."

Wounded by His Landlord.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—William Drew (colored) died in the hospital from a pistol shot wound received from Daniel Barnett, a white man, who was Drew's landlord. Drew attacked him and Barnett used his pistol. Barnett is under arrest charged with murder.

Gabriel Bender Dead.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 30.—Gabriel Bender, a former councilman and well known contractor, died, aged 71 years. Mr. Bender was one of the original contractors of the South Fork dam, Cambria county. This burst in 1889 causing the Johnstown flood.

Indian Girl to Teach.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—The third Indian girl to leave the High school to engage in educational work among her own people is Miss Margaret Nason, who, a few days ago, was notified by the commissioner of Indian affairs to prepare for an appointment.

Last evening six persons were converted at the after meeting at the First Presbyterian church.

The several packets which passed this port yesterday unloaded a large supply of hoop poles at the wharf.

A woman very much under the influence of liquor was seen in the Diamond at a late hour Saturday night.

The funeral of the child of Mr. and Mrs. Merriman took place this afternoon. Interment at Riverview.

Miss Tillie Beane left this morning for Lisbon where she will resume work in the office of Judge Billingsley.

George McCarron left for Lisbon this morning, where he spent the day attending to some matters now in court.

Evangelist Nash will speak on "The Way That Leadeth Into Light" at the Young Men's Christian association this evening.

Rev. Dr. Crawford, of the First M. E. church, is still confined to his bed, but improvement has been marked during the past few days, and he is much better.

Brakemen Mapel, of trains 335 and 336, is ill at his home in Allegheny. He was until the first of the year a resident of Wellsville, and is also well known in this city.

The street force cut a channel through the ice that has been a nuisance in Broadway for several days. Water from above overflowed a portion of the street and froze.

Mrs. Samuel Hay, of Spring street, received the sad news, Saturday afternoon, that her father, John Fife, of West Point, had died. Mr. and Mrs. Hay were not able to go, as they have both been ill.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Hawkins in Jackson street. Only routine business is to be transacted.

Harry Vincent, for some time a messenger at the telegraph office, left this morning for Cleveland where he will have an operation performed upon him in a hospital in that place.

The case of the Globe pottery versus Mr. Lotts for $38 was heard Saturday morning in the court of Squire Hill and judgment rendered in favor of the plaintiff. The ware attached at the wharfbat will be sold.

Charles Carragher was arrested Saturday evening at Tucker's saloon in West Market street. He was taken to jail in the patrol, and a charge of disorderly conduct placed against him. It is said another charge will be preferred by Mrs. Tucker.

Two small boys, walking with a little girl not over six years of age, was a sight of Washington street last night about 9 o'clock. The most wonderful part of the matter was that though the cold was bitter the baby had nothing on her head.

Presiding Elder Smith, of the Canton district, was driven here today from Mt. Pisgah where he has been the guest of D. J. Smith. The gentleman conducted quarterly conference services at Fredericktown and Elkton yesterday. He was accompanied by Reverend Nutt.

FRANCE ON THE VERGE.

Government Weakly Submitted to Anti-Dreyfus Agitation—The Imperialists Got More Bold.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The government's decision to submit to the chamber of deputies today a bill providing that cases on trial revision shall be brought before the united sections of the court of cassations has re-opened the flood-gates of the Dreyfus agitation. The situation appears more confusing and menacing than ever.

For days the anti-Dreyfusites have been clamoring to have this done considering it certain that among more than 30 judges they could rely upon an anti-Dreyfusite majority.

In the Echo De Paris, M. Quesnay de Beaurepaire, who, on Jan. 9 resigned the presidency of the civil section of the court of cassation as a protest against the way in which the criminal section, under the presidency of M. Loew, was conducting the Dreyfus proceedings, again justified his action in a screaming scree, and asserted that the ministers held decisive documents.

M. Loew, president of the criminal chamber, who was asked his opinion regarding the government's proposal said: "I am glad to be relieved of the responsibility, but the government's action is revolutionary."

It is thought in some quarters that the senate will refuse to accept the bill, thus producing a constitutional crisis.

The disturbance at the Noaveau theater last Friday evening, when at the conclusion of the performance of the play "The King of Rome," the Bonapartists in the house hoisted a tricolor flag, surmounted by an imperial eagle, and shouted "Vive L'Empereur," was very significant of the attitude the imperialists take in the circumstances.

SPOKE OF ALLIANCE.

Member of British Government Said He Believed America Would Aid England in a Crisis.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, president of the board of agriculture, addressing the Farmers' club at New Castle used the word "alliance" in referring to the future relations between Great Britain and the United States. The frank employment of this term by a member of the government is likely to evoke much discussion, not all of which will be of the friendliest character, inasmuch as seeking an alliance to fight England's battles is not regarded as the best policy to promote an Anglo-American entente.

At one point, he said in part: "I am glad of our improved relations with our American cousins, because I believe the true meaning of that increased friendliness is that the Americans have realized our blood relationship and have firmly resolved that if Great Britain is called upon to face difficulties she shall not face them alone, but in alliance with her wealthy and vastly populous sister country, the republic of the United States. I am confident, seeing that the two countries are pursuing the same policy and have the same ends in view, they must be friends, firm and true to one another."

Wounded by His Landlord.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—William Drew (colored) died in the hospital from a pistol shot wound received from Daniel Barnett, a white man, who was Drew's landlord. Drew attacked him and Barnett used his pistol. Barnett is under arrest charged with murder.

Gabriel Bender Dead.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 30.—Gabriel Bender, a former councilman and well known contractor, died, aged 71 years. Mr. Bender was one of the original contractors of the South Fork dam, Cambria county. This burst in 1889 causing the Johnstown flood.

Indian Girl to Teach.

TREATY TO HAVE WAY.

Likely to Consume Most of Senate's Time This Week.

FRIENDS CLAIMED CONFIDENCE.

Some of Them Announced They Would Accept No Compromise—Others Expressed a Willingness to Accept Some Such Resolution as That of Sullivan.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and, as a consequence, the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the memorable debate, both in executive session and in open senate, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from today. Senator Berry is expected to speak Tuesday; Senator Spooner, Wednesday; Senator Rawlins, Thursday; Senator Money, Friday, and Senator Chilton Saturday. These speeches will be based upon the various resolutions on the general question of expansion and will be delivered in open session.

They will, however, be practically devoted to the treaty and will afford senators an opportunity to say openly what they would say in secret session if the resolutions were not under consideration. There will likely be an effort to get the speeches in before 2 o'clock each day, in order to permit the closing of the doors at 2 o'clock in accordance with the unanimous agreement to that effect, when the treaty will be taken up formally and the executive consideration of the subject proceeded with.

Senator Bacon and Senator Mason both announced their intention of continuing their efforts to get action upon their respective resolutions before the vote is taken upon the resolution to ratify the treaty, and hope to succeed some time during the week.

The friends of the treaty are still most sanguine of success, and most of them announce that they will accept no compromise. Others express a willingness to accept some such resolution as that of Senator Sullivan.

Those professing to know say it is the policy to force the treaty to a vote before taking action on any compromise proposition, and that if the treaty should be by any chance beaten, to move to reconsider and then to consider the question of accepting some compromise like the Bacon resolution before final adjournment in March.

Almost a month of the session will be left after the vote of Monday week, so that if the senate should prefer to accept the treaty with a resolution of construction and instruction, to postponing action for an extra session, it could do so.

HULL CLAIMED CONFIDENCE.

Said He Thought Some Democrats Would Help Army Bill Through.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Interest centers in the army bill in the house of representatives during the early part of the week. The final vote is scheduled to be taken at 3 p. m. tomorrow. Prior to this the debate will be under the five-minute rule in the main, although sufficient time has been reserved to give Mr. Bailey and some of the other leaders an opportunity for extended speeches.

Chairman Hull of the military committee is confident the bill will pass, saying that the Republican disaffection will not exceed eight, while several affirmative votes will come from the Democratic side. The opposition will direct its efforts to having the bill re-committed.

ALLEGED BRIBERY.

Suit to Garnishee Funds Said to Have Been Given Campbell in the Senatorial Contest.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Judge Dempsey had before him again the motion to compel Colonel T. C. Campbell to pay into court the money which it was alleged was given to him to pay last January to Legislator Otis by H. H. Boyce, who was supposed to be acting for Senator Hanna when the latter was a candidate. A suit was filed here, and the attempt was made to garnishee the money alleged to be in the possession of Campbell.

He appeared in court and said that the money was in New York, where it was tied up by an order of court in suits filed there against Boyce, and that it could not be brought here without incurring the penalty of the court there. It was also asserted by counsel for Campbell that the money was not property of Boyce, but of Senator Hanna. This was denied and it was asserted that they could not show that the money ever belonged to the senator. Judge Dempsey took the matter under advisement.

John C. Otis is the Republican member of the legislature from Cincinnati, who claimed a year ago to have been offered $1,700 for his vote for senator. Campbell is his attorney and it was claimed that H. H. Boyce paid the money to Campbell. There are some who deny the whole story, claiming that the money was never turned over to any one or offered to Otis and suit is brought both to test the claim that was thought to have been made for effect on the senatorial contest and also for the benefit of Boyce's creditors.

The matter was investigated by the legislature a year ago by a committee of which Vernon H. Burke of Cleveland was chairman.

LOCKJAW FROM VACCINATION.

Horrible Death of a Boy From the Disease, in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—An investigation was being made of the causes of the death of William Nagengast, aged 11, which occurred on Friday. The lad was vaccinated at a free dispensary on Jan. 4. On Thursday he called to see the physician. His arm was terribly swollen. That night he was attacked with symptoms of tetanus or lockjaw, and died the next morning in terrible agony.

Three physicians attended him at the last, but could do nothing for him. The doctor who vaccinated him said he used pure lymph and applied antiseptic treatment, but when the boy came to see him on Thursday his arm was very filthy.

NINTH OHIO STARTED HOME.

South Carolina People Pleased With Record of Major Young.

CHARLESTON, Jan. 30.—The Ninth Ohio battalion (colored), Major Young, commanding, was mustered out at Summerville, S. C., and left there for Ohio. It was understood the battalion would proceed direct to Springfield and upon its arrival will be met by special reception committee, including the governor, state officers and prominent citizens, who will tender them a banquet.

A few of the colored volunteers remained here with the idea of settling in South Carolina. The people of South Carolina are much pleased with the record of Major Young, whose battalion, with a very few exceptions, has behaved in a most exemplary manner during their stay at Camp Marion.

Six Prisoners Escaped.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—Six prisoners escaped from the county jail. They were James Sullivan, charged with highway robbery; W. H. Cummings, Ralph Carnahan, Charles Reed, Frank Saitor and James Campbell, charged with burglary and larceny. Campbell was a "trusty" and Saturday night pretended to lock the cell doors into the corridor. Instead he turned the keys with the bolts outside the grooves. The bars of a rear window were sawed and the prisoners escaped.

A Witness For Mrs. George.

CANTON, Jan. 30.—It was stated here that the attorneys for Mrs. George had found a witness who will testify to standing on a bridge near where Saxton was shot shortly before the tragedy and to seeing Saxton ride past on a bicycle, to hearing three or four shots fired, and to walking toward the city in a direction opposite to that of the shooting and some blocks away meeting Mrs. George in less time than she could have reached the spot from the scene of the tragedy.

May Cut Terms Short.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—Ex-Congressman M. A. Foan and Attorney W. J. Hart were expected to begin in the Ohio supreme court a lawsuit which may shorten the terms of all county commissioners, county auditors, county recorders and county clerks. The test is on the case whereby Commissioner-elect McKenney seeks to oust Commissioner T. D. Brown in Cuyahoga county.

A Victim of Football.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 30.—Charles Ort, son of President Ort of Wittenberg college, died of spinal meningitis, resulting from injuries received in the last Thanksgiving football game.

Probably Killed as He Slept.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30.—The body found near Fort St. Philip was identified as that of Captain Sturtevant, pilot of the launch Paul Jones. From the position and clothing of the body it is almost certain that he was off duty and asleep at the time death came and that the boat was wrecked by an explosion during the night.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Big Convention to Promote It In Atlanta In April.

ABOUT 2,000 DELEGATES EXPECTED

Pursuit of Work in New Possessions and Cuba to Come Up For Consideration. Whites and Negroes Interested in Entertainment Preparations.

ATLANTA, Jan. 30.—The ninth triennial international Sunday school convention is to be held here April 27, 28 and 29, and about 2,000 delegates from all parts of the United States, several South American countries, Canada, Mexico, England and possibly India will be here. Several days before the convention the international lesson committee, of which Rev. John Potts, D. D., of Toronto, Ont., is chairman, will meet in Atlanta, to map out the Sunday school lessons for the next six years.

The Baptist, Methodist and other denominational Sunday school boards have already begun the establishment of Sunday schools in Porto Rico, Cuba and Hawaii. The international organization will take up this matter and the new territory will undoubtedly be taken in the international field. If the Philippines are permanently acquired, the work will be carried there.

A number of important changes in Sunday school work will be discussed. The work among the colored population of the south will be given special attention. Mexico has recently been taken into the field and the work there must also be considered. The convention does not draw the line at color or race. There will be a number of negro delegates and in view of this fact, two or three of Atlanta's leading colored citizens have been placed on the local arrangements committee.

The entertainment committee, headed by H. H. Cabaniss, includes among its members Hon. Hoke Smith and ex-Governor Northen. Rev. E. R. Carter, pastor of a colored church, with 8,000 members, is leading the colored people in the matter.

IRELAND'S VISIT.

He Called at the Vatican and Had a Conference With Cardinal Rampolla.

ROME, Jan. 30.—Archbishop Ireland went to the vatican Sunday, where he had a conference with Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state. Many cardinals and other high ecclesiastics visited the archbishop at the Hotel Bristol, where he is staying.

In the course of an interview he declared that there was absolutely no foundation for the statement that he had been charged to represent the United States at the forthcoming conference regarding the limitation of armaments. The United States, he said, had not yet nominated a delegate.

The archbishop was very reserved in his replies to questions respecting religious problems in America, on the ground that it was necessary for him to wait for the holy see to pass upon such matters.

MASS FOR SOLDIERS.

Sixty-Ninth New York Attended Services at Cleveland—Reference to Patriotism of Catholics.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—The Sixty-ninth regiment of New York city arrived in Cleveland Sunday morning from Huntsville, Ala., on its way to New York. The members of the regiment attended services in the Catholic cathedral in this city and a special mass was said for the soldiers at one of the side altars by the regimental chaplain, the Rev. Father Daly, one of the assistants in St. Patrick's cathedral, New York. The regiment left for the east over the Lake Shore later.

Rev. George Fahey, pastor of the Cleveland cathedral, said their presence in the house of God was an act of the sincerest patriotism. It showed also, he said, that the Catholic citizen is always loyal to his country in time of its need, alleged patriotic organizations to the contrary notwithstanding.

May Unite Two Colleges.

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 30.—A movement was on foot among prominent Methodists of this state to close up Scio college and turn the business of the institution over to Mt. Union of this city. Owing to the oil boom at Scio, rooms and boarding reached extravagant figures and most of the students left. Fire insurance companies refused to take risks on the college property because of the proximity of the oil wells. A meeting of the governing boards of both colleges will probably be held soon to take action.

Methodist Episcopal Church Burned.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 30.—The Springdale Methodist Episcopal church is a smoldering mass of ruins, the result of a disastrous fire Saturday afternoon. The ruined edifice was a model structure, and was erected in 1881, at the cost of $10,000. It was handsomely furnished throughout, and was one of the most comfortable places of worship in the county. There was $7,000 insurance on the building.

Fire Followed Sermon on Fire.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 30.—The First Baptist church of this city was destroyed by fire. It was the oldest church of that faith in this vicinity. The pastor, Rev. J. Frank Matthews, several hours before the flames were discovered, preached on the great Chicago fire.

Feb. 12 as Lincoln Sunday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The American Missionary association issued an appeal to the Congregational churches of the United States to observe Feb. 12 as Lincoln Sunday.

Church Partly Burned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—St. Luke's German Evangelical church, Belmont avenue and Perry street, was partly burned. Loss about $20,000.

CUBA'S PATRIOT MARTI.

Tablet Unveiled to His Memory—Sensible Speech Made by a Mulatto to the Crowd.

HAVANA, Jan. 30.—Four thousand persons, men in their best clothing and women gaily dressed, stood amid a pouring rain in Paula square listening to six intensely patriotic eulogies upon Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot and first president of the Cuban revolutionary government. A tablet to his memory was unveiled at the house where he was born, in a street near by, and 82 societies, consisting of 2,500 persons, with banners, flags and five bands, marched through the principal thoroughfares to the square.

Juan Gomez, a mulatto with a considerable reputation as an orator, made the best speech of the day. He counseled firmness, concord and determination as means to gain the coveted independence.

"The power which has intervened between the old regime and the one we are striving for," he said, "is unfamiliar with the ways and habits of our race, and naturally, it will sometimes blunder in its efforts to fulfill its obligations to Cuba. The Cubans must realize this and keep it in mind. They must calmly indicate a mistake when it is made and have faith that the error will be corrected."

The plan of General Gomez to unite the Spaniards in Cuba with the Cubans proper in a party whose platform should be the independence of the island does not altogether thrive in the Spanish mind.

Some Spaniards say "yes, give us the Gomez program of amity." Others are silent. As for the annexationists they are very outspoken in Havana, but more reserved in the interior of the island where they are outnumbered and far from the protection of the American troops.

The Marquis of Pinar del Rio has caused some apprehension among the Spaniards by the assertion that during his recent visit to the United States he became convinced that the American government did not intend to hold Cuba permanently. Spanish bankers and merchants decline to lend money or to give liberal credits, because they fear that the American occupation will be brief.

FUNERAL OF JUSTICE WILLIAMS.

Governor Stone and Many Prominent Persons Attended the Services.

WELLSBORO, Pa., Jan. 30.—The family and friends of the late Justice Henry W. Williams gathered at the Presbyterian church Sunday, where the funeral services over the remains of the dead jurist were conducted, Rev. A. C. Shaw, D. D., had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. William Heaks of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. N. R. Reynolds of the Baptist church and Revs. Dodge and Hills.

After the services the remains were conveyed to the family vault in the cemetery. Governor W. A. Stone, Mrs. Stone, Attorney General Ekin, Deputy Attorney General Frederick W. Fleitz of Harrisburg were among those who attended the funeral.

FOUR PROBABLY DROWNED.

Had Started From One of the Bass Group to Canada In a Boat.

TOLEDO, Jan. 30.—The loss of an entire family in Lake Erie was reported here. On one of the islands of the Bass group lived a family named Robson. The family consisted of the father, mother, a daughter of 20, a son of 5 and a hired man, Henry M. Martel. The little boy died and his parents determined to take the body to Canada. The whole family started in a clinker boat. The battered boat was found and the body of a woman reported found near Port Burrell, on the Canadian shore, is presumed to have been Mrs. Robson. The other bodies have not been found.

26 MEN STRUCK.

Stepped From Before a Train In Front of Locomotive.

TWO OF THEM LOST THEIR LIVES.

Four Were Seriously Injured—The Disaster Occurred at the Western Opening of the Gallitzin (Pa.) Tunnel, on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 30.—A gang of 26 track repairmen were working on the railroad at the western opening of the Gallitzin tunnel when they heard the approach of a locomotive which was running west through the tunnel. The workmen all stepped from the north track, on which westbound trains move, to the south track. The smoke in the tunnel prevented them from seeing the approaching locomotive, which in order to avoid obstructions on the north track was running on the south track, and struck them. None escaped without injury. The dead were:

Davis Wilt, aged 40, instantly killed. Thomas W. Sanker, aged 25, died in hospital.

The more seriously injured are: H. C. Hull, gang foreman, ankle broken. George Smith, aged 23, left leg broken.

George Guyer, arm and nose broken. Henry Burkin, arm broken. Gallitzin is the home of all of the men.

The locomotive that struck the men was running empty from Altoona to Conemaugh.

FRIENDLY TO AMERICA.

New President of the Visayan Federation So Reported—Commission to See Aguinaldo.

MANILA, Jan. 30.—According to a dispatch received from Iloilo, capital of the island of Panay, at the election held on Jan. 17 Senor Ramon Meliza was chosen president of the so-called Visayan federation for a term of two years, his predecessor, General Copeze (Lopez) being appointed commander-in-chief of the forces of the revolutionary government. Senor Meliza was kindly disposed to the Americans and it was hoped that the difficulty between the natives and the United States authorities would be settled amicably.

Six native commissioners, headed by Senor Ramon Avancena, lawyer, arrived from Iloilo by the United States transport St. Paul. They came to consult with Aguinaldo. A number of native soldiers, who had been transported, were landed on Jan. 25, in the island of Panay, about 25 miles north of Iloilo.

BROTHER SHOT BROTHER.

Terrible Accident at a Minstrel Show in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 30.—During the progress of a minstrel show in Friendship church, near Dover, Wilmer Clark was shot and probably fatally wounded by his brother, Howard Clark. The show was given by a party of young colored men and one act called for a shooting scene.

When the time came for the shooting Howard Clark shot at his brother Wilmer, but by some mistake instead of an empty weapon he used a loaded one. The bullet entered Wilmer's breast just over the heart.

Miller's Frightful Predicament.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 30.—W. E. Sliger tried to start his flour mill near here, which is operated by a water wheel 21 feet in diameter, when he discovered the wheel was frozen fast. He entered the wheel and while trying to break the ice with a crowbar it suddenly started and Sliger was hurled around many times before the miller discovered his situation and stopped the wheel. Sliger was in a serious condition.

Eagan Found Guilty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—General Charles P. Eagan, commissary general of subsistence, was found guilty of the charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman and of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline and of the specifications thereto, and was sentenced to dismissal from the United States army, but with a recommendation from the court for the exercise of executive clemency.

Private Mark Thornberry Discharged From the Service at Fort Ethan Allen and Is Now at Home—Private Beech Has the Tonsillitis and Is in the Hospital.

Three more members of Company E who served during the Santiago campaign are now privates of the regular army.

Privates Morris Carnahan, Dennis McCurran and William Shepherd last Tuesday evening went to Pittsburg and on Wednesday morning enlisted in the Second U. S. cavalry, and before evening were on board a train with other recruits enroute to join their command at Huntsville, Alabama. They like army life and will probably end their days in service.

Private Marcus L. Thornberry, who served during the recent unpleasantness with Troop K, Third United States cavalry, arrived home this morning, having received an honorable discharge from the service for physical disability. He spent a furlough in the city last fall and rejoined his command at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont. He was on duty for about a month when he was taken ill and spent 94 days in the hospital, and when he was discharged his hip was giving him a great deal of trouble. On last Friday he was given his discharge with transportation home. When asked how he liked army life he said he was glad to get out of the service as he was to get in.

Private William Beech, who is also a member of Troop K, was in the hospital with an attack of tonsillitis when Thornberry left for home, but aside from this Beech was in the best of health and enjoying himself.

Private F. R. Stutler, of the Second West Virginia regiment, is in the city visiting friends.

Private Fred Martin, of Company E, is endeavoring to secure a position on the police force of Havana. He has enlisted several army officers in his behalf and much influence will be brought to bear to have him secure the appointment. Should he fail to secure the appointment it is probable he will enlist in the regular army.

Several other members of Company E are contemplating entering the service and it is probable before another month the city will be well represented in the army.

WERE WELL FED.

The Free Lunch and Gospel Meeting a Success.

The free lunch and gospel meeting at Young Men's Christian Association Saturday night was largely attended, over 800 men being present. The lunch was composed of 1000 sandwiches, 10 gallons of coffee and six gallons of milk. Evangelist Nash had charge of the meeting, which was one of the most novel ever held in the city.

Before the meeting Mr. Nash and a number of young men went to the Diamond where the meeting was advertised by the singing of gospel songs.

MRS. MARY COBURN,

Wife of the Late Doctor Coburn, Is Dead.

Mrs. Mary Coburn, wife of the late Dr. John Coburn, died yesterday morning at her home above East End, aged 76 years and four months.

Deceased had been a resident of the city for 45 years and was very well and favorably known to many of the older residents. Four children are left to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock from her late home. Interment will be made at Long's Run cemetery at 2 o'clock.

STATE SECRETARY KLING

Will Meet the Y. M. C. A. Directors This Evening.

State Secretary W. A. Kling, of the Young Men's Christian association, will arrive in the city this evening at 8 o'clock and will hold a conference with the directors of the local association in regard to the coming state conference of business men. An effort will be made to have at least three of the directors attend the conference. The secretary will be unable to meet the Ladies' auxiliary at this time, as he is compelled to leave the city on the mid-night train.

—Edward Lewis, of this place, spent yesterday in Wheeling visiting friends.

FOUR MILES OF TRACK A DAY

Rapid Progress Expected on the Transsiberian Railroad This Year.

The latest news of the Transsiberian railroad is that the government is already laying the rails along the south-west shore of Lake Baikal, says the New York Sun. An immense ferryboat, large enough to transport an entire train to the opposite shore, which is also to have a powerful appliance for breaking the ice, is now building. Next spring the grading of the very difficult part of the line around the southern end of the lake will begin, and when this part is completed ferriage across the lake will be abandoned. It is expected to build the trans-Baikal section this season with remarkable rapidity. For a long distance toward the Pacific it is intended to lay the rails at the rate of four miles a day. While passengers and freight are now being carried from Europe to Irkutsk, it cannot be said that the road is entirely completed that far, for there are as yet no bridges over the Oka and Yenisei rivers, across which trains are transported on ferryboats.

A train de luxe runs once a week from Moscow as far east as Tomsk. Beyond that point a passenger train runs daily farther east to Krasnoyarsk and three times a week as far as Irkutsk. Only second class cars are run between Krasnoyarsk and Irkutsk. The cost of a second class ticket from Moscow to Lake Baikal is about $40, and the journey lasts 12 days. All the coaches have sleeping bunks.

The Russians are now building the road without any foreign employees, except that a number of Italian stonecutters are at work. Every seven miles a side track is built, so that if necessary the entire main route may be cleared for military trains. It is a remarkable fact that the freight and passenger movement already exceeds the transportation facilities. Thus far, however, the line has been employed chiefly in carrying beyond the Baikal to Manchuria the numerous emigrants who are sent there by the government. Two hundred thousand families were established there last year, and more than 200,000 others are booked for the journey this year.

VALUE OF TOURIST TRAVEL.

Some of the Benefits Which Have Accrued to Canada From It.

A movement has been made in Quebec to form a tourist association, and Sir William Van Horne, whose speech, delivered recently, on the necessity of a fast Atlantic service has caused much comment, has been discussing the value to a country of tourist travel. There was, he said, no reason in the world why at least 50,000 additional tourists should not be brought into the province annually, which would mean the expenditure of $5,000,000. Some of the finest buildings in Vancouver and Winnipeg were built by tourists, who, passing through these places saw their importance and invested their money in these places.

A notable example was the erection of the great Laurentide Pulp company's mill at Grand Mere, which had been built as a result of a visit paid to the St. Maurice river country a few years ago by R. A. Alger, now secretary of war of the United States. A still larger mill is about to be established at Grand Fall, N. B., as a result of the hunting trips of Senator Proctor of Vermont, when he became acquainted with the immense water power of the falls and the valuable areas of pulpwood in the vicinity, and interested his friends in the project. "Canada," says Sir William, "is full of resources that have never been made use of and that are practically unknown, and American tourists are never so tired or so taken up with pleasure seeking that they fail to use their eyes."—Special New York Commercial Advertiser.

A DOMESTIC INTERVAL.

Thomas Jefferson In Temporary Charge of the Family's Welfare.

Before retiring to the prison pen of the West Fifty-fourth Street police court in New York the other day Mrs. Thomas Jefferson, a negro woman committed to the island for five days, threw the key to her flat across the room to her husband, who was sitting on the back seat, and shouted these domestic instructions at him:

"It's five days, Thomas Jefferson, and you be good. You hear me? An doan you forget that the baby mustn't eat no meat—no tripe, nohow, an when you take home Miss Miller's washin to-day you tell her I've a very sick woman an won't be able to do her washin next week nohow, but will be all right week after next. Doan you go forget, Thomas Jefferson. Say it's grip."—New York Sun.

Mozart's "Twelfth Mass."

Whoever is collecting examples of queer typographical errors is invited to record the fact that in the proof of the notice of the Episcopal entertainment sent in from the Greenville (W. Va.) News composition room the other night the Second West Virginia band was announced as having on its programme "Mozart's Twelfth Massachusetts." We are so military here now that no composer could be expected to consider "Twelfth Mass" as meaning anything but "Twelfth Massachusetts."

THE KEELY DISCOVERIES

Investigators Find a Nest of Secret Wires and Traps.

DISCLOSURES OF A PLUMBER.

Made Pipe Connections That Might Have Been Utilized Either For Gas or Electric Power—A New Mystery Revealed In a Back Room—What Keely's Legatee Says.

"The whole place was a fraud, from cellar to garret," was the remark made by Professor Spangler of the University of Pennsylvania at a meeting of the Engineers' club in Philadelphia when the laboratory of John W. Keely was under discussion. Discoveries of secret traps and tubes in the dismantled building furnish cumulative evidence that the inventor concealed beneath the floors and in the walls the tubes through which he conveyed compressed air to his motor.

In his investigation at the laboratory the other day Clarence B. Moore, son of Mrs. Bloomfield Moore, was assisted by E. A. Scott, an electrical engineer, and George W. Arnold, a plumber and gas-fitter who had done considerable work for Keely before his death. On the ground floor of the laboratory were three rooms. The great steel sphere was under the floor of the middle room. No stranger was ever permitted by Keely in the middle or the back room.

Arnold said he ran certain gas and water pipes into the building years ago. In this middle room, he said, there was a large cylindrical tank in the southwest corner. In the back room, which was in a one story annex, there was an electrical battery, but he could not tell what it was connected with. He said, however, that there were gas pipes with wires running through them. He said that about two years ago he made a gas connection with a gas motor which stood in the front room and showed where it had been disconnected and the end of the pipe capped. This motor stood at the rear end of a large workbench on the north wall.

The back room disclosed a new mystery. A small trap in the wood of the ceiling in the northeast corner opened into a space about one foot high. A half brick had been cut out of the wall of the two story building, through which a silver polished steel rod 7 feet 3 inches long and five-eighths of an inch in diameter was thrust, running east and west over the ceiling of the room and projecting through a hole under the eaves. In a line with this rod and under the floor of the rear room in the second story was a thick metal plug with a long screw, which was screwed through a joist. This plug was pierced with a small hole, terminating in a tube about half an inch inside diameter. This tube had been cut off.

The plug and tube were directly under the revolving ball, which stood in the northwest corner of the second story back room. This ball would roll over just as many times as the visitor would name. Keely sat in the middle room looking through a small window between the two rooms and sounding a mouth organ. There were two auger holes bored through the floor at that point. Just what office the steel rod performed is not apparent, but at one point on the rod, which was considerably corroded, there was a polished place where the rod had evidently rested on a bearing. The bright surface ran half way around, showing that the rod had had a rocking motion.

In the northeast corner of the back room there were a water connection and a sewer connection. Everything had been torn away. There may have been a water motor there. Several holes were cut through the brick wall. The motor was located in a room on the second story. It was fastened to the floor by heavy bolts and braced against the wall to a thick wooden strip running perpendicularly on the wall. The floor showed a large auger hole at the foot of the wooden strip and three large auger holes where a heavy iron rod—probably a tube—with a long iron foot ran from the front of the machine to the floor.

The floor was covered with heavy oil-cloth, which was torn up, revealing the holes and several small traps where short pieces of the floor boards could be lifted out. It also showed grooves in the heavy joists, where tubes had probably been run. The facilities afforded to conceal any kind of tubes or wires between the floor and the wooden ceiling below were ample for every purpose. A photograph taken three years ago shows that this heavy rod or tube with its iron foot covered these auger holes and that electric or pneumatic power could have been readily transmitted either through these holes or the hole at the foot of the wooden strip on the wall.

There was not a wall or a floor that was not pierced with holes and traps. A disconnected insulated electric wire, which came in over a window on the second floor, showed that Keely had at one time been connected with an electric light station, the outside fixtures being still in place. The Columbia company's station is but two doors above the laboratory.

of the Keely motor, who is at present engaged in experiments at Jamaica Plain to discover if possible the secret of the inventor, said recently that the discovery of tubing, from which, it is alleged, compressed air had been the force utilized in Keely's experiments, amounted to nothing. Mr. Kinraid was asked if it was true or not that there was tubing used in connection with the great steel sphere, thus forming an agency for the forces that moved the motor in the exhibition room. "I cannot make any reply to that direct question in view of my position with the company," he said.—New York Herald.

Relics of Mound Builders.

While prospecting recently on the site of the village of the prehistoric mound builders, near Fort Ancient, O., Clifford Anderson, a farmer, found some portions of human skeletons, stone hatchets, arrowheads and pottery and other relics of the past. The place is to be thoroughly investigated. It is only a few hundred yards from the largest earthwork in the United States—Fort Ancient—which is 3½ miles in circumference. The earthwork has frequently been explored, but its history is not completely known, and Anderson's discovery may go toward solving the mystery of its construction.—New York Tribune.

The Comic Valentine Man.

[The comic valentine man is working night and day now.—Exchange.]

Where is the home of the valentine man—That's what we're wanting to know—The fellow who vexes And sorely perplexes All suffering mortals below? Does he dwell near the sky and the snow In an attic they built long ago? Is he down in a basement With barred and barred casement? Oh, that's what we're wanting to know!

Where is the home of the valentine man? For many a grudge do we owe, And for one that would praise him A dozen would "haze" him And consign him to regions below! He's as busy today as a bee Making trouble for you and for me, Or single or double He's making us trouble—Oh, where can his dwelling place be?

They say that the valentine man, Who cares not for peasant or prince, By a fair maid was slighted—His life, it was blighted, And that he's been mad ever since. So within an impassable wall He takes his revenge on us all, Though the devil may take him, We never forsake him—Here's a health to his honey and gall! —E. L. Stanton in Atlanta Constitution.

SURVEYORS AT WORK

Chief Engineer Zollinger and His Corps Are at It.

LOOKING FOR THE BEST GRADE

Between Lisbon and East Liverpool--They Will Try a Number of Lines--Work Was Commenced Last Saturday Morning. Mr. Francis' View.

J. L. Francis, who has been here for several months in the interests of the proposed East Liverpool-Lisbon electric line, returned Saturday night from the county seat after an important conference held in that place.

To the News Review Mr. Francis stated that a party of eight men in charge of Chief Engineer Zollinger, of Louisville, Ky., began the survey Saturday morning. They will be assisted by a number of persons residing in the country through which the line will be built. It is the engineer's duty to find the shortest route between Lisbon and Liverpool, and the ground will be gone over carefully. A number of lines will be surveyed as soon as possible. At first, it was believed, the road need not be longer than 17 miles, but now it seems as though it will be necessary to build 25 miles, although that is not definitely known.

Mr. Francis said the coal territory has been thoroughly tested within the past three months, the borings showing satisfactory results. But little has been done here during recent months looking to subscriptions, but Mr. Francis has perfect faith in his project and only waited until the American Potteries' company matter was settled and the city once more assumed its usual business activity.

Prospects for the construction of the road are brighter at present than at any time in its history.

LOST TWO BARGES.

Part of a Tow Went to the Bottom of the River.

The towboat Pacific No. 2 met with a mishap at Smith's Ferry Saturday afternoon which will prove costly to the firm owning the craft, the Pacific Coal company.

The boat had a large tow of coal and passed Merriman, at present considered the most dangerous place in the Ohio channel, in safety. The boat had 17 barges when it passed Rochester, and at Wellsville the firm was notified that two had been lost. The barges began leaking, and although the crew did all in their power to save them, they went to the bottom in a short time.

It is probable the firm will attempt to recover the coal as it would cause them much loss if allowed to remain in the river.

THEY DO NOT STAY.

Tramps Beg and Then Hasten to Leave.

The plan of Mayor Bough to make tramps work on the streets of the city is not working well because the tramps seem to have heard all about it, and lose no time in passing through town.

The order, however, does not prevent tramps from begging, and many of them leave the railroad when they reach the outskirts of the city, beg along some street until they have secured what they want, and then hasten to quit the town. Few tramps have been seen in the business part of town for several days.

SAW THE GRANT GO.

The Transport Was Filled With Soldiers and Looked Well.

Joseph Dennis, formerly office boy at the News Review but at present residing in Brooklyn, writes that he saw the United States transport Grant leave its dock the other day, filled with cheering soldiers of the Seventeenth infantry bound for Manila.

Mr. Dennis was particularly interested because the Grant was formerly the Mohawk on which the Eighth Ohio came from Cuba. The transport has been repaired and refitted, and Mr. Dennis says presented a splendid appearance.

M. F. Walker, a United States prisoner, has been transferred from the jail at Troy to that in Steubenville. The transfer was made by the request of Congressman Danford to Attorney General Griggs.

It will be remembered that Walker is being held on a charge of robbing the mails while employed as a mail clerk on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road between Wellsville and Bellaire.

ODD NASAL OPERATION.

How a Noseless Man Had a New One Grafted on Him.

Herman Wade of Chicago was once a noseless man. Now he is the proudest Cyrano of them all. He has had a nose put on him, and Dr. J. T. Thoren of the County hospital is the man who put it on. The operation was long and complicated. This is the story of it as nearly correct as a layman can tell it: First Herman stretched himself out on his back, and the doctor cut a little slit in the middle of his face where the nose ought to be and turned the skin back.

Then he took a fine young hen, peeled it under the wing and laid bare the flesh. Herman's face and the chicken's breast were put together. Bandaged tightly, the two had to live together for 11 days. The chicken got the best things to eat which the County hospital had, and every care was taken to prevent its dying. Before long even the doctor couldn't tell where Herman left off and the chicken began. Then another operation was necessary. Enough flesh for a good sized nose was cut out of the chicken's breast. Quickly it was shaped and molded till it suited the doctor's artistic eye. Then over it was put a covering of skin from the man's breast. The work was done. When Herman got over the effects of the chloroform, there was his nose waiting for him.—Chicago Times-Herald.

TORTURED TO END SLEEP.

Girl's Neck and Shoulders Burned With Heated Aluminum Points.

Miss Eva Roch of Montreal, the victim of 28 days of lethargic sleep following an attack of hysterics, was awakened the other day by Drs. Rivet, Simard and Lauzon, who applied actual cautery on the neck and along the spinal column down to the middle of the shoulders. At the first three or four burns applied the young woman revived and uttered a faint moan as if suffering from pain.

The operation was continued until about 50 applications had been made, but lightly. She was then perfectly conscious and seemed surprised at the sight of the doctors. "My God, my God!" she exclaimed in a weak voice. "What has happened?" She recognized her parents. The doctors are satisfied that she was perfectly unconscious of all that took place during her long sleep. The points used in burning her were made of aluminium and heated in a joined benzine and alcohol flame.—Special New York World.

A PROBABLE CLEW.

Young Man Told a Story to New York Police—May Solve the Poison Mystery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—George W. Koutnik, a young man living in Hoboken, N. J., told the police that on the evening of Dec. 23 he had met a man at Madison avenue and Fortieth street, who asked him to deliver a package addressed to Harry Cornish at the Knickerbocker Athletic club. This he refused to do, he said, but agreed to mail the package at the general postoffice, which he did. According to his story, also, the man from whom he received the package answered the description of one of the men prominently mentioned in the poisoning case. Koutnik was taken before Chief Devery and Captain McCuskey, District Attorney Gardner and others at police headquarters, and after the conference Captain McCuskey said that Koutnik had practically repeated the story to the officials as he had originally told it. Koutnik was thereupon detained as a witness in the case.

Roland B. Molineux, with his counsel, Bartow S. Weeks and George Gordon Battle, had also an hour's conference with the police, but the nature of it was not disclosed.

MAY GET $28,000,000.

British Admiralty May Pay That For a Yankee Invention.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—H. M. Buck, a watchmaker, of Thompsonville, Conn., invented a rotary cylinder which is designed to increase the speed of steamships 50 per cent and at the same time do away entirely with the vibration of vessels. His method is to utilize all the expansion of steam for driving power, thus avoiding the waste, which in the cylinders now in use is computed at 98 per cent. It is this waste which requires the enormous coal consumption of modern steam vessels and the appropriation of an abnormally large space in the vessel's hull for coal bunkers.

Mr. Buck opened negotiations with the British government. A British agent tested it very thoroughly and approved it. He went back to England about two weeks ago, taking a duplicate model with him. He made the following contract with the inventor: The board of admiralty is to construct a cylinder and test it thoroughly for six days. If at the end of this time it is judged successful Mr. Buck is to get $9,000,000. If a second test of 60 days is likewise successful he is to get an additional $9,000,000 and a final successful test of 40 days' duration is to bring an additional $10,000,000, or $28,000,000 in all.

It is the purpose of the British government to use the cylinder in their warships.

Old Woman Murdered.

PANA, Ill., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Mary McIntire, a wealthy widow 60 years old, was found murdered in her home. She was supposed to have kept considerable money about her. She lived alone. Mr. McIntire's body was found chopped almost to pieces and thrown under a bed. Everything of value had been carried away by the murderers. Mrs. McIntire is said to have sympathized with the union miners in their struggle against negro labor. Her house had been fired upon a number of times.

JOHN J. LENTZ, congressman representing the Columbus district, seems to be the choice of a good many Democrats for governor. There is danger, however, in giving him the doubtful honor. He might sink into that oblivion that has been the lot of other Democrats who have sought the same position, and the Republican paragon of Central Ohio would be deprived of a useful and interesting figure.

BRYAN'S POSITION.

From the present until after the Democratic national convention has selected a candidate anything that President McKinley may do will be wrong, possibly criminal, in the eyes of the untainted who would like well to fill his position. Particularly is this true of William Jennings Bryan, who resigned the command of a regiment of volunteers when he learned they were to see service in Cuba. He, it seems, would rather work at scratching down the government at home than aid in upholding its prestige in Cuba.

MR. HANNA IS OUT.

Ohio Republicans will hear with no little satisfaction that Senator Hanna has no candidate for governor and his influence will not be brought into the contest preceding election. The announcement virtually means a free field and a fair fight with the honors of victory for the best man engaged.

The only other matter to enter into the contest is the loyalty of the contestants to President McKinley. This is his state and the man to be its next governor should believe in the principles upon which the President stands. Unless he does that honestly he should have no place upon the Republican ticket. Ohio Republicans will support no man who does not support William McKinley.

CHEAP GAS.

If the people of East Liverpool, who are listed as customers of the gas companies, do not use a cubic foot of the aeriform fluid they are charged $1 per month for the privilege of being known as consumers. They may for some reason be away from home during that time, or the companies may not have sufficient gas at the rate charged to supply each customer with it to the amount of $1, but the collection is nevertheless made. Should the weather not warrant the use of so much gas, the companies proceed to collect just the same.

The rule is unjust. It is based upon no principle that can be classed as honest business. There is, therefore, no reason why the city should permit it. Councilmen are elected for the purpose of protecting the interests of the people they serve as well as for the transaction of such other business as may come before them. They are not doing their duty when they refuse to demand fair and honest dealing from the gas companies for their constituents. The people do not ask gas for nothing. They are willing to pay the right rate for what they use, but not a consumer in the city is willing to pay for what he does not receive. Gas, if listed at ten cents a thousand, would not then be cheap.

WELLSVILLE.

TO SETTLE AFFAIRS

Reverend Laverty Has Gone to Los Angeles.

WILL BE ABSENT A MONTH

Evangelist Cornell Continues to Draw Large Crowds to the Methodist Episcopal Church--Spoke Five Times Yesterday--All the News.

Rev. L. Finley Laverty left today for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will be absent for a month. It was the understanding that if Reverend Laverty came at once to take charge of the First Presbyterian church he could have the month of February in which to return to his old home and pack his household furniture and adjust things there so as to leave it permanently. Rev. George N. Johnson, of Pittsburg, will fill the pulpit while the pastor is away.

Good Meetings.

Evangelist Cornell continues the meetings at the Methodist Episcopal church. The meetings are well attended, and at night the house is crowded. Yesterday Mr. Cornell spoke five times.

The afternoon meeting, for men only, was well attended. The theme dealt with Samson slaying the lion and the various lions young men meet as they pass through society. He gave excellent advice as to the best manner of dealing with them.

Acknowledged the Debt.

The case of Rebecca Aughenbaugh against A. J. Powell for the sum of $26.30, claimed due for rent, was before Squire Riley at 9 o'clock this morning.

Attorney Snediker represented the plaintiff and Charles E. Boyd the defendant. Judgment for whole amount was rendered by confession.

Dismissed the Case.

The case of Zimri Whitacre against William Sams which was set for 7 o'clock Saturday evening came before Mayor Dennis at that hour, but as there was no evidence against him the case was dismissed and Sams was allowed to go free. He spent several days in the city hotel.

News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Dollie Dittmer, who was sent for on account of the serious illness of her father, Jacob Henze, left today for her home in New Philadelphia, leaving her father improved in health.

Engine 611, which has been undergoing repairs at the shops, took out the morning train to Cleveland.

The executive committee of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will meet tonight at the home of Miss Mary Cope, Main street.

William Ingram, of Congo, who has been confined to his home with grip for several days, was able to fill his place in his class in school today.

Miss Gertrude Rudybush has been sick for the past week with the grip.

The members of the social committee of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church, meet tonight with Mrs. Charles Andrews, in Eighth street.

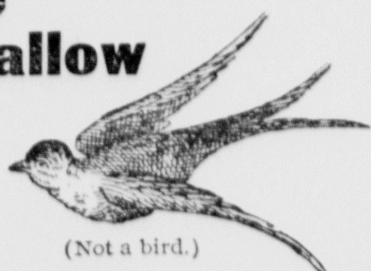

The ladies of the Church of the Immaculate Conception are preparing for an oyster supper and social to be given Feb. 14.

Doctor McFarland is having to take some of his own medicine. He has been on the sick list for the past two weeks.

Miss Sophia James is visiting relatives in Dennison.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zimmer, who recently went to housekeeping in the McLean property on Main street, will hereafter make their home in Adamsville, where Mr. Zimmer has taken a position with a drug firm.

CONKLE'S TURN.

He Has Brought Suit Against Tullis to Recover What He Lost In Mayors' Court.

The case of Samuel Conkle against J. Frank Tullis for $71, to have been heard this morning in the court of Squire Rose, was postponed until Thursday morning. The amount sued for is the costs and damages arising from the recent action in which Tullis sued Conkle to recover $247 which he claimed to have lost in gambling. Tullis lost the case.

A BEAUTIFUL RAINBOW.

It Was In the East a Little South of the Sun.

A strange phenomenon was witnessed by a great many persons in the city this morning about 8 o'clock.

It took the form of a rainbow and occupied a place in the sky a little south of the sun. The colors shown beautifully, and for almost half an hour it was visible. At one time it was beautifully bright, and seemed fairly to blaze.

The phenomenon attracted much attention, and many persons who saw it stood in the cold until it had passed away.

ST. CLAIR IS SICK.

Almost the Entire Township Has the Grip.

St. Clair township is ill. In almost every house someone can be found suffering from the dreaded malady. To the present there have been few deaths, and while a great many persons are very ill none are considered in a dangerous condition.

Among those who are very ill are Mrs. George McKee and Mrs. K. Y. Hart, who are well known in this city.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS

May Cause a Meeting of the Board of Health.

Every possible effort will be made to have a regular meeting of the board of health Friday evening, as there is some important business to transact.

The board has not held a meeting for several months, and in the meantime business has been accumulating.

Those Who Are Ill.

Mrs. W. A. Weaver, who has been seriously ill, is somewhat improved today. Doctor Dake, of Pittsburg, was called here Saturday afternoon in consultation.

Mrs. John Palmer, of Lisbon street, is suffering from a severe attack of malaria. Her condition is serious.

Elmer McCord, who has been confined to his rooms in West Market street suffering with an attack of fever, is able to be out.

Patsy Kernen, who has been ill with grip for several weeks, is improving and is now able to be out.

Mr. Beane From Boston.

Numerous farce comedies have been presented here at various intervals, but none so mirthful and effervescent as the new version of "Mr. Beane From Boston" which the famous Brothers Gorman, John, James and George bring to the Grand Wednesday next. Not a single member of the present company, with the exception of the stars, has ever been seen in this city, and the general opinion of both press and public of the different cities visited is that the supporting company is superior to any the Gorman Bros., have heretofore had.

The Citizens' National bank have moved to their new building, corner Sixth and Washington.

To Supersede Acetylene Gas.

It is announced that carbolite can be manufactured from blast furnace slag. Carbolite is necessary to the production of ethylene gas, which it is said, is better than acetylene gas, though possessing the excellencies of the latter. To make this new substance slag, while molten, is poured into converters such as are used for the manufacture of Bessemer steel, and pulverized coke is blown through the liquid mass by means of the air blast. Next the melted slag, thoroughly permeated by the pulverized coke, is subjected to electric treatment, by means of which the slag is fused with the coke. Then the mass is poured off into molds and allowed to cool, after which it is boxed with tin and wood and becomes carbolite in a commercial form. One of the inventor's claims is that this material will produce a gas superior to acetylene at much less cost—an announcement of unusual importance if it is well founded.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Minister's Mistake.

This story is told of a prominent preacher: On a hot Sabbath as he was preaching he took from his pocket what he thought was his handkerchief, shook it out and wiped his face, intently talking all the time. To his surprise a broad smile was on every face in his audience, when he discovered that what he had put in his pocket for a handkerchief that morning was a pair of his little child's drawers, the legs of which were quite visible as he wiped the perspiration from his face.—Homiletic Review.

THE FAST YOUNG MAN

Evangelist Nash on His Daily Life.

TALKED IN A NICE WAY

To an Enormous Audience at the Association Auditorium Yesterday Afternoon. Services in the Churches of the City Yesterday.

There was a splendid audience of men present at the Young Men's Christian association meeting Sunday afternoon, attracted by the announcement that Evangelist Nash would take as his subject "The Life of a Fast Young Man."

The great pity is that the young men of East Liverpool are not more often in the habit of assembling at the Young Men's Christian association rooms, during the week as well as on Sunday afternoon, thus keeping away, in a marked degree from the accursed saloons of our city, dens which are not only ruining the bodies of our youth and unfitting them for business pursuits, but absolutely shutting them out of heaven and the presence of God and his angels.

Secretary Platts led the meeting in selections of appropriate song service, prominent among which was the grand old song of "Throw Out the Life Line," and it was rendered in manner which made the lover of humanity and human souls to thrill and rejoice. Reverend Swift led in a prayer full of pathos, asking that God might bless the meeting and those assembled, and that the evangelist might make use only of that, in his talk, which would be conducive of bringing men to a purer, a better, a higher life.

Space forbids publication of Mr. Nash's remarks. Not a word was made use of that the most refined wife, mother or sister could not hear. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to Christian sisters in a home, asserting that their power in saving wayward brothers was almost limitless. Then came a tribute to Christian mothers, loving their boys with a love second only to the love of Jesus, and many a man's heart in that audience thrilled under the burning words of truth. Nash then made use of the pith of the following:

"A professing Christian who loves to hear stories of impurity, or who loves to tell impure and vulgar stories, is a child of the devil, straight on the road to hell, and nothing will save him but true repentance and God's mercy."

Mr. Nash addressed a large audience at the First U. P. church last night.

SERVICES.

Items of Interest From all the Churches.

At St. Stephen's church last evening Reverend Weary preached an instructive sermon to a large congregation. He used for his subject "The Difficulties of the Bible."

"The Denial of a Request" was the subject from which Reverend Reinartz preached a splendid sermon last evening at St. John's church.

Rev. C. F. Swift last evening at the Methodist Protestant church preached an interesting sermon. His subject was "Seeking the Lost."

Services at the First M. E. church yesterday were largely attended. The revival services have been very successful.

The revival services at the Methodist Protestant church which have been discontinued for several days will be resumed Wednesday evening. The meeting that evening will be in charge of Reverend Gladden, of the Methodist Protestant church of New Brighton.

The monthly meeting of the King's Daughters will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist Protestant church tomorrow night. A report from the president will be read.

The Sunday school which met in the Davidson block at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon was largely attended. These services are being well attended, and it is evident that much good is being accomplished by those who have the work in charge.

There was a large attendance last evening at the First Presbyterian church and the pastor, Doctor John Lloyd Lee, delivered an eloquent sermon from the subject: "God's Definite Date in Every Life." The special song service was very pleasing, and a quartet composed of Miss Margaret Baxter, Miss Sarah James, Professor Laughlin and Walter Waggoner rendered a very beautiful selection. At the close of the regular meeting a short after meeting was held.

Rev. Chapley, of Lisbon, had charged of the services at the Christian church yesterday. The services were well attended.

LISBON JEWELER'S FIX MACKEY HAS RETURNED

A Canton Woman Has Entered Suit For Money.

PART PAID WITH A RING

But the Ring She Wanted Was Placed on the Finger of Another Woman--They Were to Have Been Married, She Says, and Provided Capital for His Business.

LISBON, Jan. 30.—[Special]—Lena Meyer, of Canton, has brought suit against Emuel Ruffe, a Lisbon jeweler, for $112, with interest from Aug. 15, 1898.

The plaintiff alleges that she has known the defendant 10 years. They became engaged to each other April 15, 1896, the defendant promising to marry her as soon as he could establish himself in business. Aug. 15, 1898, he borrowed from her $112 in order to go into business, obtaining the money on the faith of his promise to marry. No note was given for the loan. She says that in violation of the terms of his contract with her he was married Jan. 12, 1899, to Amelia Shawk, and gave the plaintiff a diamond ring, which he claimed was worth $80, as part payment of the debt. But, she finds, it is worth less than the amount claimed. She sent him the ring, and sues for the amount of the debt. It is believed a suit for breach of promise will be entered.

QUARRELING WITH A WOMAN

When He Was Arrested In Zanesville Last Friday Afternoon--Doctor Beane Identified the Clothing--He Will Probably Be Heard Tomorrow Morning.

Chief Johnson this morning returned from Zanesville where he went Saturday at noon for the purpose of bringing back Charles Mackey, who was wanted in this city on a serious charge.

When Mackey was being taken to jail from the train he held his head low. He looked and spoke to no one. When he was put in cell No. 3, Doctor Beane was summoned, and when he saw the prisoner he identified the clothing worn by the prisoner as those stolen from him. He would not say anything of his actions.

Mackey was arrested Friday afternoon in company with a woman with whom he was quarreling. The police, when they were investigating the articles which they took from him, discovered a name on the back of an elk's head which was used as a watch charm. This led to further investigation which resulted in him being brought to this place.

Mackey is known to a portion of the police force in this city. He is a stranger, but is well known in Brilliant and Wheeling where he had been living before he came to this city. He will be given a hearing probably tomorrow and be bound over to court.

The articles which were taken by Mackey are expected to arrive in the city this evening and will be returned to their owner.

A VISIT TO THE PRIDE OF EAST LIVERPOOL

The Big House-Furnishing Store of The S. G. HARD CO.

A Modern Up-to-Date Establishment That Would Be Creditable to a City of 100,000 People--A Store Beside Which Most Stores are Pigmies.

The general public did not realize what the "Re-arranging of the Big Store" meant when the S. G. Hard Co. announced in November last "that they were going to make some changes;" but the scribe who was detailed to write up "The Big Store" realizes that East Liverpool has in her midst a great, modern department store, worthy of a city ten times her size.

The S. G. Hard Co. certainly deserves credit for its efforts and success.

As the Carpenters, Painters, Plasterers, Electric and Gas Fitters have completed their labors and gone, and The Big Store is again in "Ship Shape," the writer was invited to tell the people about the Re-arranged Big Store, so we began in the big, roomy, airy and light basement, where is done the Co.'s immense

Matting, Oil Cloth and Linoleum Business.

Here are carried the stocks required for its large retail and jobbing trade.

Here is where the Cutting, Fitting and Packing is done.

Here retail customers seldom are taken, except for remnants, as the selling is done in the Carpet Department.

which is found on the First Floor.

This floor is more than twice as wide as most stores and twice as long

The Carpet Department, which had been divided, is now altogether and of such a magnitude that more than a hundred customers can be waited upon at one time, and each have plenty of room.

Here in this immense, elegantly lighted room, is shown the largest stock of Brussels, Velvet and Ingrain Carpets this side of Pittsburg.

Here are more

Lace Curtains and Portiers

than any half-dozen stores show.

Here are Rugs, from the small ones for doors, to the immense ones, large enough for an entire floor, in such great quantities that you wonder what the Co. do with them.

"Our Retail trade demands many and we

explains the manager.

Wholesale and Retail also explains the need of the tremendous stock of Window Shades, Curtain Poles, etc., carried in stock.

So large is this Carpet floor that a Bicycle buyer, who was investing in one of the celebrated Cleveland wheels, of which this firm has the exclusive sale, was invited to "jump on and take a ride in the Carpet room," an invitation he speedily accepted, but by so doing in no ways disturbed the numerous customers looking at Carpets and Curtains.

The General Offices

of the Co are located on this floor, easy of access to customers, salesmen and others, for

On this floor are also shown Bicycles and Heavy Furniture, such as Side Boards, Folding Beds, Heavy Extension Tables.

By a Broad, Easy Stairway

we are led to the spacious Galleries, now used entirely for showing Rockers and Chairs.

As these Galleries were used formerly for both these goods and the Brussels Carpet, Rug and Curtain Departments, their size, as may be imagined, is not insignificant.

In fact, size is one of the features of

The BIG STORE.

From here we are ushered into an immense Hall on the 2d floor, which presented the most magnificent sights we have ever witnessed. A Hall without a post or pillar, lit entirely by huge sky lights in the center—the walls entirely covered with majestic Book-cases, Hall-trees and the like, and the center resplendent with beautiful upholstery on Parlor Suits, Couches and Baby Cabs, made up a picture of beauty not soon forgotten.

Here you certainly know how to arrange goods to get a great effect, we remarked to our guide.

We help our customers also, that's why they like to deal at "Hard's," was his reply.

On this floor also are the Art and Picture framing rooms and a number of rooms containing very choice Parlor Suits, Tables, Odd Pieces and the like.

The 3d floor is not needed as display room, but is an exposition of Chairs, Tables, etc.

The ANNEX,

a 2 story Brick building, as wide but not so deep as the main store, is immediately in its rear, connected by a broad hall. Here are displayed the entire line of Chamber Suits, Iron and Brass Beds, Bedding, Pillows, etc., for which the Co. are justly famous.

Among these magnificent collections many hours can be spent pleasantly and profitably, for on their over one half acre of floor there is no waste space, and The S. G. Hard Co. certainly have a wonderful display of Household necessities and luxuries, which they invite you to see whether you want to buy or not.

Their force of nearly a dozen salesmen are just as pleased to show as to sell goods, for they know a pleased visitor will be a willing buyer if ever in need, and a good advertisement any way.

We have not mentioned their immense warerooms, nor stables, and fine teams for delivering, because this article is already too long, but nowhere could we abridge it and do justice to this Great Store which has done so much to glorify East Liverpool and help her people with its Cash or Easy Payment Terms.

CAR LEFT THE TRACK

It Failed to Take the Second Street Curve.

ONE MAN WAS SLIGHTLY HURT

Because He Did Not Stay on His Seat When He Found the Motorman No Longer in Control—The Car Escaped Without Injury.

The first street car accident in many months happened Saturday night.

The last car for the East End, in charge of Motorman Dotts, was going down Washington street about 12:30 o'clock when it got beyond the control of the motorman and started for the bottom of the hill at a high rate of speed. When it reached the turn at the corner of Second street it jumped the track and continued down Washington street for a short distance before it could be stopped. The car was not damaged in the slightest, and was sent out of the barn yesterday morning without any repairs. The paint was not even scratched.

The passengers in the car were very much frightened, but the only one to be injured was Ingram Sebring. When he saw the car was beyond the control of the motorman he attempted to get off and succeeded beyond his expectations, alighting on all fours and sliding along the ground for some distance, bruising himself considerably, and also badly scratching his face. He was taken to the home of Dal Anderson in the East End and today is better.

THE PLAY TONIGHT.

The Sunshine of Paradise Alley Will Be Presented.

That remarkably effective and faithful series of pictures representing New York slum life, entitled "The Sunshine of Paradise Alley," which is now in the third season of its success, will have its first presentation here at the Grand this evening.

It is by the same authors, Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer, who gave us that dramatic idyl of New England life, "The Old Homestead." The piece is divided into four acts or pictures and represents an East River dock scene, the apartments of Widow McNally, Paradise Alley itself, and a beautiful autumnal scene in Bronx park. It is a series of vivid and natural scenes among the poorer classes of the East Side of the great metropolis.

TUESDAY MORNING

Will the Funeral Services of W. Everson Macrum Be Held.

The funeral services of Mr. W. Everson Macrum will be held at the residence of his parents, 277 West Second street, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, Dr. John Lloyd Lee officiating. Interment will be private at a later hour. The remains will be laid to rest in River-view cemetery.

TORE HER DRESS.

A Torpedo Placed on the Street Car Track Caused Damage.

Saturday afternoon some person placed a small torpedo on the street car track in Sixth street. A lady was standing near the track waiting to get on the car when the explosion took place, and two large holes were cut in her dress by pieces of the flying missile.

Largely Attended Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Mass, who died Saturday at her home on the Virginia side, took place yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The services were largely attended, and were conducted by the pastor of the Free Methodist church. Interment was made in Riverview cemetery.

In the New Room.

The Citizens' National bank this morning began doing business in their handsome new block in Washington street. Cashier Blythe spent a part of the morning receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Returned to Sistersville.

J. R. Martin, of Sistersville, who has been in the city attending the funeral of his son, who died last Sunday, returned to his home this morning.

Moved to Akron.

The household effects of Frank Hugo were this morning forwarded to Akron. The family, composed of 10 persons, left on the 8:17 train for that place.

Salineville Telephones.

Lineman Kelley, of the telephone office, was in Salineville today placing several new telephones.

TWO I'S IN ONE BODY.

Psychologists Discuss a Sort of Jekyll and Hyde Phenomenon.

Twenty-three women and 15 men attended the meeting of the psychological section of the Medico-Legal society at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York the other night and discussed the mysteries of "shifting egos."

A paper on "Double Personality" written by Dr. William Lee Howard of Baltimore was read by Dr. George W. Grover. It was in part as follows: "This paper refers to a condition in which there is a displacement of the ego by which the I which perceives the abnormal is not the I which went to perceive the normal. This state must not be confused with a condition of disordered consciousness found after traumatism to the head and certain amnesic states following fevers."

"One point in which the state of second personality differs from the insane state is to be found in the fact that in the former a large part of the memory is blotted out and the mind is unable to compare present facts with the experience of the past, while in the insane the memory of remote events is often unimpaired. In speaking of double personality I refer to a psychic condition which dissociates the elements of the mind and then combines them into a distinct, separate and strange personality. During this state the individual has no recognition of his normal state. He bears a different name, has another occupation, perhaps resides in a town distant from his own, acts rationally and is fairly successful in his new vocation. He suddenly returns to his primary self and goes back to home and business. During the period of time he is another individual, a period which may last weeks or years, he has no consciousness of the existence of his normal body or no lucid consciousness belonging to that body. Under such conditions an individual has a perfect dual existence."

In illustration several cases were cited in which apparently normal persons had forgotten everything about themselves and assumed new names, taken up new work and gone to strange places. It was suggested by Dr. Howard that disease, drugs, alcohol or hypnotic suggestions might be contributing causes of the submerging of the real self by the second self.—New York Sun.

A KIND WORD FOR HOBSON.

An Explanation of His Conduct on His Recent Continental Trip.

A correspondent of the New York Times, writing under the signature of "Fair Play" about Hobson's trip across the continent, says:

There seems to be an unconscious unfairness and cruelty in a good deal of the comment on certain unfortunate incidents of Hobson's trip across the continent. I am not defending his way of meeting an unexpected situation, but I can well understand how a chivalrous, but, in a worldly sense, inexperienced young southerner could make the mistake he made—a mistake corrected before he left the country, and, as I believe, never to be repeated. How many fine young southerners have, along with a peculiar sense of gallantry, a seriousness of character which implies a lack of humor!

Those who know Hobson know him to be a remarkably able, courteous and high minded young man. He was placed in circumstances in which his peculiar sense of gallantry impelled him to conduct which, though a mistake, is no crime and should not be punished as criminal. If he had persisted in this course, or if he should persist in it, his bad taste would deserve to be punished almost as seriously as a crime. But there is no question of persistence, and he remains a deeply patriotic, magnificently brave and noble hearted youth, who still deserves, and who, I believe, will continue to deserve, the good opinion of his fellow countrymen.

Queer Result of Grip.

Thirty-nine months ago Mrs. Robert Davis of Martinsville, Ind., suddenly lost her voice completely from paralysis of the vocal organs. She could only converse in a low whisper. The other evening she was taken sick with the grip and suffered intensely. She recently began to improve, and during her convalescence she discovered that her voice had returned and was good as ever. Physicians say her voice has probably returned permanently.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Three Trees in One.

At Red Bluff Primitive Baptist church, near Waycross, Ga., in Ware county, a great natural curiosity has been discovered in the shape of three different trees in one. The original tree is a mammoth mulberry, the heart of which is rotted away. Out of the heart, five feet from the ground, grow a cherry tree and a peach tree, both eight inches in diameter. All three of the trees bear fruit every year.—Atlanta Constitution.

Sanitation Before All Else.

We shall not leave Cuba in any case until the yellow fever is stamped out. The sanitary opportunity is too important not to be improved to the utmost.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

"And you say you ate horse steak in Paris? How was it served?"
"A la cart, of course."

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY

Views of the Ex-Senator on the Roberts Case.

HOW CONGRESS CAN SETTLE IT.

If the House of Representatives Thinks Its Dignity Is Menaced by Roberts Taking His Seat, by a Two-thirds Vote It May Lawfully Expel Him—Condition of Utah's Statehood, Roberts' Plural Marriages.

At the request of The Christian Herald ex-Senator George F. Edmunds, father of the antipolygamy act, has prepared an opinion on the case of Roberts, the polygamous congressman elect from Utah, which will be read with widespread interest. Senator Edmunds' conclusions will probably influence congress in determining the course to be pursued in this remarkable case. His letter is as follows:

It is now just 50 years since the Mormon political hierarchy was established in Utah. It became an organized territory of the United States in 1850, and seven years thereafter a large military force was required to induce the Mormon territorial government and officers to obey the laws of the United States. From that time onward until the passage of the act of congress of March 22, 1882, the political hierarchy under the form of territorial self government grew stronger and stronger, and polygamy had become an established and strong and growing institution in spite of the fact that ever since 1862 there had been in force an act of congress making bigamy in that territory, as well as others, a crime, and providing for its punishment. But, so far as I am informed, the act has remained almost a dead letter, and naturally so, because substantially all the machinery of administering justice was under the control, either affirmatively or negatively, of the hierarchy. The act of 1882 undertook to reform the methods of administering justice and to provide means for bringing to punishment persons guilty of polygamous practices under whatever name they might exist. The act also provided for excluding from suffrage and from official employment that class of criminals. At the time it was under discussion it was stated by those having the bill in charge that further measures would be brought to the attention of congress as might appear expedient, and accordingly congress passed a supplemental act on the 3d of March, 1887, in which it provided among other things for annulling the territorial law of Utah, under which illegitimate children inherited the same as legitimate ones.

In consequence of these laws the institution of polygamy greatly declined, and there appeared reason for believing that in a few years this blot upon our civilization would entirely disappear. The hierarchy, however, still continued to control the majority of the voters in the territory, and it was thought unsafe to admit Utah as a state until there should be a decided gentile majority of voters there. But the determination of the hierarchy was continuous and its efforts for admission persistent, until finally congress was persuaded to pass the act of July 16, 1894, authorizing the people of Utah to form a state constitution and to be admitted. It is generally known that this was accomplished by inducing congress to believe that the claim of the hierarchy that polygamy was a divine institution and a part of the Mormon religion had been abandoned and that its practice had substantially ceased and therefore that Utah ought to be admitted as a state. The only condition in the enabling act was that the Utah constitutional convention should provide by an ordinance irrevocable, without the consent of the United States and the people of Utah, that while religious liberty should be sacred, "polygamous or plural marriages are forever prohibited." The constitutional convention held pursuant to this act adopted an ordinance in the very words of the requirement I have quoted, and the convention made all the territorial laws of Utah then in force a part of the state law. But in respect of the territorial act of the 4th of February, 1892, defining and punishing polygamy, etc., the convention adopted that act only so far as it applied to polygamous marriages, the effect of which was, following the very words of the act of congress, to punish only the crime of contracting a polygamous or plural marriage, the proof of which, owing to the peculiar methods of the hierarchy, it had been found almost impossible to make in prosecutions under the acts of congress. This difficulty had led congress in the acts I have referred to to reach the evil by providing for the punishment of unlawful cohabitation.

Since the admission of the state, which was completed by the president's proclamation of the 4th of January, 1896, I have never heard of any state prosecution in respect of any of the acts related to the subject, and it is well understood that the Mormon hierarchy is in just as complete possession of the state in all respects as it was before the acts of congress passed in 1882 and 1887. This domination is not con-

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others? The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making purchases.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE
COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER.
Good only when printed in lower left corner and properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the quarter.

UNION MADE BOOTS AND SHOES.

The Boot and Shoe Workers' union is the national head of the trade, and is a new combination of all the branches of boot and shoe workers. The above trade-mark when found on the sole or lining of a boot or shoe, is a guarantee that the same is made by union labor. Look for the above design stamped on the sole of every pair of boots or shoes you buy.

The Journeymen Tailors' Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

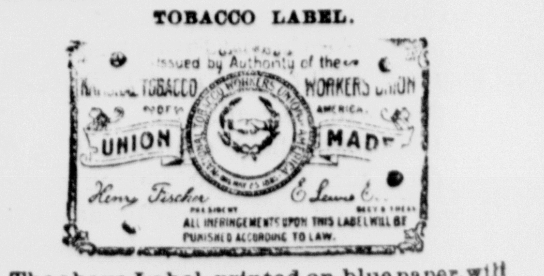

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

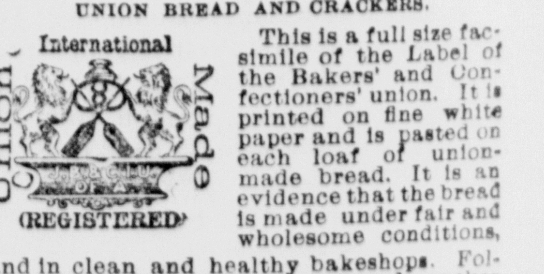

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

Union-made Cigars.
This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the clear-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

J. D. WEST MENTIONED

As Candidate For Council In the First Ward.

COMES FROM SECOND PRECINCT

It Has Not Had a Representative In Five Years, Its Last Being William Swindells—Politics Commencing to Brighten In All Parts of Town.

Politics is brightening in all parts of the city, and while some attention is being paid to the county primaries it cannot be denied that city business is attracting more than the usual attention for an off year.

The Republican nominations for council seem to have the lead, but few names have been mentioned beyond those members who have announced their intention of seeking re-election.

The First ward is already discussing the matter, particularly in the second precinct where the name of J. D. West has been suggested. The precinct has had no representation in five years, the last one being William Swindells. It will also be remembered that his term was during the days when there were but two precincts in the ward. The present incumbent is James Challis, of the third precinct, who has filled the position for two terms. In the second they think he has had enough and now want a resident of that part of the ward chosen. It is conceded that East End, the first precinct, should have a representative always, being cut off as it is from the city proper, and the remainder of the ward should divide the honors belonging to it. That is why the second now thinks it is entitled to a councilman. Doctor Marshall, president of council, is from the first precinct and has another year to serve.

Mr. West, whose name has so often been heard in connection with the place during the past few days, is one of the city's most successful business men. He is regarded as a conscientious gentleman, and would fill the place with honor to himself and satisfaction for his constituents.

DAILY PAPERS

Were Carried Off by a Small Dog.

The residents of Seventh street are looking for a small dog with vengeance in their eye, and if the animal is captured it will probably meet with a speedy death. For several days residents of the street have been missing their daily papers, and a careful watch was kept and finally the dog appeared and gathering up the papers departed. The animal would go from house to house and carry the papers to one place, and then enjoy itself tearing them up.

REVENUE STAMPS

Are Not Received at the Local Post-office.

Saturday evening one of the clerks at the postoffice saw two letters stamped with revenue stamps instead of the regular stamps. They were thrown aside immediately and will be forwarded to the dead letter office unless they are claimed during the week.

The letters were mailed about 7 o'clock and one was addressed to an Allegheny firm.

A FEW DRUNKS

Were Seen In the Lower Part of Town Yesterday.

A number of drunks were seen in the lower part of the city yesterday morning. As late as noon they were seen in Union street near the railroad crossing, and a number were also seen staggering along Pink alley. They caused no trouble but were so drunk they could scarcely walk.

On the River.

Continued cold weather had a demoralizing effect on business along the river during yesterday. Rivermen are waiting for warmer weather, when a rise is expected and, from natural conditions, is bound to follow.

The Dick Polton went down during the day and brought back a tow of empties. The Ben Hur, Keystone State and Kanawha arrived with freight and passengers from lower ports. During the last 24 hours the river has fallen one foot as a result of cold weather. The stage of water is eight feet and falling. Much ice is going down the river, but is not heavy enough to cause the suspension of navigation.

An Old Car.

An oldtime, combination baggage and smoking car was attached to the Bellaire and Pittsburg accommodation train this morning. It was being taken to the Allegheny shops from Wellsville.

EDMUNDS ON POLYGAMY.

finer to matters of religious belief or worship, but extends to all the civil and political operations of the state—a concentration of power in a few hands which is perhaps without a parallel in any government having a written constitution and professing to be a government of the people.

It is now evident enough that congress was mistaken when it passed the enabling act in supposing that polygamous notions had disappeared, and that the state would go on in the same way as other states. Congress also must have overlooked the fact that any engagements on the part of the state of Utah as a condition of its admission to the Union relating to the administration of its internal affairs would not be binding in point of law and could only bind the faith of the state government, for a breach of which the only redress must be the forcible overturning of the state government, which would be simply war. The instant the state was admitted every act of congress relating to its internal policy ceased to have any force whatever. The consequence is that in point of law the state of Utah has the same sovereign rights that any other state has. She may punish polygamy or unlawful cohabitation or she may authorize it. She may declare, as congress had done, that illegitimate children shall not inherit, or she may declare, as she appears to have done since her admission, that illegitimate children shall inherit on an equal footing with legitimate children.

The constitution of Utah only prohibits the ceremony of making a polygamous or plural marriage. It does not prohibit the carrying on of polygamous relations. Nor do her laws go any further, so far as I can ascertain. In fact, she is, as I have said, absolutely independent of congress in respect of the subject, and she appears from all reports to be steadily taking advantage of her opportunities and has, if reports are true, deliberately elected to congress a person in the open and notorious practice of polygamy. I am not informed at what time these alleged polygamous marriages took place, nor is this material to the question. If they took place before the state was admitted, Mr. Roberts could have been punished by the authorities of the United States. But he cannot be now. The acts of congress, while they punish cohabitation with plural wives, did not punish and were not intended to punish those who had been in the practice of polygamy for supporting those who had been their unlawful wives, but they did provide for punishing a continuance of the polygamous relation. If Mr. Roberts' polygamous marriages took place after the state was admitted, he would be guilty of violating the state law in contracting such marriages, but he would not be guilty of violating any state law in living as a husband with all his plural wives, for so far as I am informed there is no such law of Utah. In any case, as is true everywhere, statutes restraining crime are of no value unless there be a state of government, executive and judicial, willing and desirous to execute the law and bring offenders to punishment. It would seem clear from what has transpired that the government of Utah has no disposition to proceed in that direction.

In this state of things you ask, What can the house of representatives do in the case of Mr. Roberts? The constitution of the United States provides that the house of representatives shall be the judge of the election and qualifications of its members. The power to judge of the election is merely the power to ascertain whether a majority of the legal voters have in the manner provided by law voted for the member, and that is all. The qualifications of the member are three. He must be 25 years of age; he must have been seven years a citizen of the United States; he must have been at the time of his election an inhabitant of the state. Of these three requisites the house is the judge. If he possesses these, the house has, in my opinion, no lawful power to apply any other or further test in respect of his being admitted to a seat. It would be extremely dangerous for a constitution to give a majority of a house the right to determine what particular sort of man the people of a state should have the right to elect to represent them further than our constitution has declared.

This is too obvious to require illustration, but when a man so elected and possessing the qualifications required by the constitution has once taken his seat the constitution brings into play another and entirely different provision, authorizing the house, with the concurrence of two-thirds, to expel a member. Upon the exercise of this right the constitution wisely imposed no limitation except that of requiring the concurrence of two-thirds to expel. If, therefore, the house of representatives shall find on due inquiry that Mr. Roberts is an open, practical and persistent polygamist, and the house thinks that in view of that fact and in connection with the circumstances under which Utah was admitted, or without reference to these circumstances, it will be a reproach to its dignity and good name to continue Mr. Roberts as a member, it may lawfully and rightfully expel him. If it does not act at all, supposing the facts to be as stated, it will have given its acquiescent approval of the conduct of Mr. Roberts and of the action of the people who elected him with full knowledge of the circumstances, and henceforth it will be justly considered that the house has no disposition to interfere with the practice of polygamy in Utah. If it does act and expel the member, it will have declared against the perpetuation of that system.

Utah being now a sovereign state, with all the power of any other state, neither house of congress nor the whole government of the United States can do anything further, except by the act of war to which I have already alluded.

"A SAD NIGHT."

How Carlyle and Leigh Hunt Differed Even About the Sky.

Leigh Hunt and Carlyle were once present at a small party of equally well known men. It happened that the conversation rested with these two, and the others sat, well pleased to listen. Leigh Hunt talked on in his bright and hopeful way, when Carlyle would drop some heavy tree trunk across his pleasant stream and bark it up with philosophical doubts and objections at every interval, but Hunt never ceased his joyous anticipations nor saturnine Carlyle his infinite demurs. The listeners laughed and applauded by turns, and now fairly pitted them against each other as the philosophers of hopefulness and unhopefulness. The contest continued with ready wit, philosophy, pleasantry and profundity and extensive knowledge of books and character.

The opponents were so well matched that it was quite clear that the contest would last indefinitely, but night was far advanced, and the party now broke up. They all sallied forth, and leaving the close room, the candles and the arguments behind them, found themselves under a most brilliant and starlight sky. They looked up. Carlyle can have no answer to this, thought Hunt, and shouted: "There! Look at that glorious harmony that sings with infinite voices an eternal song of hope in the soul of man!"

Carlyle looked up. They all remained silent to hear what he would say. They began to think he was silenced at last, but out of the silence came a few low toned words in a broad Scotch accent: "Eh, it's a sad night!"

They all laughed and then looked thoughtful. There might be some reason for sadness, too—that brilliant firmament perhaps contained infinite worlds, each full of struggling and suffering beings.

Unrecognized.

Perhaps when one makes that conversational blunder which is known as a "break" it is best to say nothing whatever about it. Extenuation only renders a bad matter worse.

Not long ago a lady was visiting the studio of a portrait painter and trying to make herself as agreeable as possible in return for a welcome and afternoon tea. She enjoyed the pictures, although in each case they seemed to her much idealized, and she went from one to another, civilly expressing her approbation.

"Ah," she said to her hostess, "you must tell me all about them! Who is this?"

"Mrs. Lorraine."

"I don't know her; charming, but of course I can't speak for the likeness."

"I try to be faithful," said the artist humbly.

"Oh, I know! I know! And who is the very pretty lady in brown?"

"That," said the other, with some frigidity, "is myself!"—Youth's Companion.

Below Decks During a Fight.

The position of the men below decks on a modern vessel of war, they being isolated by the watertight hatches and doors, has been frequently commented upon, but their position is not always so hard as has been supposed. On the Brooklyn, during the fight before Santiago, Admiral Schley sent orderlies among the men behind casemates and below decks telling them the effects of the shots and how the fight was going. When the chase of the Colon began, the orderlies went down to the stoke holes and engine room and told the men there that the race had begun and everything depended upon them. The wisdom of the action was partly shown in the outcome.—Argonaut.

People of Stone Age.

"The stone age" is not, properly speaking, an expression of time. It refers to a stage in civilization which passed long ago in Europe and Asia, but still lingers in some out of the way corners of the world. A report of La Plata museum in Paraguay describes the Quayoquis, a small tribe of 500 or 600 living near the headwaters of the Acaray river, as a true stone age people. They are timid, harmless folks, desperately afraid of the whites, and with reason, as they have been shamefully abused by them. They have no weapons for defense save bows, lances and stone tomahawks. They are undersized and round headed.

Unique Table Decorations.

The table decorations at the reception given in honor of the army recently by Secretary and Mrs. Alger are said to have been more notable for their uniqueness and appropriateness than any that have been seen in Washington for a long time. The table was arranged as

Help in trouble.

Nearly every woman can recall from her own experiences some emergency when a ready knowledge of the best thing to do, would have saved days or perhaps months of anxiety and suffering. No family ought to be without the constant safeguard and ever-present help of that wonderful free book the Common Sense Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells what to do in emergency or accident or sudden sickness. It contains over one thousand pages, profusely illustrated with engravings and colored plates. It gives receipts for several hundred simple, well-tried home remedies. It instructs the mother in the care of her ailing children or husband, and gives invaluable suggestions for the preservation of her own health and condition in all those critical and delicate periods to which women are subject. The author of this great work has had a wider practical experience in treating obstinate diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world-renowned for their marvelous efficacy.

Mrs. H. M. Hansrote, of Magnolia, Morgan Co., W. Va., in a letter to Dr. Pierce says: "My husband is a locomotive engineer. He came home about a year ago and just dropped in the doorway. He was burning up with fever and he commenced with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery according to directions and in two weeks he was able to go to work, without having a doctor. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription something over two years ago, and am glad to testify that it is a God-send to womankind. I have been out of health for years, and am now able to say your medicine has cured me entirely. The three children who were born before I commenced to take your medicine did not live long, they were very delicate, but those born since (three in all) are very hearty, and that convinces me that your medicine is just what it is said to be and a great deal more."

By simply enclosing 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y., a paper-bound volume of Dr. Pierce's great book will be sent absolutely free, or for ten stamps extra a heavier and handsomer cloth-bound copy will be sent. A whole medical library in one 1000-page volume.

A BOLD ASSERTION.

The Assertion Made In the Introduction to This East Liverpool Citizen's Statement Is Literally True.

There is only one proprietary article on the market which gives local evidence touching its merits; home proof to back up its claims; East Liverpool evidence for East Liverpool people. Statements from people we know in place of statements from strangers. That preparation is the one endorsed by Mrs. Mary Hewitt, of St. George street, who says: "I read in the Pittsburgh Press an account of some one who had been cured of kidney complaint in that city by using Doan's Kidney Pills. The fact of such an account being published of one living in almost the same place, had a tendency to convince me that there must be some truth in it, and I determined to try them myself. Some years before this I had a severe attack of rheumatism; for three months I lay helpless, and after that I had trouble with my kidneys. For a year I suffered severely. My back was so bad that it felt as if I had a boil where the kidneys are. I could not bend, lean back against a chair, or reach up. I could not lie on my back, and about every move I made caused pain. I had taken numerous remedies, but none brought the desired relief. Well, Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the W. & W. Pharmacy, did what no other remedy was able to do. I took them regularly for a short time, and found them to be all that the Pittsburgh paper stated them to be. I can heartily recommend them. After using them I was rid of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Missed the Combination.

He is one of those gushing old beans who think flattery the key to favor with the gentler sex. The other evening he was at a reception with his wife, and they met the handsome Miss Blank, at whom he fired a whole battery of compliments. Then turning to his wife he said, "It's a good thing I didn't meet her before I married you, my dear."

"Indeed it is," she smiled sweetly, "for her. I congratulate Miss Blank."

FRANCE ON THE VERGE.

Government Weakly Submitted to Anti-Dreyfus Agitation—The Imperialists Got More Bold.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The government's decision to submit to the chamber of deputies today a bill providing that cases on trial revision shall be brought before the united sections of the court of cassations has re-opened the flood-gates of the Dreyfus agitation. The situation appears more confusing and menacing than ever.

For days the anti-Dreyfusites have been clamoring to have this done considering it certain that among more than 30 judges they could rely upon an anti-Dreyfusite majority.

In the Echo De Paris, M. Quesnay de Beaurepaire, who, on Jan. 9 resigned the presidency of the civil section of the court of cassation as a protest against the way in which the criminal section, under the presidency of M. Loew, was conducting the Dreyfus proceedings, again justified his action in a screaming scold, and asserted that the ministers held decisive documents.

M. Loew, president of the criminal chamber, who was asked his opinion regarding the government's proposal said: "I am glad to be relieved of the responsibility, but the government's action is revolutionary."

It is thought in some quarters that the senate will refuse to accept the bill, thus producing a constitutional crisis.

The disturbance at the Nouveau theater last Friday evening, when at the conclusion of the performance of the play "The King of Rome," the Bonapartists in the house hoisted a tricolor flag, surmounted by an imperial eagle, and shouted "Vive L'Empereur," was very significant of the attitude the imperialists take in the circumstances.

SPOKE OF ALLIANCE.

Member of British Government Said He Believed America Would Aid England in a Crisis.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, president of the board of agriculture, addressing the Farmers' club at New Castle used the word "alliance" in referring to the future relations between Great Britain and the United States. The frank employment of this term by a member of the government is likely to evoke much discussion, not all of which will be of the friendliest character, inasmuch as seeking an alliance to fight England's battles is not regarded as the best policy to promote an Anglo-American entente.

At one point, he said in part: "I am glad of our improved relations with our American cousins, because I believe the true meaning of that increased friendliness is that the Americans have realized our blood relationship and have firmly resolved that if Great Britain is called upon to face difficulties she shall not face them alone, but in alliance with her wealthy and vastly populous sister country, the republic of the United States. I am confident, seeing that the two countries are pursuing the same policy and have the same ends in view, they must be friends, firm and true to one another."
